APPRAISAL FEES IN CITY ABOUT FOURTH OF RATE PAID IN COUNTY

Records Checked Back to 1950 — Highway Commission Complaining About Awards in County.

Appraisal fees awarded in the city since 1950 have been about one per cent of the total valuation of the property involved, compared with about 4 per cent in the county, a Post-Dispatch survey showed today.

Circuit court judges in the city have awarded fees totaling $78,525 in 32 condemnation cases filed since 1950. The appraisers fixed the valuation of all the property condemned at $7,823,695.

In three county cases in which the State Highway Commission contends the awards were excessive, the property valuations totaled $1,568,120 and the fees were $70,500.

Fees in land condemnation cases are divided by three court-appointed appraisers who fix the value of the land.

$34,500 Largest Fee.

The largest county fee—$34,500—was awarded by Circuit Judge Douglas L. C. Jones. It was split by Mayor Nathan Kaufman of University City, Phillip A. Braun and William R. Dorsey.

The Post-Dispatch disclosed yesterday that the three appraisers were among Judge Jones's principal political backers. They made financial contributions to his campaigns and also helped in other ways.

The State Highway Commission took no action to appeal this award but it is appealing another fee awarded last month by Circuit Judge Virgil A. Poelker of St. Louis county.

This fee totaled $22,500 and was divided by William F. McNary, a brother of County Supervisor James H. J. McNary; Lee J. Havener and Edward Cronin.

The city fees ranged from $825, awarded by Circuit Judge James E. McLaughlin for appraisal of Wabash Railroad property condemned for the Market street cut-off, to $5250 awarded by Circuit Judge William K. Koerner for appraisal of 38 parcels of property for the Mark Twain Expressway.

A valuation of $35,547 was placed on the railroad property. The property taken for the Mark Twain Expressway was valued at $880,465.

Other Fees in City.

Other fees awarded in the city were as follows:

Interregional Third Street Highway—$1500 for 21 parcels of property valued at $176,020; $1500 for 20 parcels valued at $138,861; $1500 for 18 parcels valued at $143,200; $1500 for 16 parcels valued at $111,622.

Market street cut-off — $2400 for 14 parcels valued at $385,602; $825 for one parcel valued at $35,547.

ANNE MARIE RASMUSSEN

ROCKEFELLER'S SON TO MARRY EX-MAID

Governor, Wife Reported Delighted—Aug. 22 May Be Wedding Date.

KRISTIANSAND, Norway, Aug. 3 (AP)—Steven Rockefeller and a former maid in his wealthy family's home plan a late-summer wedding in a small Lutheran church in Norway.

Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said they were delighted at their son's engagement to 21-year-old Anne Marie Rasmussen, pretty blond daughter of a prosperous Kristiansand grocer.

"She is a wonderful girl," the governor said.

Announcing their engagement yesterday, the young couple did not set a wedding date. A friend of the Rasmussen family said it would probably be Aug. 22.

It will be performed by the Rev. Olav Gautestad in the Lutheran church at nearby Soegne. The pastor is an old friend of the Rasmussens. The Rockefellers are Baptists.

The governor has indicated he and his wife will come to Scandinavia for the wedding.

Steven, 23, and the third of his parents' five children, first met Anne Marie when she went to the United States in 1956 to learn English and worked for a time as a maid in his home. She left the Rockefeller employ in 1957 to work in a New York department store and then for an insurance firm in New York.

After serving an Army hitch, young Rockefeller flew to Oslo July 10 and met Anne Marie. They came on to her home by motorcycle, and the romance rumors have been booming ever since.

The girl's father, Kristian Rasmussen, appeared with the couple at a news conference yesterday and said: "If our daughter will be happy this way, we will not stop her."

Radiant Anne Marie, wearing a charcoal-gray frock with rose polka dots, showed reporters her modest-sized engagement ring—a diamond surrounded by smaller diamonds and set in platinum.

Young Rockefeller, a graduate of Princeton University, said he would return to New York in September and enter one of his family's businesses.

"This will change my life completely," Anne Marie said. "Everything will become different for me, but what I have brought with me from the home of my childhood will always remain with me. I will remain the one I am."

AMNESIA VICTIM TALKS IN SLEEP, GIVES HIS NUMBER

HAZELTON, Pa., Aug 3 (AP)—Nurse Nancy Hughes heard the unidentified amnesia patient in Hazelton State Hospital numbling in his sleep Saturday night.

She could understand little of what he said but a telephone number was clear and she jotted it down. This was the first clue to the identity of the young man who was found July 25 sitting on the steps of a Hazelton church. He did not know who he was and complained of severe headaches.

The telephone number was one in Philadelphia, 90 miles away. Police there asked doctors at the hospital to ask the patient if his name was Joseph Kallinger.

STRIKE TIES UP CONSTRUCTION IN E. ST. LOUIS AND S. ILLINOIS

Millions of Dollars in Building and Highway Projects Are Halted by Walkout of Laborers.

Construction laborers began a strike today in East St. Louis and southern Illinois, tying up building and highway projects totaling millions of dollars.

Unions on strike are Laborers Local 100, East St. Louis; International Hod Carriers and Building Laborers Local 397, Granite City, and the Southwestern Illinois Laborers Council.

The Southern Illinois Builders Association's contract with Locals 100 and 397 expired last Friday. An agreement between the laborers council and the Southern Illinois Contractors Association also ended Friday.

Sole cause of the disputes is the contractors' efforts to eliminate a "hiring hall" clause from any new agreements, union spokesmen said.

Others Made Idle.

Members of other craft unions did not cross the laborers picket lines. Union officials were attempting to determine how many workers were made idle.

During an eight-week construction strike in 1957, it was estimated that 56,000 members of various crafts were affected by the walkout.

The laborers are paid $3.15 an hour. Members of the two locals are not seeking a pay increase but want a new contract with the same provisions as in the one which expired.

The council, which provides laborers for highway construction in 12 Southern Illinois counties, also sought a wage increase. A council spokesman said tentative agreement had been reached on an increased pay rate, leaving unresolved only the "hiring hall" clause issue.

An hourly pay increase of 15 cents has been agreed upon in the event that a one-year contract is signed, he said. Another 15-cent boost would be granted in the second year if a two-year contract is signed, the union spokesman added.

The 12 counties comprising the Illinois State Highway Departments's District 8 are those in which the Laborers Council provides workers.

$25,000,000 in Road Work.

Edward Riefler, state Highway Engineer in District 8, estimated that the strike has halted $25,000,000 in road construction in the district.

A spokesman for SIBA said an estimated $12,000,000 in building projects had been stopped in the Granite City area.

Jobs halted by the walkout include construction of five school buildings at a total cost of about $2,000,000, an $800,000 wing at St. Elizabeth Hospital and a $350,000 air-conditioned fire station.

In addition, Granite City Steel Co. has under way two construction projects whose exact costs have never been announced by the company. They are a multi-million-dollar office building in downtown Granite City and an electrolytic tin line installation at the plant.

Construction halted in East St. Louis includes a $200,000 office building at Ninth street and Illinois avenue and a $150,000 office structure at Forty-sixth and State streets.

A $13,250,000 freeway is planned for East St. Louis, but SIBA officials were unable to estimate how much of the project has been put under contract.

No negotiations were scheduled between the employer groups and the unions.

Harold Gruenberg, St. Louis attorney representing the two locals, said he planned to confer with East St. Louis and Granite City public officials and some business leaders, "in the hopes they can talk sense to the Southern Illinois Builders Association."

Gruenberg said a few contrac-

PREMIER IS DUE IN SEPTEMBER, PRESIDENT GOING TO RUSSIA LATER

Russian to Spend Two or Three Days in Washington and Make 10-Day Tour of Other Parts of U.S.

MOSCOW, Aug. 3 (UPI)—President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev will exchange visits to the Soviet Union and the United States, it was announced today.

Khrushchev will visit the United States in September. The President will come to Moscow later in the autumn, probably in October.

Khrushchev's visit to Washington will last two or three days and he will make a 10-day tour of other parts of the United States.

Khrushchev will have "unofficial conversations" with President Eisenhower that are expected to provide the opportunity for an "exchange of opinion on problems of mutual interest," the announcement said.

A Foreign Ministry press spokesman said Khrushchev had accepted Mr. Eisenhower's invitation to visit the United States "with pleasure."

Official Visit.

The press department said at a specially-called news conference that the Khrushchev visit to the United States would be an official one, but that the talks with Mr. Eisenhower would be "non-official."

The announcement said President Eisenhower will visit Moscow and also spend several days on a tour ot the Soviet Union.

The Moscow radio told Russian listeners in an unscheduled news bulletin of the forthcoming exchange of visits.

The official announcement was identical with that made in Washington.

Such an announcement had been expected for several days, ever since Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who left here for Poland over the weekend, began dropping hints that Khrushchev should be invited.

The statement did not state exactly how long President Eisenhower would stay in Moscow or elsewhere. It concluded:

"Both governments hope that the forthcoming visit will help promote better understanding between the two countries."

Designed to Ease Fears.

The assertion that the two leaders would hold "unofficial talks" appeared to be designed to ease the fears of America's Western Allies that the two biggest powers in the world were "going it alone" in cold war negotiations.

The statement was read to correspondents by N. Popov, acting chief of the press department of the Foreign Ministry.

Khrushchev was not present.

ONLY 139 AT EISENHOWER'S HURRIED PRESS CONFERENCE

Fewer Than Half Usual Number Able to Make It—First News From Moscow.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower's special news conference today was attended by 139 newsmen—fewer than half the number which has shown on past occasions of momentous announcements.

At times, Mr. Eisenhower's news conferences have drawn more than 300 newsmen. Today's was hurriedly called, which doubtless accounted for the relatively sparse attendance.

While the announcement was to have been simultaneously in Moscow and Washington, a news conference at the Soviet Foreign Ministry broke up as the President was still talking to newsmen here and the first official announcement came from Moscow.

CAPEHART ANGRY OVER INVITATION TO KHRUSHCHEV

Sparkman, However, Calls Exchange Idea 'A Fine Thing'—Others Comment.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower's decision to exchange visits with Soviet Premier Khrushchev brought an angry protest today from Senator Homer E. Capehart (Rep.), Indiana.

But Senator John Sparkman (Dem.), Alabama, called it a "fine thing" and said he is "particularly pleased that the President is going to Russia."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, however, applauded the President's decision. He told the Senate:

"I believe that this is a type of exchange which would do much for the whole world.

"I have always believed in the open curtain through which people can pass freely and exchange ideas," Johnson said. "I believe it should be encouraged at every level so that we can know the truth about each other."

Johnson said he had been briefed by a White House aid before Mr. Eisenhower's announcement and he relayed his own views to the President at that time.

Representative Michael J. Kirwan (Dem.), Ohio, said the exchange of visits seemed to be "a good idea—it can't do much harm."

"They have been hurling insults at each other across the ocean without getting anywhere," Kirwan said. "Maybe they can get results if they sit down with each other across the table."

In making his protest, Capehart told reporters:

"It looks like we're again being taken in by the Russians. This time it's a Republican Administration. Before, it was the Democrats. I see nothing the Russians have done to warrant this all-out friendliness.

"In the past we've refused to invite dictators who were friendly to us—Peron, Tito and Franco. Now we've invited the biggest dictator of all here."

Sparkman told newsmen:

"I think it is a fine thing. I'm glad to see it. I've always advocated exchange of persons, ideas and information. I'm particularly pleased that President Eisenhower is going to Russia."

Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper (Rep.), Iowa, another member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he felt "it would be well for Khrushchev to come here and see what we have in the United States—I don't think it will do any harm."

"I don't know that it will change his attitude, but it will give him insight into our peaceful intentions," Hickenlooper said.

He added that he had not thought of Mr. Eisenhower's

Poles Continue Nixon Ovations; He and Gomulka Talk 3 Hours

Vice President Places Flowers on Soldier's Tomb—Man Dodges Police, Hugs Him.

WARSAW, Aug. 3 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon met for more than three hours today with Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka and Premier Josef Cyraniewicz. Crowds continued to cheer him at every turn.

About 5000 enthusiastic Poles gathered to watch Nixon place a red, white and blue-tinted rose wreath at the tomb of the unknown soldier in a ceremony honoring Poland's war dead. Many in the crowd cheered him with cries of "live 100 years," a traditional cheer in Poland.

An excited Polish worker, shouting "Vive America," bolted through police lines and grabbed Nixon in a fierce bear hug, almost knocking him down.

Polish security agents pried Nixon loose and pushed the man aside. Nixon was startled momentarily but quickly regained his composure. The Vice President's aids said the man meant no harm and that he wanted to hoist Nixon on the shoulders of the crowd.

Rapacki Attends Meeting.

Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki, author of a plan for a European atom-free zone which the United States has rejected, sat in on Nixon's meeting with top Polish leaders.

"Neexon," "Neexon," cried many spectators as the Vice President drove through the city in a black automobile flying the American flag and the red and white Polish banner.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press officer, reported that the calls on Poland's President Alexander Zawadski at Belvedere palace this morning and on Parliament Speaker Czeslaw Wycech were "very friendly in every respect."

He declined to disclose what subjects were discussed. Nixon's call on Gomulka stretched out through lunch time. The two men discussed international problems so intently they decided they might as well continue. Gomulka arranged to have

PLANE RUNS WILD WITH PILOT RIDING ON TAIL SECTION

MACON, Ga., Aug. 3 (AP)—Harold Thurston cranked the propeller to start his private plane with the throttle open too much yesterday. The plane lurched forward, breaking a mooring line.

Thurston ducked away from the propeller and grabbed the tail section. He tried to crawl over the tail section to the cockpit but could not, and the plane was going too fast for him to drop off.

The plane rolled around the Herbert Smart Airport nearly an hour at about 35 miles an hour. The fire department was called and tried to slow the plane by training a firehose into the air scoop. That failed.

Then the plane's broken mooring line became tangled with the nozzle of the hose. The plane slowed down enough for Thurston to fall off the tail and the plane got two feet off the ground. The plane ran to the end of the hose, then spun around and crashed against the fire truck.

The damage: A broken propeller and Thurston's minor bruises.

Stiff Coldstream Guardsmen Loosen Up and Are Arrested

LONDON, Aug. 3 (UPI)—Two of England's ramrod-stiff guardsmen were under arrest today for acting somewhat less than ramrod-stiff.

The guards by age-old tradition are immovable on duty, immune to all distractions, committed to staring fixedly ahead or marching in toy-soldier precision with never a glance to left or right.

Last night a member of the crack Coldstream Guards was on his way to the Bank of England for night duty.

"As far as I can make out this guardsman is alleged to have committed some technical military irregularity," said battalion adjutant Capt. D. H. A. Lewey. "Rumor has it that he waved to the crowd."

The guardsman was ordered confined to barracks for eight days.

Another scarlet-coated, bearskin-capped Coldstream guardsman, stationed in front of Buckingham Palace, was placed under arrest in an incident involving an American woman.

"Apparently the sentry thought this woman was teasing the guard," another guardsman said. "The guardsman got a bit chocker (angry). As he marched off he accidentally bumped into the woman. She changed her tune then and got very annoyed."

The woman complained that the guardsman's foot had caught her leg.

An official barracks spokesman said regarding this incident that "a full investigation will take place today." The names of all persons involved were withheld.

BUT PRESIDENT WILL GO ABROAD BEFORE THEN TO TALK TO ALLIES

By MARQUIS W. CHILDS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—President Eisenhower announced today that Premier Khrushchev of the Soviet Union will visit the United States in early September and that the President will return the visit some time during the fall.

At a press conference called on short notice this morning, the President confirmed the reports coming from Geneva for some days that Khrushchev would be invited to visit this country. The surprise was that Mr. Eisenhower had at the same time agreed to visit the Soviet Union.

He told reporters that the Soviet Premier would have talks with him in Washington and then would tour the country for about 10 days "to see the country, its people and to acquaint himself with their life."

Nixon Knew About It.

The President said the exchange of visits was initiated in early July and Vice President Richard M. Nixon was informed of his correspondence with Khrushchev the day before he left on his mission to Moscow.

The President announced that on his trip to Moscow he will also spend some days traveling in the Soviet Union.

The President said he would go to Europe prior to the Khrushchev visit to meet with Western heads of government including Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany. In response to questions that briefly followed the formal announcement, he indicated also that he hoped something might break the deadlock of the Geneva foreign ministers' conference opening the way to a four-power summit conference that might come before Khrushchev's visit to America.

Text of Announcement.

"The President of the United States has invited Nikita S. Khrushchev, chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, to pay an official visit to the United States in September. Mr. Khrushchev has accepted with pleasure.

"The President has also accepted with pleasure Mr. Khrushchev's invitation to pay an official visit to the U.S.S.R. later this fall.

"Mr. Khrushchev will visit Washington for two or three days and will also spend 10 days or so traveling in the United States. He will have informal talks with the President, which will afford an opportunity for an exchange of views about problems of mutual interest.

"On his tour of the United States, Mr. Khrushchev will be able, at first hand, to see the country, its people, and to acquaint himself with their life.

Eisenhower's Plans.

"President Eisenhower will visit Moscow and will also spend some days traveling in the Soviet Union. This will provide further opportunity for informal talks and exchange of views about problems of mutual interest with the chairman of the Council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R.

"On his tour of the Soviet Union, President Eisenhower likewise will be able at first hand, to see the country, its people, and to acquaint himself with their life.

"Both governments expressed the hope that the forthcoming visits will help create better understanding between the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and will promote the cause of peace."

Allies Backing Project.

Heads of government in the West already informed of the impending visits have agreed that they will be on the plus rather than the negative side, Mr. Eisenhower told the press conference. He also said that

That explains why George P. Vierheller, director of the St. Louis Zoo for 40 years, spent his seventy-seventh birthday last week in New York on an animal-buying trip.

Vierheller said today he purchased about 20 small birds but added there was "nothing outstanding" about the specimens.

He also made arrangements with agents to scout the chimpanzee market to find a few chimps for next year's show. "They're scarce, you know," he said.

With Vierheller gone, his birthday last Thursday came and went without fanfare at the zoo.

SENATE GROUP VOTES 8 TO 5 TO CONSIDER BILL ON CIVIL RIGHTS

Southern Opposition Overridden—Portion of Subcommittee for Shelving of School Integration Bar.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—By an 8-to-5 vote, the Senate Judiciary Committee overrode southern opposition today and took a civil rights bill up for consideration.

Earlier a subcommittee of the judiciary group lined up to 2 to 1 in an incomplete vote, in favor of shelving a proposed constitutional amendment designed to annul the Supreme Court's desegregation decision.

The full committee overrode objections from Chairman James O. Eastland (Dem.), Mississippi, and other Southern opponents. They had blocked attempts at two previous meetings to get the legislation up for action.

The bill called up, previously approved by a 4-to-3 vote in subcommittee, is limited to extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission and to requiring the preservation of voting records for use in investigations by the Attorney General into alleged denial of voting rights.

Roughest Hurdle.

Senate Republican minority leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois told reporters after the meeting that he believes it now will be possible to get a civil rights bill out of the committee.

"This was the roughest hurdle to clear," he said.

The motion to take up the abbreviated bill approved by the subcommittee was offered by Thomas C. Hennings (Dem.), Missouri.

Once it was adopted, Senator John L. McClellan (Dem.), Arkansas, proposed an amendment to direct the civil rights commission to investigate alleged denial of civil rights as a result of strikes and labor disputes.

McClellan, chairman of the special Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, said he thinks that group turned up enough abuses to warrant giving the Civil Rights Commission this additional duty.

No action on the McClellan amendment was taken before the committee recessed.

Voting on Motion.

Voting for Hennings's motion to take up the civil rights bill, in addition to Hennings, were Senators Dirksen, John A. Carroll (Dem.), Colorado, Thomas J. Dodd (Dem.), Connecticut, Philip A. Hart (Dem.), Michigan; Alexander Wiley (Rep.), Wisconsin, Roman L. Hruska (Rep.), Nebraska and Kenneth B. Keating (Rep.), New York.

Later Senators William Langer (Rep.), North Dakota, and Joseph C. O'Mahoney (Dem.), Wyoming, who were absent from the meeting, sent in their votes in favor of the motion.

Voting against the motion were Eastland, McClellan and Senators Olin D. Johnston (Dem.), South Carolina, Estes Kefauver (Dem.), Tennessee, and Sam J. Ervin (Dem.), North Carolina.

The constitutional amendment apparently turned down by the subcommittee never had been rated as having much chance.

Since three members of the Judiciary subcommittee were absent, the final count on shelving the proposed constitutional amendment will not be known until after they are polled.

Moves for Referral.

Subcommittee chairman Estes Kefauver (Dem.), Tennessee, moved at the closed-door meeting to refer the proposed amendment to the full Judiciary committee for consideration.

Hennings countered by moving to table, and thus kill, both Kefauver's motion and the amendment itself.

Dirksen, the other subcommittee member present, voted for Hennings's motion, to make the count 2 to 1.

The absentees, who are to be polled within 24 hours, were Senators Eastland (Dem.), Mississippi, Dodd and Langer.

The proposed amendment, sponsored by Senator Herman Talmadge (Dem.), Georgia, would give the states exclusive control over their public schools.

The subcommittee's consideration of its preceded a meeting of the full judiciary committee. A third attempt is expected to be made there to bring a civil rights bill up for consideration.

In offering the amendment last January Talmadge cautioned against letting the nation be torn asunder and the public school system of the South destroyed by the conflict over the supreme court's 1954 integration ruling.

In the subcommittee's hearings on the proposed amendment, Attorney General William P. Rogers wrote Kefauver that its adoption would be a step backward.

"Not only would a state be free to enforce segregation in its public schools," Rogers wrote, "but it would be under no obligation to provide 'separate but equal' public schools for children of different races."

Telling of Plans for Exchange of Visits

Steel Industry, Union Holding Second Joint Session of Strike

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (UPI).—Representatives of the United Steelworkers and 12 steel companies met today in an effort to find a way to settle the national steel strike, now in its twenty-first day.

Chief Federal Mediator Joseph F. Finnegan would not commit himself on whether he would hold daily joint sessions as urged over the weekend by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

"I don't know," said Finnegan in response to the question. "We will finish this meeting and play it by ear the rest of the way."

Mitchell had criticized both union and management for holding only one face-to-face talk since the strike began July 15 and urged they meet every day until they reach a settlement.

The last joint session was held a week ago today and lasted only two hours. Finnegan then reported that neither side had changed its position "in any respect."

Union Comment on Letters.

USW President David J. McDonald commented briefly on the steel companies' tabulation of nearly 6000 letters its Coordinating Committee had received regarding the industry's anti-inflation position.

The committe had stated at a press luncheon today that of more than 5600 letters so far tabulated, the ratio was 20 to 1 in favor of the steel companies' position.

McDonald's comment on this was:

"No matter how high they stack their letters, they cannot hide their profits."

In Washington, Senator Stuart Symington (Dem.), Missouri, renewed his demand for President Eisenhower to call both sides in the steel dispute to the White House and urge them "to negotiate a settlement in the national interest."

Symington told the Senate that Mr. Eisenhower should follow up —if labor and masagement do not reach an agreement—by naming an impartial board, "headed by public figures," to make recommendations for a negotiated settlement.

Symington said "it should be clear now that the parties are at an impasse—and need assistance to settle this dispute."

Industry Analysis of Letters.

A spokesman for the steel companies said almost 6000 letters had been received since newspaper advertisements were published on July 20, five days after the strike began, explaining why the 12 companies opposed granting wage increases.

Of the 5600 letters tabulated by the committee, 4968 were favorable to the company's position while 243 opposed it. The ratio in favor was 20 to 1, a committee said.

"Some 400 of the letters," said a statement issued by the com- they wished and under whatever circumstances they proposed."

Union "Ready and Anxious."

A spokesman for McDonald said in Pittsburgh that the union was "ready and anxious to conclude a decent, fair and honorable agreement that will bring an end to this crisis."

mittee, "revealed worry over the strike but took no position on either side of the controversy. Most of the others showed no opinion classifiable one way or another."

By the Associated Press.

Today's joint negotiations were arranged last week by Finnegan, who has been meeting separately with both sides, before and since last Monday's joint talks.

Mitchell's criticism of the negotiators brought this comment from R. Conrad Cooper, top industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.:

"We (the industry) have been co-operating with the Federal Mediation Service as requested by President Eisenhower. We have met with them whenever Positive Action Urged.

By United Press International.

At San Juan, Puerto Rico, Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo proposed that the Governors' Conference take up the strike which he said calls for "positive action on the part of the Governors of the states, all of which are very much affected by this strike."

New Jersey's Gov. Robert B. Meyner called for the Eisenhower Administration to use more "influence," through Mitchell, to bring the industry and union together.

Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem.), Tennessee, said yesterday in Washington that he believes steel profits are high enough for the industry to both pay a small wage increase, preferably in pension contributions, and reduce its prices.

Copper Plant Grants Increase of 16 Cents an Hour.

READING, Pa., Aug. 3 (AP)—The 425 employes of the Beryllium Corp. copper manufacturing plant in nearby Laureldale will be picking up a fatter check next payday.

The employes, members of District 11 of the United Steelworkers, yesterday ratified a new three-year contract calling for an immediate wage increase of 16 cents an hour and improved insurance and sickness benefits.

The agreement also provides a 12-cent hike next year and 10 cents more in 1961.

NATO ALLIES DROP OCCUPYING STATUS IN WEST GERMANY

BONN, Aug. 3 (UPI)—West Germany's NATO allies formally abandoned their status as an army of occupation today.

Ambassadors of six Western nations signed agreements in Bonn formally regulating the status of their troops in Western Germany.

The agreements meant that the troops of the six nations—Britain, the United States, France, Canada, Belgium and the Netherlands — no longer have the status of occupiers of a conquered country.

Henceforth their standing will be the same as that of American forces in Britain, France and other NATO nations.

The new agreement means that West German courts now have the right to try Allied troops and dependents for non-military crimes committed off-base.

SENTENCED FOR EMBEZZLING FROM MASONIC FOUNDATION

MARION, Ind., Aug. 3 (AP)—Julian Lett, who admitted embezzling $357,000 from the Indiana Masonic Home Foundation in an unsuccessful attempt to save his appliance business, was sentenced today to nine years in the Indiana state prison.

The 63-year-old former Marion city attorney stood frozen as special Judge Oliver L. Wheatley announced the relatively light sentence. Lett could have been sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Judge Wheatley fined Lett $900 and disenfranchised him for 10 years.

Friends, business associates and former employes had pleaded for a light sentence after Lett abruptly changed his plea July 6 from not guilty to guilty. Lett had made restitution of $275,000 and said he would repay the remainder somehow. He had intercepted bequests to the foundation from the estates of Masons.

EMPTY SPACE CAPSULE TO GO UP NEXT MONTH

Modified Atlas Missile to Launch Man-Carrying Type From Florida.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—The first man-carrying type of space capsule is scheduled for launching — unoccupied — next month.

It will be sent up from Cape Canaveral, Fla., by a vehicle called Big Joe, essentially a modified Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

The conventional Atlas, 75 feet tall, climbs to altitudes of several hundred miles and delivers its warhead at speeds of more than 15,000 miles an hour over a range of up to 6300 miles.

Big Joe, by contrast, will rise vertically to about 120 miles, then tilt at right angles and slightly downward.

With its engine still putting out full power, it will thunder down a slanted course through the earth's thickening atmosphere.

The purpose: a "maximum test" of the ablation or heat erosion of the outer surface of the space capsule's nose.

Built in Cleveland.

The space capsule atop the Atlas in Big Joe has been built by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at its Lewis Laboratories, Cleveland, O.

It is a faithful copy of the 12 Mercury space capsules being produced for NASA by McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis.

It is the same weight—2100 to 2200 pounds—and will have the same instrumentation and pressurized compartment as the McDonnell capsule, but will not have the environmental equipment required to keep a man alive.

NASA had planned to fire Big Joe about Aug. 1, but failures in the Atlas testing program made it impossible to meet that date. The launching is now planned for mid-September.

It may be preceded by Little Joe rocket launchings from Wallops Island, Va., or from Cape Canaveral.

Cluster of Rockets.

Little Joe is composed of a cluster of four 30-foot-long Sergeant rockets, with smaller rockets attached to the sides to provide the exact initial acceleration required.

Little Joe will launch experimental capsules to measure acceleration and to test the problems associated with discharging the capsule from the nose cone and recovering it by parachute or other means.

Rhesus monkeys and a chimpanzee are to ride in some of these capsules to test the effects of acceleration, weightlessness and deceleration upon living bodies.

The Little Joe series will be followed next spring by the first rocket launchings of men into short flights in space capsules, in preparation for eventual orbital flight late in 1961 or in 1962.

West Acclaims Eisenhower Decision to Exchange Visits

Diplomats at Geneva Parley Believe Action Will Put Berlin Crisis on Ice.

GENEVA, Aug. 3 (AP)—The chief Western Allies today acclaimed President Eisenhower's decision to exchange visits with Soviet Premier Khrushchev as a step toward advancing East-West prospects of peace.

Diplomats said the most immediate result of the Big Two agreement for top-level talks would be to put the Berlin crisis on ice. They also foresaw the possibility that some new approach to a Big Four summit conference may be opened up.

They were particularly cheered by Mr. Eisenhower's determination to maintain a Western solid front on cold war issues by conferring with the government leaders of France, Britain and West Germany in advance of Khrushchev's visit to Washington.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter issued a statement saying:

"I welcome this move and hope it will be helpful in advancing better relations between our two countries."

Associates of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said he welcomed the President's agreement to meet Khrushchev. Diplomats said the British Government hopes the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks will open the way to a Big Four summit session.

French authorities were slower to react than the British. Officials in Paris said they thought the talks would be useful. They added that they saw no harm to the Western position in respect to Russia in view of the holding of preparatory Western talks.

The West German government "warmly welcomed" the meetings and believes the talks "will bring the necessary clarification as to whether the prerequisites for an East-West summit conference can be arranged," an official spokesman said in Bonn.

West German officials, like other Allied authorities here, believe that Khrushchev will suspend his threat to take action against West Berlin so long as major East-West discussions and negotiations continue.

In London, Prime Minister Macmillan said he was "delighted" by announcement of the exchange of visits.

"I have always believed that the tension of the world between East and West can largely be resolved by personal talks and discussions," Macmillan said.

He said he felt certain the visits, including his own to Moscow earlier this year, "will lead, when the summit comes, to a fruitful and constructive meeting of the heads of government."

The Washington-Moscow announcement came as the Big Four foreign ministers prepared to end their talks on the German crisis Wednesday and go home.

Negotiations here have come almost to a standstill. The only East-West talk scheduled today was a luncheon metting between Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko and Lloyd. Lloyd was to meet with Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville before and after seeing Gromyko.

The central issues that have developed here represent real conflicts of interest between the two great power blocs and not just debating points to be ironed out around the conference table.

Russia is insistent that by one means or another the Western powers must withdraw from West Berlin. They have proposed to guarantee it as a "free city"—that is, free of Communist East German control—and to delay for 18 months or more their threat to take action to force the Allies out if they do not go willingly.

The West maintains that the presence of the 11,000 United States, British and French troops in West Berlin is the only guarantee that the 2,250,000 West Berliners have against Communist absorption. While offering to reduce the force somewhat, they have repeatedly declared their determination not to withdraw.

Underlying the Soviet position is a clear determination to build up the East German Communist regime and increasingly win Western recognition for it. The Western powers accepted the East Germans along with a West German delegation as advisers in the present conference. The Allies insist they will never recognize a Soviet puppet regime in East Germany as a legitimate government and thereby jeopardize changes for some day merging the two parts of Germany into a united nation with strong ties to the West.

RUSSIA REFUSES TO INTERVENE IN LAOS REBELLION

Rejects British Plea at Geneva — Denies North Viet Nam Is Helping Rebels.

GENEVA, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Soviet Union has rejected a British plea to intervene in a new Communist rebellion in the Southeast Asia kingdom of Laos.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd discussed the new outbreak of violence in what was formerly French Indochina with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko yesterday.

Official sources said Lloyd told Gromyko that Britain is gravely concerned over the situation and that Communist North Viet Nam, Laos's northeastern neighbor, is aiding the rebels with men and arms. He said the Soviets should act to halt what could become a threat to the peace of the area.

In rejecting this, Gromyko claimed the Laotian government violated the 1954 Indochina armistice, under which Laos was to remain neutral and establish a national front government with Communist participation. Britain and Russia were co-chairmen of the armistice conference.

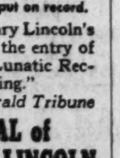

Gromyko recalled that the Soviet Union last month urged reestablishment of the Indian-Canadian-Polish armistice commission which was abolished five months ago. Britain turned down that proposal after the Laotian government refused to accept the commission again.

The Soviet Foreign Minister also denied that North Viet Nam was assisting the rebels, who a week ago began attacks on army posts in northern Laos, along the kingdom's border with North Viet Nam.

Both Moscow and Peiping struck back at United States State Department charges that the North Viet Namese Reds are aiding the rebel bands. Both Communist governments blamed the United States for the new outbreak.

The Moscow radio said the State Department charges were "no more than an attempt to shout 'stop thief,' because if there is any foreign interference at all in Laos it is by the United States."

CITY'S SYSTEM OF PROPERTY ASSESSMENT CALLED UNFAIR

Ex-Member of Equalization Board Says Realty Often Is Appraised at More Than It Will Bring.

The system now used for assessing property in St. Louis is unfair to property owners, Ernest M. Potts, a former member of the Board of Equalization, charged today.

"In many cases, the city is assessing property at more than it will bring on the market," he asserted.

City property is assessed on the basis of what is called the cost replacement system. It consists of a formula establishing the 1942 cost of replacing the property minus yearly depreciation since that time.

Board Charged Inequities.

A report by the 1957 Board of Equalization was critical of the system. The report said it had resulted in numerous inequities in assessments and had failed to treat all properties on a uniform basis.

The report warned that if a property owner challenged the system and won a favorable decision from the State Tax Commission, the city's entire tax structure would be jeopardized.

Potts told the Post-Dispatch that the cost replacement system is the "least reliable" of three approaches to property valuation. The other two approaches are determining the actual market value and determining the earning power of the property.

The 1957 report recommended that the assessor's office add those two approaches to its system.

It further recommended that the assessor consult with the St. Louis chapter of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers or consider hiring private appraisal firms on a fee basis.

'Taxpayer Can't Understand.'

"The taxpayer is up against a system he cannot understand," Potts said. "He is defeated before he even comes in to argue about his assessment because he and the assessor are talking about two different things.

"He thinks his property is being assessed on a percentage of its value. He is stunned when he is told the city uses a formula that does not take the value into account."

Assessor Harold Jaeger said none of the recommendations of the 1957 report were put into effect because they were not practical for his office.

"They don't have any merit," Jaeger said of the recommendations. "Under a mass appraisal system, these suggestions won't work. You have to take into consideration the quantity of appraisals that must be made, the time factor and the availabilty of information.

"If we spend two to three weeks to find out the price each parcel will bring and how much income it might bring in, how will we ever appraise the 200,000 to 250,000 parcels that we have to appraise?"

Calls Report Unusual.

Asked whether the 1957 report was unusual, Jaeger replied that it was. He said previous and subsequent boards never had made recommendations of that sort.

The assessor said most large cities he knows of use the replacement system, although some may base the cost on a year later than 1942.

"I don't give much credit to allegations about inequities under our system," Jaeger said. "As for the possibility of a legal upset of our system, any system is subject to that. I don't think our system will be upset, however."

Jaeger said some 330 property owners had complained about their assessments in the last year. He considers that a small percentage, he added.

Potts, who is a real estate appraiser, said he regards that number as excessive. "Any system which produces so many appeals needs correction," he declared.

Potts said that the boards of which he was a member were unable to hear all complaints during the 30-day period to which they were limited by statute. He said the board could handle eight to 10 complaints a day, if none was particularly complicated.

RECOUNT ORDERED ON SCHOOL VOTES

A recount of some ballots cast in the April 7 Board of Education election was ordered today by Circuit Judge O. P. Owen.

The recount was requested by Dr. Robert Rainey, who has filed suit contesting the election of Mrs. Louis W. Buckowitz. Mrs. Buckowitz defeated Dr. Rainey by 28 votes, according to the official count.

Judge Owen directed the Board of Election Commissioners to recount all of the absentee ballots case in 313 precincts in Wards 18 through 28.

In addition, Judge Owen ordered that all of the ballots cast in the ninth precinct of the Twenty-sixth Ward, both absentee and those cast at the polling place, be recounted.

With respect to the absentee ballots, the Election Board was instructed to examine not only the ballots themselves but the applications and the statutory affidavits accompanying them.

In his suit, Dr. Rainey contended that some of the affidavits accompanying the absentee ballots were invalid.

With respect to the ballots cast in the ninth precinct of the Twenty-sixth ward, Judge Owen ordered that the stickers be removed from them and the numbers on each ballot compared with the numbers opposite the names of voters in the ballot books.

He emphasized that the identity of the voters was not to be revealed.

Results of the recount are to be certified to Judge Owen. His order directing the recount did not specify when it should begin.

Mrs. Buckowitz had sought to prevent the recount by filing a petition for a writ of prohibition with the Missouri Supreme Court last month. The court issued a temporary order staying the recount while it considered her petition.

Last week the Supreme Court declined to issue the writ, clearing the way for Judge Owen to order the recount, as he had said he would.

TRAFFIC TO BE RESTRICTED FOR BRENTWOOD BLVD. JOB

Traffic on Brentwood boulevard opposite St. Louis County Hospital and the new Health Center will be restricted tomorrow for resurfacing of the street. Work will begin at 7:30 a.m.

The City of Clayton will put down asphaltic concrete on a strip 1500 feet long, north of Clayton road, where Brentwood has been widened from five lanes to six.

The street will be fully open at 6 p.m. tomorrow, but traffic will be restricted again Wednesday. Eugene J. Petersen Jr., Clayton director of public works, said the job would be finished Wednesday.

'Can't Fight City Hall,' People of Hooverville Ready to Pull Out

Residents of "Hooverville," a conglomeration of tumble-down shacks along the Mississippi riverfront, reluctantly began to realize today that you can't fight City Hall.

The city has agreed to pay $21,154 to the 43 families living in the settlement, in return for vacating the city-owned land by Sept. 12. The agreement apparently has ended a long fight to get the squatters off the property.

Without their shacks, many of which were put up during the darkest days of the depression, the squatters will have little more than memories of the "good old days in Hooverville."

"This is the only home I have ever owned," Mrs. Edwin Ellis said. "I've lived here for 21 years. I'm going to miss the flowers in my garden."

Fear of what living in the "city" will hold for him is the main concern of James O. Wisdom, who has lived for eight years in the settlement at the foot of Madison street.

"I don't want to be jammed up in one of those public housing projects," Wisdom said. "I wish I could buy a little house in the country."

"What am I going to do with my antiques?" Mrs. Frank Smith asked. "I'm 80 years old and I've lived here for 28 years. What am I going to do with my antiques?"

Mrs. Smith is to receive $200 for the "rights" to her home, but it will take all that to move her antiques, she explained. "I don't want to go to the poorhouse," she added.

Many of the residents were not very talkative when a Post-Dispatch reporter visited them.

They were sadly and silently contemplating their belongings, trying to decide what to take, what to leave behind, where to go. Some stared bitterly at the condemnation signs tacked on their homes by the city.

The riverfront area, about three blocks long, was condemned because it is needed for an addition to the municipal docks.

Although city officials are convinced that the squatters have no legal claim to the land, paying them was thought to be the fastest way to get the property vacated, City Counselor Thomas J. Neenan said. Otherwise, lengthy, expensive litigation would be necessary, he explained.

Charles H. Waggoner, unofficial mayor of "Hooverville," expressed the feelings of his "constituents."

"It's unfair to make us move," he said. "But you can't fight City Hall."

DRIVER FINED $192, JUDGE USES PROGRESSIVE PENALTY

Patrick Lee Rulo, 1228 Russell boulevard, was found guilty of nine traffic violations and fined a total of $192 today by Police Judge Rodney Weiss.

Police testified that Rulo was arrested June 21 near Ninth street and Shenandoah avenue, after a chase. He was charged with speeding 40 miles an hour, failing to observe seven stop signs and having no city automobile license. Rulo denied the charges.

Judge Weiss fined him $50 on the speeding charge, $5 for ignoring the first stop sign, then increased the fine $5 for each of the other stop sign violations. This made the second one $10 and the seventh one $35. A $2 fine was assessed for failure to have a city license.

FILLING STATION ATTENDANT HELD UP AND ROBBED OF $170

Herman Leonard, an attendant at a service station at 1711 South Kingshighway, was robbed of $170 last night by two men, one of whom displayed a revolver.

Leonard said the robbers forced him to hand over $15 from his wallet. They took the remainder of the money from a box in a tire room. They then ordered Leonard into the washroom and fled.

MRS. ROBERT SIEVING DIES OF AUTO CRASH INJURIES

Mrs. Robert W. Sieving, former St. Louisan, died yesterday at St. John's Hospital in Springfield, Mo., of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Saturday. Her husband died shortly after he was taken to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Sieving's 5-year-old son, suffered multiple fractures of both legs and three persons in another car were injured in the accident. The Sieving family was returning to Dallas, Tex., after visiting Sieving's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Sieving, 3091 Bellerive drive, Bel-Nor. His automobile collided head on with another car about three miles west of Republic, Mo.

Sieving, 30, was a salesman for Metal Goods Corp. and moved from St. Louis to Dallas about five years ago. His wife was 28.

RECORD IMPORTS IN JUNE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (UPI) —Imports of foreign goods in June rose to a one-month record high of $1,369,400,000, the Department of Commerce reported today. This was 8 per cent higher than in May and about 33 per cent above the June 1958 total.

The June figure exceeded the non-miltary exports total of $1,331,000,000.

RECORDER SAYS HE WON'T FIRE FORMER BOOKIE

'That Is Definite,' Denny Answers to Question About Joseph Buschman.

City Recorder of Deeds Anthony J. Denny said today he has no intention of firing Joseph Lorne Buschman from a job in his department.

Buschman, a Democratic city committeeman, has been fined for operating handbooks.

He has been on Denny's payroll since July 1.

Asked if Buschman was still working in the office, Denny said he was. Asked then if he would be dismissed, Denny replied, "Absolutely not. That is definite."

Until today, reporters had been unsuccessful in their efforts to ask Denny about the employment of Buschman.

The committeeman's appointment last April as a deputy clerk of the circuit court was withdrawn after the Post-Dispatch disclosed his police record.

Two years ago he was chosen for the job of clerk of the Board of Aldermen, but his name was withdrawn after the Post-Dispatch reported his handbook convictions.

Buschman's present job, in the chattel mortgage department of Denny's office, carries a salary of $330 a month.

The office of Recorder of Deeds is one of the so-called "county" offices in the municipal government and thus does not come under the city's merit system for hiring employes.

Police records show that on Nov. 30, 1953, Buschman was fined $150 on his plea of guilty to a charge of operating a handbook. He was fined $150 again on a similar charge on Dec. 22, 1955.

The charges resulted from raids on Buschman's two taverns. He said he was away both times but pleaded guilty to reduced charges "to get the cases out of the way."

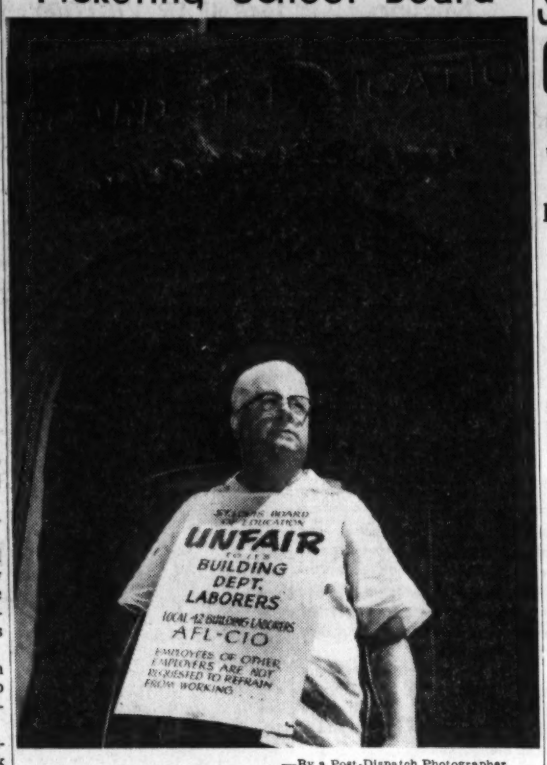

NEW AMBULANCE ENTRANCE FOR DEACONESS HOSPTAL

A $53,194 ambulance entrance modernization project will get under way this week at Deaconess hospital, 6150 Oakland avenue, it was announced today.

The Dickie Construction Co. has been awarded a general contract for the modernization of the Berthold avenue ambulance entrance and other improvements.

The construction is part of a long-range remodeling and expansion program begun four years ago with the building of the $3,000,000 Deaconess Memorial Addition.

SCHOOL BOARD'S OFFICE, GARAGE, SHOPS PICKETED

Laborers' Union Sets Up Lines in Wage Dispute — Other Workers Made Idle.

Picket lines were set up today at the Board of Education building, 911 Locust street, and the board's maintenance shops and garage at 3416-18 Thomas street.

The picketing was the result of a wage dispute with Local 42, Building Laborers' Union, AFL-CIO.

About 25 craftsmen, members of other unions employed at the maintenance shops and garage, refused to cross the picket line there, Harold E. Dessau, acting school building commissioner, reported.

Dessau said he knew of no one failing to report for work at the board's office because of the picket line there.

Tony Pelker, business representative for the Building Laborers' Union, told police the picketing was begun because the Board of Education is not paying members of the union prevailing wage scales.

Dessau said the union is seeking to have its members paid on an hourly basis at prevailing rates. At present, the 26 building laborers employed in the school system are paid monthly salaries.

Craftsmen such as carpenters, electricians, bricklayers and others hired by the board, are paid prevailing hourly wages, Dessau said.

If the demand of the union is granted, Dessau said, it would result in a payroll increase of about $57,000 a year.

A building laborer now is paid $3961 annually. Working an equal number of hours at prevailing hourly rates would net him $5819 a year, Dessau said.

The building commissioner said he had been informed that members of the other unions who are employed at public schools in the city would continue to work unless pickets were stationed at the individual schools.

Board Member Michael J. Hart, chairman of a three-member job specification and classification committee set up recently to study the building laborers' request, met with members of the committee and representatives of the union at 11 a.m. today in an effort to settle the dispute.

7 BOYS, LEADER 10, ADMIT DAMAGING 11 DAIRY TRUCKS

A group of seven boys, led by a 10-year-old, have admitted damaging 11 trucks on the Pevely Dairy Co. lot, police reported today.

The boys, ranging in age from 10 to 14, said they spent an hour driving the trucks around the lot Thursday night. They kept driving until each truck either stalled or hit something, police were told.

The youngest of the group told officers he knew how to start the trucks, and he suggested to his friends that they try driving them. He started each truck, then one of his companions would get it moving.

The dairy is at 1001 South Grand boulevard. Police said an attendant was on duty when the driving was in progress, but was repairing a truck and was out of sight and hearing.

BIG WATER TANK OVERFLOWS AND 75 FAMILIES PULL OUT

Seventy-five families in Jefferson Barracks were moved out of their homes for about an hour early yesterday when a large water tank in the neighborhood began overflowing.

An automatic shutoff valve failed to function as the 300,000-gallon tank, 190 feet high, was being filled. The tower is in the 1000 block of Van Nostrand street.

The sound of running water awakened residents about 3 a.m., and St. Louis county police were called. They in turn called water department men, and told the families to leave for fear the seams of the tank would burst.

The trouble was soon corrected, and everyone went back to their homes.

SMALL GROUP STILL HUNTING S. ROXANA BOY

A major effort to find the boy was called off last night, after 200 volunteers had combed a six-square-mile area around South Roxana.

Herbert McDonough, South Roxana constable, said he and other authorities are convinced that the boy met with foul play.

The belief is that Paul is being held against his will or was taken away in an automobile, or attacked, McDonough said.

Paul was last seen at 6 p.m. Friday by a friend in the South Roxana Dad's Club Park, where a homecoming celebration was in progress.

Wanted Job in Park.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. White of South Roxana, last saw their son a few hours before, when he left home on his bicycle, on his way to the park. He told his parents he intended to find an "odd job" there.

The boy's bicycle was found at the park. It was unlike him to go away without the bicycle, which is his most prized possession, his parents explained.

Authorities quoted the parents as saying that Paul "is not the type of boy to run away from home." He was afraid to be outside at night alone, it was said.

When he left home, Paul was wearing a white cotton T-shirt, overalls and Oxford shoes. He has a crewcut.

Searchers today were patrolling the Cahokia diversion canal, about three miles from the boy's home, on the theory that a drowned person's body would turn up in the canal. A shallow drainage slough nearby drains into the canal.

There was no equipment available for dragging the canal in search of a body because all such apparatus was being used to find bodies of drowning victims in the Mississippi river.

Snake Bite Feared.

Authorities expressed concern that the boy may have been bitten by a poisonous snake in one of the swampy and wooded areas surrounding the town. A number of water moccasins, which are poisonous, were reported seen yesterday by the search party.

A police bulletin describing Paul has been circulated throughout Illinois. The Federal Bureau of Investigation said it was keeping in close touch with Madison county authorities. There is no evidence of kidnaping at this time, an FBI spokesman said.

Lure of Job Possible.

A spokesman for the family said Mr. and Mrs. White believe Paul could have been lured away by the promise of money or a job. The boy was always eager to earn money, the spokesman explained.

Five airplanes weer used in the search yesterday and one plane was being used today, in an effort to sight the boy from the air.

Efforts to find Paul were begun Friday night, soon after his disappearance. Volunteers worked until 4 a.m. Saturday. The search was renewed Saturday afternoon and again yesterday morning.

A contingent of soldiers from the Army Engineers Depot at Granite City joined in the search yesterday.

One report said authorities were questioning known sex offenders in the Roxana area, which is about 17 miles northeast of St. Louis.

The boy's mother was reported to have told authorities she has given up all hope.

Paul was described as four feet, 11 inches tall, weighing about 85 pounds. His hair is blond. He has brown eyes and a light complexion.

He is the eldest of four children. The others are John, 10 years old; Jimmy, 4, and Billy, 3. The Whites live at 305 Indiana avenue in South Roxana, an unincorporated area just south of Roxana.

The father is employed as a laborer at the Standard Oil Co. refinery at Wood River.

EISENHOWER WENT TO RUSSIA AFTER 1945 WAR VICTORY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower has been to Moscow before, in 1945 as an honored comrade-in-arms in the victory over Nazi Germany.

It will be 14 years ago Aug. 12 that Gen. Eisenhower mounted a platform in Red Square with the late Joseph Stalin and reviewed a parade. He was the first foreigner so honored.

Gen. Eisenhower was then the supreme commander of the allied forces which had swept from Normandy to a meeting with the Russians on the river Elbe in Germany.

At the time, Gen. Eisenhower said the subjects Stalin had talked about convinced him Russia's paramount aim was to be friendly with the United States.

Mr. Eisenhower met Premier Khrushchev in 1955 at the summit meeting in Geneva. Nicolai Bulganin was premier then and Khrushchev was the powerful secretary of the Communist Party.

10 INDICTED IN WORLD HERB-SMUGGLING RING

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3 (AP)—Ten alleged members of an international herb-smuggling ring will be tried in Memphis, a treasury official said yesterday.

E. E. Minskoff, chief enforcement officer of the Treasury's foreign assets control section, said the ring smuggled more than $1,000,000 worth of Chinese herbs into the United States by devious routes that began in either Hong Kong or Red China and passed through Canada.

Minskoff said indictments against the men were unsealed Friday in Memphis. Still sought is the operation's Canadian kingpin, identified as Henry Edwin Chad, and two of his aids, Sydney Rock and Ernest Buchamer. Also indicted by a federal grand jury were Joe Quong, alias Joe Wilson, of Chicago and Memphis, described as the United States boss; his two sons, Joe Wing Wah and Joe Wing Fong, and Lun Fee Lee, all of New York City; and John Hong Hall, Fong Quock Tip and Wong Shew Git, all of San Francisco.

TROOPS FIRE OVER HEADS OF UNRULY MEXICAN CROWD

TIJUANA, Baja California, Mexico, Aug. 3 (AP)—Police and federal troops fired over the heads of an angry election crowd last night. A 3-year-old girl was gravely wounded by a richocheting bullet.

The crowd was composed of members of the National Action party (P.A.N.), which was trying to gain control of the state government of Baja California from the Party of the Revolutionary Institutions (P.R.I.).

The crowd gathered after Prof. Zeferino Sanchez Hidalgo, P.A.N. candidate for Mayor of Tijuana, was arrested by federal police on a technical charge of disturbing the peace a half hour before the polls closed. Soldiers marched into the crowd with their bayonet at the ready. The crowd dispersed, but quickly reformed. The firing followed.

congressional leaders who had been informed this morning had reacted favorably.

The President stressed that he would not be in any sense a spokesman for the Western powers but only for his own Government. His meeting with Western heads of governments prior to the Khrushchev visit would have no direct connection with a possible later summit meeting with the Soviet Union, according to the President.

Asked if he would accompany the Soviet premier on his travels about the United States, the President replied that he could not go all the way. As reported in the Post-Dispatch last week, when first word of the virtual certainty of a Khrushchev visit was given, the tentative plan is for Vice President Nixon to accompany the Soviet visitor on most of his travels.

The President said details still remained to be settled. When asked if he would return the visit before winter closes in on Moscow, he replied that he could not say, adding that the fall did not end until Dec. 22.

In Warsaw, Poland, Nixon said he understands the date for Khrushchev's visit to the United States is around Sept. 15.

The President said he hoped the mere announcement of the impending Khrushchev visit would produce greater activity and conciliation at Geneva, where the foreign ministers have been deadlocked in their second go-round of talks which began on May 11.

The foreign ministers are due to break off their talks on Wednesday. But the President hinted that a last-minute development might make it possible to call a summit conference that would coincide with his visit to Europe. He emphasized that this would be a personal visit.

Already Prime Minister MacMillan has expressed great pleasure over the Khrushchev visit to America, the President told reporters. While he did not mention it, reluctance has come from the French. But they have been so anxious to bring about a meeting between President Eisenhower and Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the French president, that what is in a sense a by-product of the exchange with Khrushchev may reconcile them to it.

The President himself seemed to share some of the excitement and tension that accompanied the calling of the special press conference and the extraordinary announcement. He appeared in the relaxed mood of a man who, finally having made a decision, feels a great sense of relief.

Talks to Be 'Exploratory.'

At one point the President referred to his forthcoming informal talks with Khrushchev as "exploratory." They would not constitute negotiations, he added, since to undertake negotiations on such a basis would be impractical and counter-productive.

With respect to Nixon's mission to Russia, the President said he had told the Vice President the day before he departed of the progress of the written exchange with the Soviet Premier. He did this, he said, so that Nixon would not be surprised if the other side should open up the subject. Suggesting thereby that Nixon was not authorized to bring up the idea, the President nevertheless added that there had never been any prohibition on discussion of it in the Nixon-Khrushchev exchange.

In speaking of possible hostility toward the Soviet Premier during his American tour, the President referred to "uncontrolled individuals." He said the facts about such possible hostility has been pointed out to representatives of the Soviet Union.

The President also referred to the possibility of the foreign ministers re-assembling in the event that they do suspend the talks on Wednesday. It has been assumed for several days that the prospect of a Khrushchev visit to this country would insure at the very least an amicable recess in the Geneva talks agreed to by the Western foreign ministers and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. But the President plainly held out the possibility that something more than this might still come out of the stalled conference.

Question Period.

When he had read his announcement, which he said would be available to reporters in written form at the end of the conference, the President said he would have about 10 minutes for answering questions. He parried all inquiries about details, repeating several times that they had still to be worked out.

As recently as last Wednesday's press conference, the President, when asked about hints from Nixon that Khrushchev would come to this country, seemed to take a doubtful view of such a visit. He declined to discuss it as a possibility. But strong hints had been coming from the Nixon party in Russia that such a visit was in the cards.

Initiated by Eisenhower.

At the outset of the conference, the President said:

"Some time back I suggested to the State Department that I believed, in the effort to melt a little bit of the ice that seems to freeze our relationships with the Soviets, that possibly a visit such as I now have proposed would be useful... In early July I initiated the correspondence that finally brought about an agreement."

He told reporters that he would also tour Russia outside Moscow but he indicated that perhaps he could not spend as much time on his tour as the 10 days that Khrushchev would devote to travel after his Washington talks.

The announcement today is of extraordinary importance for many reasons. It will be the first time in history that the ruler of all the Russias, whether under the Czars or under the Communists, has ever come to the Western hemisphere. Likewise, it will be the first time an American head of government has ever visited the Soviet Union. As general of the Allied armies, Mr. Eisenhower went to Moscow at the end of the war and was given a hero's welcome and the highest decoration of the U.S.S.R.

The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt visited Russia in February 1945 to meet Premier Joseph Stalin and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill at Yalta in the Crimea for a World War II conference.

Mark Twain Expressway—$1500 for four parcels valued at $108,450; $1800 for six parcels valued at $84,550; $3600 for 18 parcels valued at $212,132; $3600 for 21 parcels valued at $303,176; $3000 for eight parcels valued at $267,530.

Watched by Counselor's Aid.

The city fees are awarded by circuit judges after consultation with the city counselor's office. Andrew J. Reis, assistant city counselor, has kept a careful watch of fees awarded in recent years. None has been protested by the state.

Reis actually represents the State Highway Commission in condemnation proceedings in St. Louis under the arrangement with the state.

Robert L. Hyder, chief counsel of the highway commission, has complained that some county fees were not appealed because the state learned of them too late. He said he has taken steps to prevent this in the future.

Judge Poelker, whose $22,500 fee is being appealed, said he had set the figure at approximately 10 per cent of the valuation of $216,250 placed by the appraisers on property condemned for the proposed circumferential county highway.

However, Judges Jones and Judge Noah Weinstein told the Post-Dispatch they based their fees on the amount of work and the extent to which the appraisers encountered complex problems.

In the third county case criticized by the highway commission, the state appealed Judge Weinstein's fee award of $13,500 for appraisal of 54 parcels for the widening of Page avenue in the county in 1956.

The fee was about 25 per cent of the $46,520 valuation set on the property. It was divided by Thomas L. Croft, an attorney, and Henry S. Haffner and Victor S. Sandrock, real estate dealers.

The appeal failed because action was not taken in time. Hyder said the state did not know of the award within the 10 days allowed to file an appeal. Judge Weinstein disputed his statement.

The fee awarded by Judge Jones was for appraising property taken for reconstruction of U.S. Route 66 near Times Beach.

visiting Russia in return, but "if Khrushchev does come here, it would not be amiss for the President to go over there."

Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader, said the talks if successful could "enshrine the President as the boldest and most determined peacemaker in many generations."

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem.), Minnesota, who made a recent visit to Russia, said in a statement he strongly supports the exchange of visits.

"I hope that the visit of each will be extensive, permitting sufficient time for intensive, informal discussions," Humphrey said. "In many respects, such meetings may prove more fruitful in dispelling misinformation, avoiding miscalculation, and easing tension, than a formal meeting."

'It's All Right With Me.'

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (Dem.), Texas, said he would have no comment beyond saying that "it's all right with me if the President wants him."

One who disagreed with Mr. Eisenhower's decision was House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, who said he thought the President made a mistake.

Senator Stuart Symington (Dem.), Missouri, said "both visits appear to be wise and constructive. I don't see what can be lost — and much might be gained."

Senator Paul H. Douglas (Dem.), Illinois, warned the Administration to be on guard against the Communists.

"The President, of course, has the legal right to extend such an invitation," Douglas told newsmen, adding: "We can imagine the sharp criticism which would have burst forth if a Democratic President had extended such an invitation. I shall not utter such criticism."

Senator Thomas J. Dodd (Dem.), Connecticut, called the invitation to Khrushchev "a national disgrace." He said he would not remain in Washington while Khrushchev was here and if the Senate was in session at the time he would seek an adjournment.

Senator Wayne Morse (Dem.), Oregon, said the exchange "makes a lot of sense." He hoped the Khrushchev visit would "precede by a few days a summit conference with the heads of all other states at the United Nations' headquarters in New York."

Building Strike

tors were signing new agreements with the union embodying the hiring hall clause and the same terms that were in the old agreement.

He claimed that "90 per cent of the contractors who have projects underway have indicated they will sign our agreement."

Gruenberg charged that SIBA "wants to return to the old shape-up, with all its attendant evils" in hiring laborers.

Under the present system, he said, the union sends laborers to a project upon request of a contractor. The contractor then picks the men he wants to hire.

Gruenberg contended that the "hiring hall" system used in the past did not restrict the employers' freedom in choosing laborers.

He said the employer had been free to reject the applicants sent to him for interviews. The union continued to send applicants until the employer got the type of workers desired, he said.

Without the hiring hall procedure, the attorney said, unemployed laborers would have to present themselves at a project and line up, or "shape up" for the employers' inspection.

He said such a system is "degrading" and that its use on ship docks had resulted in opportunities for graft and bribery.

Builders' Contention.

The Southern Illinois Builders Association, in a prepared statement, charged that the "hiring hall" procedure was susceptible of abuses, and cited dock workers in support of its argument.

"The 'hiring hall' privilege, incidentally, has been widely known for its misuse by racketeers, making men pay tribute for assignment to jobs — most notably in the infamous 'shape-up' of dock workers," the statement said.

The association charged that "the union wants to pick and assign workmen to jobs, leaving employers helpless so far as hiring is concerned."

Gruenberg said the SIBA's resistance to retention of the hiring hall clause, which has been in use since 1953, apparently was inspired by a National Labor Relations Board decision in June.

The decision, handed down in an East Side case, was regarded a blow to the hiring hall practices of some East Side unions.

Three Safeguards.

The NLRB held that three safeguards were essential to any exclusive hiring hall agreement. The safeguards listed were:

1. The selection of employes must not be based on or affected by union membership.

2. The employer must have the right to reject any job applicant referred by the union.

3. All provisions relating to the hiring arrangement, including the three safeguards, must be posted in appropriate places.

Gruenberg said the first two safeguards had been in effect under the recently expired contract between the SIBA and the Laborers local.

The union had sought, in the unsuccessful negotiations for a new contract, a provision for posting provisions, so as to be in full compliance with the NLRB ruling, he added.

An officer of the SIBA said the contractors probably could draft a hiring hall clause that would conform to the NLRB requirements, but that the employers see no reason for retaining such a provision in future agreements.

A strike tomorrow against SIBA by Bridge & Structural Iron Workers Union Local 392 appeared likely.

The union's contract also expired last Friday. Iron Workers officials said the employers' offer of a 15-cent hourly wage increase coupled with a new one-year contract was "inadequate."

They said the strike will begin as soon as sanction is received from their international union.

The local has about 425 members.

Cement Finishers Union Local 90, East St. Louis, also has been negotiating terms of a new contract with SIBA, but officers said no strike is contemplated.

The iron workers and cement finishers are among the crafts made idle by the laborers' walkout, since they are honoring the picket lines.

Kennedy Differs With President On 'Punitive' House Labor Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Senator John F. Kennedy (Dem.), Massachusetts, differed sharply yesterday with President Eisenhower over labor legislation.

With a showdown scheduled in the House this week on the politically touchy legislation, Kennedy issued a sharply worded statement criticizing a bill that received Mr. Eisenhower's public blessing.

At his press conference last week, the President said that a substitute labor bill pushed by Representatives Robert P. Griffin (Rep.), Michigan, and Phil M. Landrum (Dem.), Georgia, was a tremendous improvement over other labor bills now getting congressional attention.

This was a direct slap at both a compromise bill reported out by a divided House Labor Committee and a bill pushed through the Senate by Kennedy and Democratic leaders there.

Rayburn for Committee Bill.

(United Press International said Speaker Sam Rayburn, rejecting complaints by some that it is too tough and by others that it is too soft, called for passage of the House Labor Committee bill.

(The Texas Democrat said the committee bill "does a splendid job" of controlling racketeers without punishing labor or anyone else. Rayburn's stand, announced at a press conference today, put him at odds with both Mr. Eisenhower and the AFL-CIO.

(Rayburn promised the reform legislation would be called up for House action soon after the Rules Committee gives it clearance. The committee may consider the bill tomorrow but has made no commitment.)

Kennedy's statement said passage of the Griffin-Landrum substitute "would endanger final passage of any reform legislation by complicating the chances for a conciliation of the Senate and House version."

Compromise to Be Needed.

An eventual Senate-House compromise will be needed after the House acts. This then must win final Senate and House approval before a bill can be sent to the President.

"This Congress must pass a labor-management bill," Kennedy said. "We cannot go home without enacting a responsible, effective measure that will strike hard at racketeers without penalizing honest union members."

Meanwhile House Republican minority leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, criticized a pending House labor control bill as weak, says he will vote against any bill lacking what he considers effective provisions.

Halleck plugged instead for the Landrum-Griffin substitute.

Halleck said Congress wants to write a good bill "and we have it in the Landrum-Griffin substitute."

The Griffin-Landrum bill is expected to have strong support from a combine of northern Republicans and Southern Democrats in the House.

Punitive, Kennedy Says.

Kennedy called it a punitive measure which he said "seeks to undo the conscientious efforts of the House committee members."

He commended the House committee bill as "a responsible measure aimed at the Hoffas, the Dios and the Sheffermans, based on the McClellan committee's reports and compatible with the strong, workable bill which passed the Senate 90 to 1."

Among witnesses before the Senate rackets investigating committee have been James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, John Dioguardi (Johnny Dio), listed by the committee as a New York hoodlum and Hoffa associate, and Nathan Sheffermman, Chicago labor consultant and friend of Teamster officers as well as some management.

Kennedy said the substitute bill goes far beyond the recommendations of the rackets investigating committee.

It threatens "to restrict the anti-racketeering efforts of honest unions, to bog down small unions and the bill's administration in a welter of red tape, and to weaken labor's legitimate rights at the bargaining table," Kennedy said.

Post for Ex-Senator Watkins.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (UPI)—President Eisenhower today nominated Arthur V. Watkins, former Republican Senator from Utah, to be a member of the Indian Claims Commission. Watkins, 72 years old, served two Senate terms starting in 1948.

TEACHERS SAID TO FLEE SPY JOBS IN EAST GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Thousands of school teachers are fleeing Communist East Germany every year rather than serve as spies and propagandists for the Soviet Union, according to a report released here over the weekend.

A special committee of educators from West Germany, Switzerland and Belgium said the teacher is overloaded with work behind the Iron Curtain. In the classroom, they said, the teacher must teach and advocate the Marx-Lenin line, spy on pupils and report their political behavior. Outside class, he must spy on the pupils' parents and try to influence them politically, the report said.

The committee submitted its report to the eighth annual convention of the World Confederation of Organizations of the Teaching Profession. About 700 delegates from 74 countries are attending the convention. Yugoslavia is the only Communist country represented.

The report said 12,600 teachers fled East Germany between 1954 and 1958. About 60 per cent were under the age of 40.

Which roof is stronger?

There are 5 roof braces instead of 3 in the Ford Family of Fine Cars

A stronger roof means a stronger body. And a stronger body means fewer squeaks and rattles.

Another way we build stronger bodies for the Ford Family of Fine Cars is with extra body welds. There are 200 more body welds, for instance, in the Ford Galaxie than in comparable cars made by other companies.

These extra body welds in critical areas like pillars and doors stop rattles before they start.

A third reason for the silence of the ride in the Ford Family of Fine Cars is more sound insulation—up to 20% more. In the Mercury's roof, for instance, there are 4.6 pounds of insulation. Many comparable cars have no sound insulation at all in their roofs.

Our body frames are built with guard rails. They curve out and around the seats, forming a protective barrier of structural steel. This is true of our Ford, Edsel, and Mercury. Guard rails also protect the passengers in the unitized bodies used in our Thunderbird, Lincoln and Continental.

Two other safety features offer protection in case of accident. Our recessed three-spoke steering wheel is designed to catch the driver in its cushioning arms. Our safety door latches reduce the possibility of doors opening upon impact. Statistics prove that passengers are twice as safe if they remain inside the car.

Our engine hoods are different from most others. We make them with double walls instead of single walls. This extra rigidity eliminates the fluttering that is so disconcerting at highway speeds.

The paint we use is a special baked-on enamel, not merely a rubbed-down lacquer. In tests it has been found to be extremely durable. Even pellets from an air rifle have failed to chip the surface.

* * *

You have now read eight of the many reasons why we think you'll find (upon comparing our cars with the others) that Ford Motor Company builds better. Ford Motor Company, American Road, Dearborn, Mich.

ARMY IN DRIVE FOR MODERNIZED GROUND FORCES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) —The Army renewed today its campaign against too great a reliance on mass destruction weapons, contending that properly equipped land forces can conquer without destroying an enemy.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, Army chief of staff, sounded this keynote at the outset of the three-day annual convention of the Association of the United States Army. The group is composed of present and former Army men and other backers of Army policies.

The general re-emphasized another point the Army long has made, the possibility of a nuclear stalemate arising when both the United States and Russia could totally destroy each other with nuclear weapons.

In his keynote speech on "Why We Need a Modern Army, Lemnitzer said:

"A modern army is capable of conquering without destroying, of defending without reducing the defended land to radioactive waste. The physical presence of armed men on the ground can exert more effective and lasting control than the threat of megatons of firepower that may never be used."

Strategic Disarmament.

At another point, Lemnitzer said that in the not too distant future, intercontinental ballistic missiles can become so numerous and relatively invulnerable to counter-attack that it would be senseless for an enemy to attempt surprise attack.

"When that time arrives," he continued, "it could bring about, in a curious way, what some have characterized as the equivalent of strategic nuclear disarmament.

"We shall always want, as a vital component of our military power, the invulnerable missile deterrent needed to maintain this situation. With this in being, the situation will then mean, realistically, that the other components of our power will play the vital role in coping with the tactics and strategy of Communism short of the threat of general war."

Land power, primarily represented by the Army, is vital in strategy, the general declared, saying:

"Land forces are the only means through which, finally, land can be controlled and domination asserted over the people who inhabit that land."

Soviet Forces.

The Communist's plans cover the whole spectrum of possible aggression, from subversion and infiltration through general nuclear war, Lemnitzer said, adding:

"I think that it is most pertinent to note that the Soviet armed forces—and in varying degrees the armed forces of the other Communist nations—have been maintained in strength and have also been the subject of extensive modernization. This is especially true of the Soviet ground forces."

The Army recently lost out in an effort to gain budget approval for a five-year, 15-billion-dollar program to modernize its equipment and arms. However, the defense budget, as agreed on by a Senate-House conference committee, does provide some increase for Army modernization funds.

Lemnitzer said that plans for keeping the Army in pace with changing conditions and strategy must start well in advance, especially in the production of weapons.

MISSILE DESIGNED FOR INFANTRYMEN TO DOWN PLANES

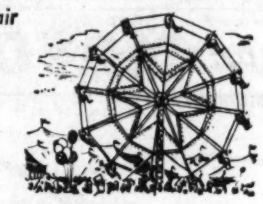

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (UPI) —The Army and Marines disclosed yesterday that they will equip infantrymen with a new guided missile designed to knock down low-flying combat planes. A $6,000,000 contract has been awarded to Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. to develop the weapon.

Sketchy details of the new weapon, called "the Redeye," were disclosed and test models were shown as part of the annual three-day meeting of the Association of the United States Army.

The Redeye launcher resembles a World War II anti-tank bazooka. The weapon, fired from the shoulder, has an infra-red "heat seeker" in its nose which will carry it to a strafing or bombing airplane. The Redeye and its launcher weigh 20 pounds. The weapon is four feet long.

The Army said both missile and launcher can easily be carried by one man through underbrush and rugged terrain. The range of the weapon was not given.

Relaxation is Only Cure For Headaches Doctors Say

If you can relax, you can probably overcome your own headaches, doctors report. Most headaches arise from emotional tensions, and only relaxation can cure them. But, if you can't relax, you may be one who can benefit by a remarkable new treatment. Its ingredients are being prescribed for millions today. It is safe, non-habit-forming and not only gives fast relief from headaches, but eases the tensions that cause them—the pressure-swollen blood vessels, tight neck muscles, and other sources of the discomfort. This modern defense against man's ancient enemy, the common headache, is known as SAL-FAYNE. It is now available in pink capsule form without prescription, at your favorite drug counter. HEADS SECURITY DIVISION IN COUNTY

Lt. H. C. Birmes today was appointed acting captain in command of the security division of the St. Louis County Police Department. Lt. F. J. (Pete) Vasel was named to succeed Birmes as commander of the detective bureau.

The appointments were announced by Col. Raymond W. Hensley, superintendent of the county police.

Birmes, 50 years old, succeeds Capt. Richard J. Hackmeyer, whose resignation to enter private law practice was effective today. Birmes has commanded the detective bureau the past two years.

He is a graduate of the St. Louis Police Academy and was a member of the city police department for three years. In 1954 he became an investigator on the burglary and larceny squad in the county sheriff's office.

Birmes became a member of the county police when, the department was organized in July 1955. He lives at 718 Reed avenue, Lemay.

Vasel formerly commanded the enforcement division. He was transferred to the detective bureau shortly after he was reduced in rank from captain last April 7 for conduct unbecoming an officer and for filing a false report. The disciplinary action resulted from Vasel's permitting a police officer to take a telephone following a handbook raid.

Vasel, a former deputy sheriff, has been a member of the county police since its inception.

ADMITS ASSAULTING GIRL, HELD IN COUNTY JAIL

Richard Chapman of the 1900 block of College avenue was charged with rape in a warrant issued yesterday by Magistrate Leslie T. Lewis at Clayton.

St. Louis county police reported Chapman, 19 years old, admitted in a signed statement that he drove a 17-year-old Florissant girl to a deserted road in north St. Louis county Saturday night and criminally assaulted her. He admitted having threatened to kill her unless she submitted, police reported.

Chapman, who is married, was held without bond at St. Louis county jail at Clayton.

SENTENCED TO SEVEN YEARS, BEAT AND ROBBED WOMAN

Paul Vincent King today was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary after he pleaded guilty of first-degree robbery. Sentence was imposed by Circuit Judge John K. Regan.

King, 28 years old, gave an address in the 2400 block of O'Fallon street when arrested last June 22. He was identified by Miss Sadie Berman as the man who beat and robbed her of $60 earlier that day when she was working at Nettie's Hat Shop, 2652 Franklin avenue. King was arrested after police broadcast his description.

WOMAN STABS MAN; HE HITS HEAD IN FALL, DIES

Earl Taylor, 2629 Bernard street, was killed last night when he was stabbed in the face in a dispute with a woman friend at his home.

The woman, Miss Estella Summers, 2634 Bernard, told police she and Taylor quarreled over his interest in another woman and she stabbed him with a screwdriver.

As he fell, his head struck the stove, she said. Taylor, 46 years old, was dead on arrival at City Hospital.

CHRONIC HOSPITAL PATIENT'S DEATH RULED ACCIDENT

A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the death of Albert John Wolf, a 78-year-old patient at St. Louis Chronic Hospital, who died last Thursday at the hospital.

The verdict said the cause of death was a fractured right leg, which resulted when Wolf was pushed to the floor by another elderly patient last July 17.

Contributing to the death were advanced arteriosclerosis and senility, the verdict said.

Drowning Laid to Clams.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Ethel Lambreton drowned yesterday in Ribault river and officers attributed the drowning to more than 10 pounds of clams she had stuffed in her bathing suit. After picking up the clams along the river bank.

ROBESON ASSAILS U.S. POLICY AT RED YOUTH FESTIVAL

VIENNA, Aug. 3 (AP)—Paul Robeson, the American Negro singer, today criticized United States foreign policy and "restriction of Negro rights in the United States" at the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival here.

When British and American youths tried to get up and challenge Robeson on his views they reported they were either shouted down by the Communists or ruled out of order by the Communist chairman.

Robeson, here as a star guest of the festival, told a meeting of Asian and African youths that the United States should first see to "giving full freedom to 18,000,000 of us in the United States" before it claimed to be a champion of freedom abroad. He then charged that "the foreign policy of the United States is predicated on a kind of fascism."

"It was only in 1934, when I went to the Soviet Union and stood on Soviet soil that I for the first time felt a full human being," Robeson declared.

CONGRESS HOTEL, INC., PLAN FOR UNSECURED CREDITORS

Unsecured creditors of the bankrupt Congress Hotel, Inc., which formerly operated the Congress Hotel, will receive about 15 cents on each $1 of their claims under a plan submitted today to United States District Judge Randolph H. Weber.

The plan, submitted by Robert H. McRoberts, trustee, calls for full payment of $20,000 in secured claims, mechanics liens and taxes. A total of $170,000 is owed the unsecured creditors. The bankrupt corporation has $59,000 in cash assets since sale of the hotel.

McRoberts said about 140 of the 160 unsecured creditors have approved his plan, which was taken under advisement by Judge Weber. A petition for reorganization under the Bankruptcy Act was filed against Congress Hotel, Inc., in October 1957, but McRoberts held that the debtor could not be rehabilitated as a going concern. The hotel, at 275 Union boulevard, is now operating under a new ownership.

VANDALS BREAK 144 PANES AT COLUMBIA SCHOOL

One hundred and forty-four panes of glass were broken at the Columbia elementary school, 3120 St. Louis avenue, police reported yesterday.

Patrolman Vincent Kruse discovered the vandalism while he was making a routine check. Twenty panes were broken on the east side of the school, 120 on the south side and four on the west side.

Cadillac

The Facts said "Yes" to His Heart!

When did the dream first find its way into his heart? We doubt that he could tell you himself. He only knows that there has been a Cadillac in his hopes and in his plans for a good share of his life.

So imagine his delight when he finally got the facts about Cadillac—and found they said "yes" to his heart!

How pleased and encouraged he must have been to learn of Cadillac's modest purchase price. For the car not only costs no more than many models of other makes—but actually less in view of the many important automotive features included in Cadillac's basic price.

How convinced he must have been by the story of Cadillac's operating economy. For the car stretches a gallon of gasoline over an amazing number of miles—and it offers the maximum in dependability.

And how conviction must have given way to certainty as he listened to the history of Cadillac's resale value. For just as a Cadillac is unrivaled in its original value—so it has no peer in value retained over the years.

Little wonder—in light of these extraordinary facts—that he decided this was the year to take possession of the "car of cars".

So if, like this happy gentleman, you have a Cadillac in your heart—we suggest you let your dealer explain how easily there could be a Cadillac in your life!

Why not put a circle around tomorrow? It's none too soon to get the facts for yourself.

A.P. GREEN FIRE BRICK SALES, EARNINGS UP

A. P. Green Fire Brick Company in its report for the six months ended June 30 shows net income of $1,396,066, equivalent to $1.32 a share on 1,011,554 shares outstanding on net sales of $18,662,512 compared with net income of $548,509 or .54c a share on 923,854 on net sales of $15,815,353 in 1958.

Sales were shown as 18 per cent above 1958 level.

Wm. S. Lowe, president, in his report says: "Our business has continued its upward trend during the second quarter, with sales up 13.5% and net profit up 23% over the first quarter. The backlog of unfilled orders has increased substantially and it is felt that, barring a prolonged strike in the steel industry, further improvement should be expected during the last half of the year."

A dividend of 25c a share was recently declared, payable Aug. 20 to holders Aug. 5.

LOCAL OUTPUT OF STEEL TO BE 77.4 PER CENT

Estimated steel production in the St. Louis area for the current week is 30,304 tons equal to 77.4 per cent of rated capacity. Actual tons of steel produced last week was 27,955 or at a 71.4 rate.

Nation Estimate 11.7 Per Cent.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—Steel production this week will total only 332,000 tons as the steel strike continues, the American Iron and Steel Institute estimated Monday. This would be equivalent to 11.7 per cent of capacity.

Last week production totaled 345,000 tons, equal to 12.2 per cent of capacity, while a month ago it was 2,252,000 tons and a year ago 1,586,000 tons.

U.S. GOVERNMENT BONDS FIRM IN QUIET TRADING

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP) — Corporate bonds improved a shade while Government bonds continued firm in quiet trading late today.

Over-the-counter dealers quoted both intermediate and long-range Treasury obligations steady in an inactive market.

Among the corporates, investment quality issues developed slightly lower tendencies and industrials were mixed but rails, utilities and foreign bonds edged higher.

Corporate borrowing costs edged lower in the wake of the slowdown in the economy stemming from the steel strike. For the first time in six months, the open market rates on commercial paper sold by dealers were cut by ⅛ percentage point. The decline followed six consecutive ⅛ point increases on commercial paper, which represents short-term borrowings by business firms.

Calls Preferred Stock.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP)—Consolidated Foods Corp. called for redemption on Sept. 4 its 5¼ per cent convertible preferred stock at $50.25 a share and accrued dividends through Sept. 4.

The preferred is convertible into the company's common on the basis of about 2.8 common shares for each preferred share.

Production Workers' Average Hourly Earnings Hold Steady

Decrease From May to June in Six Industry Groups Here, but Rise in Seven, Stand Still in Two.

By William H. Kester
Post-Dispatch Business Correspondent.

Average hourly earnings of production workers in St. Louis area manufacturing industries held steady from May to June, the Missouri Division of Employment Security reported today. Average hourly earnings decreased in six major industry groups, increased in seven and remained unchanged in two.

The changes reflected in part the variation in the average hours worked. Reduced overtime, cutting the amount of work at premium pay, was probably responsible for the declines in two industries. On the other hand, average hourly earnings rose in five industries which had longer work-weeks.

W. H. Kester

A drop of 5 cents an hour in the printing and publishing industry was attributed to the recent strike at the Pulitzer Publishing Co., reflecting the higher than industry average earnings of production workers.

The June hourly earnings of $2.38 were 10 cents higher than a year earlier. Increases occurred in all industry groups reported. In the last year, earnings rose 12 cents in durable goods industries and 5 cents in nondurable industries.

The factory workweek was 1.1 hours higher this June than a year ago in the St. Louis area. In the nation the increase was 1.4 hours. The average hours worked in the June survey week increased in durable goods industries, but declined in nondurable industries. Again the newspaper strike was responsible for part of the decline.

Average weekly earnings in June were $95.90, up 1 cent from May and $6.31 higher than in June last year.

Anticipation of the steel strike caused peak production for Standard Pipeprotection, Inc., to be reached in April and May this year rather than in July, Hugh W. Baird, president, said today.

The company, founded in 1948, coats and wraps pipe at 3000 South Brentwood boulevard for oil and gas pipeline companies. The pipe is purchased by the user at the mills and shipped here for processing en route to the installation site.

The pipeline companies built up inventories of pipe during the first half of the year in anticipation of the steel strike, which has curtailed deliveries. As a result Standard Pipeprotection increased employment to about 180 in March, the number usually employed in July. Production began to decline in the latter part of May and now only 120 are employed, Baird said.

If the steel strike continues, employment will be cut to about 60 by mid-August and operations will be curtailed to three days a week, he said.

A $308,000 bond issue by Caseyville School district (No. 102 of St. Clair county, Ill.) has been purchased by Mercantile Trust Co. and Stern Bros. at a net interest cost of 4.2414 per cent. Bonds are being reoffered to investors at yields ranging from 3.3 per cent for 1962 maturities to 4.2 per cent for 1975 maturities.

John K. O'Hare has been appointed assistant director of sales for the explosives operations, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., with offices at East Alton.

O. C. Klingsick, formerly vice president of production for Day-Brite Lighting, Inc., is now vice president and controller.

Consumer Installment Debt Outstanding Rises 452 Million

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) —Outstanding consumer installment debt increased by $452,000,000 in June, after adjustment for seasonal influences. The increase was in line with the advance of the preceding month and pushed total installment debt to $35,810,000,000.

Announcing this during the weekend, the Federal Reserve Board said both extensions of new installment credit and repayment of old debts continued close to peak rates.

During the first half of 1959, it said, outstanding installment credit increased by nearly $2,400,000,000—close to the peak level recorded in the first half of 1955.

Outstanding non-installment credit rose $35,000,000 in June to $10,906,000,000.

SOYBEANS SELL OFF ON CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP) — Mounting pressure on soybean futures knocked that commodity down almost two cents a bushel today on the board of trade with grains also showing general weakness.

The soybean selling first was linked with reports of good rainfall but the setback opened up a fair volume of stop loss liquidation which speeded up the decline.

However, the Department said that factory backlogs of unfilled orders were reduced slightly over the month.

Total sales of manufactures were estimated at 32 billion dollars in June, or six billion more than in the same month last year. After allowing for seasonal differences, June shipments were nearly 2 per cent higher than May.

The book value of manufacturers' inventories rose by $500,000,000 in June, the Department said. The increase was about equal to the rate of inventory accumulation in each of the preceding four months.

The Department said that in spite of the slight reduction in the backlog of unfilled orders due to record rates of shipments, the total of unfilled orders at the end of June was $3,500,000,000 above the total a year ago.

A. M. BYERS CO., THE world's largest producer of wrought iron products, reported sales of $19,763,399 or $2.98 a share for the first nine months of its fiscal year ended June 30. Business Outlook

VIEWING THE STEEL STRIKE

By J. A. Livingston

The Wall Street admonition, "Don't sell on strike news," has been heeded. Stocks dropped a bit during the first three days of the steel stoppage, then climbed to a new high. Investors and speculators have assumed the strike will have a happy ending. The reasoning goes like this:

If the steel workers get a wage increase, it will give the wage-price spiral another twist. That's bullish for stocks. They're a hedge against inflation.

J. A. Livingston

If the strike is settled without a wage increase, it will be a victory for the steel industry and all industry. Profits will be safeguarded. The power of the unions, for the first time since the war, will have been checked. That's bullish for stocks, too.

Wall Street has a wondrous way of channeling different answers into the same conclusion!

Yet, this is not an old-fashioned strike. It is not a genuine trial of strength: Will the deprivation of profits make the companies call it quits before the deprivation of wages makes the workers want to settle—or vice versa?

"Unprecedented Wealth."

Rather, this is a test of your endurance and mine, of the nation's endurance. How long can automobile companies, construction companies, refrigerator companies, bolt and nut factories, and all other factories operate before they run out of steel? How long before unemployment spreads to other industries? How long before the strike slows defense production?

In a nationwide strike in steel, an industry as vital to production as breath to a newborn babe, the antagonists don't bring one another to their knees. The country is brought to its knees. All industry gasps for relief. And then, the President, whether he wants to or not, must intervene. You and I, as citizens can't take it.

No doubt, David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers union, is counting on just such intervention. In contrast, to Roger M. Blouh, chairman of United States Steel Corp., intervention could force a price rise.

As expected, McDonald has pounced upon the first-half earnings of U.S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin, Inland, Republic Steel, National Steel, etc., as justification for a wage boost. Immediately after U.S. Steel announced net equal to $4.80 a share, nearly twice last year's $2.29, and better than the previous high of $4.07 in 1957, McDonald demanded: "How can they justify, in good conscience, a heartless denial of needed benefits to their workers . . . when they are rolling in unprecedneted wealth?"

Charles M. White, of Republic, sounded the industry's reply. Steel earnings are falsely favorable. The comparison is with an unusually poor first half of 1958, when the recession was at its worst. And this year's first half "robbed the third quarter," as steel users built inventories in preparation for the strike.

Blough looks on the dispute as a last stand against inflation—can the steel industry, or any other industry, "successfully resist the enormous power that has enabled our modern labor unions to exact—frequently with the aid of government — wage increase after wage increase?" He pledged that his company would not boost prices after the end of the strike unless compelled to do so by government-forced settlement. This is the "escape clause" from the no-price-rise pledge.

Blough observed that wages increases "ripple out over the entire economy as other unions strive to catch up." As if to confirm this, McDonald extended the contract with the Big Four aluminum companies for one month beyond the settlement of the steel strike with the proviso that any wage adjustment be retroactive to August 1. Thus, a wage boost in steel will promptly ripple retroactively through aluminum.

Watch Wall Street.

The strike typifies an old-time melodrama. McDonald says to Blough, "You will give me a wage boost." Blough says, "I won't—without changes in the work rules." The antagonists face one another rigid in their own righteousness.

After they weary of their strife, the President will find it propitious to intervene—to offer a solution to save faces. But the interim could be tedious, painful, and discouraging. Even Wall Street may lose some of its bounce.

The stock market could be a helpful economic indicator in the weeks ahead in view of its postwar record. Since 1947, it has given six important advance signals on recessions and recoveries.

In July, 1948, stocks preceded the drop in industrial production by four months. In July, 1949, stocks turned up four months before the recovery.

In 1953, stocks were six months ahead on the decline and signaled the upturn by 11 months.

In the 1957-58 ecession, Wall Street led downturn by only a month, but anticipated the subsequent recovery by four months.

While the strike's on, when business indicators are in a state of suspended animation, stock prices will measure the ebb and flow of people's emotions—their hopes and fears, their apprehensions and anticipations.

INDUSTRIALS GAIN NEW HIGH IN MIXED LIST

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (UPI)—Industrial shares registered a new record high in a moderately active stock market today.

Utilities made a good showing also but rails were leaders with only a small change in their average.

For the industrials, it was the sixth session in a row to record a new all-time high.

Special strength in General Foods, unexplained in the news, and gains of more than a point in such issues as International Nickel, Goodyear, United States Steel. du Pont and Texaco put the average up.

The market made its high at mid-session when the industrial average showed a rise of more than 4 points. It fell off from the top levels on profit-taking later. Some particularly strong spots highlighted the specials with Carter Products the best performer. Metals were bid up and some of the other drugs joined Carter on the upside.

Today's late feature in the industrial section—General Foods—ran up more than 4 points to a new high. Earlier du Pont had shot a new high at 278¾ up 4 points and later slipped back on realizing.

A long list of other industrials moved higher. Steels, oils and motors recorded gains. Tires were strong. Aluminums recovered part of last week's late decline. International Nickel jumped more than 2 in its section. Texaco made a new high in the petroleum group.

Profit-taking reduced many of the earlier gains but on the whole the market appeared higher. Railroad issues ruled firm for a time but their performance was a poor one compared with industrials.

Several specials moved up. Carter Products made a new high after Standard & Poor's selected as a stock for action. Commercial Credit ran up more than 2 when that service selected it as the stock of the month.

7 OIL FIRMS LOSE APPEAL FOR LARGER IMPORT QUOTAS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Appeals by seven oil companies for larger import allocations were dismissed today by the oil import appeals board.

Six of the appeals sought higher allocations for residual fuel imports during the period ending Dec. 31. They were filed by: Texaco, Inc., New York; Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), New York; Gulf Oil Corp., Pittsburgh; Publicker Industries, Inc., Philadelphia; White Fuel Corp., Boston, and Patchogue Oil Terminal Corp., Brooklyn, New York. The seventh appeal, by Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, Chicago, asked for an increased allocation of crude and unfinished oils for the same period.

In all seven cases the board held that it lacks authority under the import regulation to grant the relief asked.

COIN VENDING MACHINES OPERATING PROFITS DROP

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP)—The nation's army of silent salesmen—the coin vending machines—found the dime a bit thinner last year.

Or, in words of the national automatic merchandising assn., average net profits before income tax for operators of machines were 2.86 per cent last year compared with 3.33 per cent in 1957.

The slip in profits was reflected in a survey of 183 companies operating machines which took in about 90 million dollars last year in exchange for such items as candy, cigarettes, beverages, and even travel insurance policies.

Georgia-Pacific Votes 25c.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP) — Georgia-Pacific Corp. declared a dividend of 25 cents a share on the common stock, payable Sept. 25 to record Sept. 4. In effect, this is an increase from the previous rate. The company has been paying 25 cents a share quarterly but the stock was split 5-for-4 on June 25. Thus the latest declaration represents a 25 per cent increase.

5 IN ST. LOUIS AREA DROWN IN THE MISSISSIPPI

Five St. Louis area residents drowned in the Mississippi river yesterday in three separate incidents.

The dead were:

Edward Lee Kittel, 703 East Clarence avenue.

Maurice Ross, of Godfrey.

Mrs. Donna Cisco of Brighton, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wiegard, Prairie Du Rocher, Ill.

Kittel, 25 years old, a baker, drowned while he was attempting to rescue his nephew, Virgil Chestnick of 6100 North Broadway, about a mile south of the Alton dam.

Alton police said the two men had been swimming in deep water while their wives were wading in a shallow part of the river.

Mrs. Chestnick said she heard her husband call for help and Kittel disappeared while going to his aid. Chestnick, 17, finally was rescued by a stranger, his wife reported.

Kittel's body was recovered about four and one-half hours later by the Alton and Wood River Emergency Corps.

Ross, 38, and Mrs. Cisco, 33, disappeared when they apparently waded into a deep hole near Two-Branch Island, opposite Peruque, St. Charles county, the Coast Guard said. Their bodies have not been recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Weigard drowned during a beach party on a sand bar near Prairie du Rocher. Weigard, described as an expert swimmer, was wading in the river and suddenly cried for help.

His wife, who could not swim, plunged after him. Both disappeared in the swift current despite efforts by five other members of the party to save them.

Weigard's body was recovered last night by Illinois state troopers and local officials. He was 30 and his wife 28.

SCHOOLS WILL GET $160,000 FROM U.S.

The St. Louis public school system will receive about $160,000 in aid from the Federal Government under the National Defense Education Act, is was reported yesterday.

The aid will be in the fields of mathematics, science, foreign languages, testing and guidance and technical training, three officials of the St. Louis school system said.

They discussed the Federal aid plan on the program, "Challenge," on Station KMOX-TV.

Participants were George E. Mower, director of guidance services; Miss Elizabeth Goltermann, director of audio-visual education, and J. Ernest Kuehner, assistant superintendent of instruction in charge of technical education.

The panelists said about $106,000 in federal assistance will be given here in the fields of science, mathematics and foreign languages. About $30,000 will go to testing and guidance and about $25,000 to the technical training program.

Under the act, the Federal Government, with the concurrence of the State Department of Education, will reimburse a school district up to 50 per cent of the amount it spends in these fields.

The reimbursements will be used largely for teachers' salaries and to purchase equipment, the panelists explained.

All three agreed that the statute contains adequate safeguards against federal interference in school policies.

BULL RING RIVALS, BROTHERS-IN-LAW, BOTH ARE GORED

MADRID, Aug. 3 (AP)—Two brothers-in-law who are bitter rivals for the title of the world's top matador were in a hospital today, recovering from wounds suffered in the bull ring.

Antonio Ordonez got a three-inch gash in the right thigh from a bull in Palma de Mallorca Saturday. Doctors predicted he would be able to return to the ring in about 10 days.

Ordonez was flown to Madrid and put in the same clinic where his brother-in-law, Louis Miguel Dominguin, is recovering from a serious goring suffered in Valencia Thursday. Dominguin suffered a deep horn thrust in the abdomen. Doctors say he will be out of action for several weeks.

Ordonez is married to Dominguin's sister. Dominguin retired in 1952 after amassing a fortune in the bull ring. When fans and experts began to tout his younger brother-in-law as his superior, he returned to the ring in 1956 to challenge Ordonez. In similar manner the great Manolete came out of retirement in the 1940s to compete with the rising Dominguin. Manolete was fatally gored in 1947.

EXECUTIVE PLEADS GUILTY ON RACKET, TRUST COUNTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—Irving Bitz, an executive of two trucking firms, pleaded guilty today in United States district court to four counts of an indictment charging violations of anti-trust and anti-racketeering laws in the wholesale distribution of newspapers and magazines in the metropolitan area.

Bitz, 56 years old, is vice president of the Bronx County News Co. and secretary-treasurer of the Bi-County News Co. He was indicted by a federal grand jury June 23 with 10 other men and a corporation on the anti-trust and anti-racketeering charges.

Bitz could receive a 20-year sentence and be fined $10,000 on each of two counts charging violations of the Hobbs anti-racketeering act, and could receive an additional one-year sentence and $50,000 fine on each of the two counts charging Sherman anti-trust act violation.

PATIENT IS FOUND DEAD BELOW HOSPITAL WINDOW

An inquest was to be held today in the death of Raymond Loddeke, 3426 Oakdale avenue, Pine Lawn. His body was found Saturday on a driveway below his fifth-floor room at Incarnate Word Hospital, 1640 South Grand boulevard.

A patient who was sharing a room with Loddeke, Melchior Meissner, 10114 Viscount drive, St. Louis county, told police Loddeke was attempting to lower the blinds on the window, which was open.

Meissner said he was momentarily distracted and when he looked up Loddeke was gone. He summoned a nurse. A delivery man found the body. Loddeke, an auditor, was 52 years old.

DRIVER STOPS TO CHECK AUTO, IS ROBBED OF $64

Albert F. Cobb, 4527 Alaska avenue, was robbed of $64 early today in the 900 block of Chestnut street, he reported to police.

Cobb, a cook, said he was driving east on Chestnut and stopped to check the transmission fluid in his automobile. When he was looking under the hood, a man came up behind him, pressed a hard object against his back and demanded his money, he said. The robber fled west in Chestnut.

Autos Barred From Downtown Toledo in 45-Day Experiment

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 3 (UPI)—The automobile was ostracized today from the heart of downtown Toledo in the start of a 45-day experiment. Cars were banished from a four-block area and walking became the only permitted mode of transportation.

With all the hoopla accorded the arrival of the automobile half a century ago, the pedestrian came into his own on the mall—the area sealed off from traffic.

The parking meters and street signs were gone and traffic lights ignored. In their places, 10,000 potted plants, 1000 evergreens and other trees are to sprout.

Workmen have painted outlines on the streets where gardens and patios will be built if Toledo takes to the idea.

Downtown business men hope the malls will serve as the inner city's answer to the convenience of shopping centers on the outskirts.

The mall was constructed on two-block sections of Adams street and Madison avenue, which run parallel, between Huron and St. Clair streets. The mall area is bisected by Superior avenue on which traffic is maintained. The area may be expanded if shoppers take to the idea.

Like many metropolitan areas, Toledo, a city of nearly a third of a million people, found its downtown area choked by traffic. Shoppers were becoming more and more reluctant to go downtown.

City officials hope the public will return to public transportation, which will drop shoppers off at the malls' eight archway entrances.

The idea of creating malls where pedestrians could roam at will was backed vigorously by downtown Toledo Associates, Toledo's merchant group.

During the next 45 days, Toledoans will be surveyed and, if they approve of the malls, the idea will be adopted permanently.

Warsaw Visit

The Vice President talked to newsmen after emerging from a 5-hour 20-minute meeting with Gomulka and the other Polish leaders.

As he did in Moscow, Nixon strongly indorsed the idea of Soviet Premier Khrushchev touring the United States as well as meeting with President Eisenhower.

"Such a trip to the United States," Nixon said, "clearly apart from the opportunity it will afford for the President and Mr. Khrushchev to have a discussion of issues, will be constructive.

"It will enable Mr. Khrushchev to see at first hand how our government operates, our economy and our people."

Nixon said the invitation to Khrushchev was initiated by Mr. Eisenhower himself.

Soviet-American discussions about this began before he started off on his trip to the Soviet Union 12 days ago, Nixon said.

Visit to Soldier's Tomb.

During the ceremony at the tomb of the unknown soldier one of Nixon's well wishers handed the Vice President his 5-year-old daughter to hold. Nixon held the girl in his arms, turned to the crowd around him and called out as they applauded:

"We must all work for a better life for our children."

The crowd was small in comparison to the quarter of a million Poles who greeted Nixon on arrival yesterday, but it outdid even that throng in vociferousness and enthusiasm.

The wreath which Nixon placed on the tomb bore the inscription, "In memory of Polish war heroes, from the people of the United States."

(A Polish colonel pointed out a plaque on the tomb—the only remaining arch of an arcade otherwise destroyed in the uprising of 1944—which listed free Poland's battles in World War II, International-United Press said. Included were the battles of Cassino and the Falaise gap, in which Americans as well as Poles took part.

("The Polish armed forces have a magnificant tradition of fighting under great handicaps," Nixon said. "You have the admiration of the whole world for your courage.")

Yesterday's Big Welcome.

The reception yesterday was the most rousing Nixon had received on all his foreign travels until then. For nearly 15 miles ecstatic crowds cheered the Vice President and showered him with flowers after he arrived by plane from Moscow and rode into the city.

Nixon was greeted by Vice President Oscar Lange, former head of the Polish delegation at the United Nations, and Deputy Foreign Minister Josef Winiewicz, former Polish ambassador in Washington. Since Nixon is not a chief of state, protocol did no require the top officials to turn out.

Nixon's tumultous welcome to Warsaw exceeded that given Khrushchev last month, when he made a 10-day state visit to Poland.

"Nothing ever exceeded this," said the jubilant Vice President after his drive through milling throngs from Warsaw's Babice military airport to Myslewicki palace, where he and his wife are staying during their three-day visit.

He Catches Bouquets.

The crowds threw so many flowers into Nixon's open car that it had to be swept out four times. To protect himself from the barrrage of bouquets, he smilingly caught them like a baseball player.

"We love you," cried onlookers, blowing kisses at Nixon.

In the crowd lining the streets 10-deep were hundreds of Polish army men. "Bravo America!" the crowds shouted over and over.

The demonstration was considered particularly remarkable because the government had not announced in advance the time of Nixon's arrival or the route he would take into Warsaw. It only said he would come Sunday afternoon. However, the Voice of America broadcast the news to Polish listeners for three days.

The official reception at the airport was attended by only 500 persons, but there was a Polish army honor guard and a band that played "The Star Spangled Banner."

Weary from his 11-day visit to Russia, Nixon rested last night after a quiet dinner with United States Ambassador Jacob Beam.

Nixon's itinerary for tomorrow calls for a visit to a housing development, a three-hour drive into the Warsaw suburbs, a talk with students at the University of Warsaw and a tour of the Jewish ghetto that was razed by the Nazis. He leaves for Washington Wednesday morning.

Warsaw's radio and press, reporting Nixon's arrival, gave no hint of the huge crowd or of its enthusiastic greeting.

Trybuna Ludu, the Polish Communist party organ, gave Nixon page one play, however. Under a four-column headline it published a three-column photograph of the Vice President at the airport and the complete statements made by Nixon and Lange.

Tribute to Kosciusko.

The Vice President arrived here as Poles were getting a new 10-zolty coin worth 43 cents It bears the profile of Tadeusz Kosciusko, the Pole who fought in Washington's army in the American Revolution. The newspaper Warsaw Life alluded to his role and to that of Casimir Pulaski in the American fight for freedom.

Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover, touring with Nixon, showed no interest today in his birthplace, the village of Ricki about 50 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Asked whether he intended to visit Ricki, he replied:

Debate at Moscow Airport.

Just before boarding his American jet airliner in Moscow for the trip to Warsaw, Nixon had opportunity for another of the impromptu debates that have marked his tour of Russia.

Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov launched into a long speech which was almost a point-by-point rebuttal to Nixon's television-radio talk to the Soviet people Saturday night.

Nixon, in a brief reply, said "this is not the time to discuss policy matters which have been discussed in detail on other occasions."

He recalled he had gone over these points in full and frank talks, with Khrushchev, Kozlov, Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan and others.

Replying to Nixon's statement that the Soviet policy of peaceful coexistence was unfeasible and resulted in a divided world, Kozlov declared "the alternative to peaceful coexistence can only be war."

Revives Bases Issues.

He denied the Soviet government was trying to impose communism on other countries by force, and declared the maintenance of United States military bases "thousands of miles from the United States and around our borders cannot be justified by anything."

Nixon had warned against trying to impose communism on the rest of the world. He had said the United States would maintain the bases abroad until the Soviet Union removed the causes of tension that prompted them to be set up.

"We were happy to hear you say that you now have no doubt about the peacefulness of the Soviet people," Kozlov said. "These are fine words and they will apparently be heard by those who still insist that our state and our people harbor aggressive, warlike intentions."

Nixon Thanks Press.

In his brief airport talk Nixon said he appreciated the reporting of his visit by the Soviet press and the opportunity for speaking over the Soviet radio and television.

At an airport news conference, Nixon answered sharp questioning by Soviet reporters. He vigorously defended United States military bases overseas, and American policies on nuclear tests and Soviet trade.

He said the bases could not be eliminated until Soviet threats were reduced. He disputed a Soviet newsman's claim that Russia has no bases in foreign countries.

"This would be true only if East Germany, Poland and Hungary are considered parts of the Soviet Union," Nixon said.

NIXON IS PRAISED BY BRITISH PRESS

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—The British press generally praised Vice President Richard M. Nixon yesterday for his conduct on his Soviet tour and his farewell speech on television and radio in Moscow.

Newspapers described this address as "frank," "hard-hitting," and "sensational."

"In his Russian tour Mr. Nixon has become Mr. America, in American eyes at least, which is very nice for a Vice President who would like to be President," said the right-wing tabloid Sunday Graphic.

In the leftist-Sunday Pictorial, columnist Malcolm Muggeridge compared Nixon's Soviet swing with a presidential campaign—complete with hand-shaking and pats on children's heads. Through it all, said Muggeridge, "Nixon indomitably kept on smiling and answered hecklers with short, sharp cracks.

"Nixon, it seemed to me, spoke to Khrushchev in a way he could not fail to understand. This has rarely, if ever, happened before."

There was one sour note, from columnist Woodrow Wyatt in the left-wing Reynolds News. Said Wyatt: "Mr. Khrushchev and Mr. Nixon are two of the most important men in the world . . . and two of the most unpleasant."

He said that in their now famous debate at the United States exhibition they behaved with "vacuous crudity."

Harriman Says Nixon Has Been Very Useful on Russian Tour.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—W. Averell Harriman says Vice President Nixon has been "very useful in giving the Russian people the American point of view" on his tour of the Soviet Union.

But Harriman, Democratic former ambassador to Moscow and New York governor, says Nixon could have been "a little more vigorous" in his public discussion with Premier Khrushchev at the United States exhibit at Moscow.

Harriman, in an interview yesterday on a taped New York television program, said "Mr. Khrushchev has gone around the world boasting about a lot of things, saying a lot of things against the United States, and I was glad to see him 'called' by an American."

YOUTH SHOT TO DEATH FLEEING AFTER SCUFFLE

Donald Lee Ruff, 15 years old, 3714 Garfield avenue, was shot to death last night as he and seven other youths fled after the glass in a door was broken in a scuffle.

Police said Ruff and four companions, all 15 and 16, scuffled with two young men in front of the home of Ivory Rose, 1901A Prairie avenue. In the course of the altercation, one of the combatants was pushed against Rose's front door, breaking the glass.

Rose told police he heard the glass break and grabbed a .38-caliber revolver. When he got to the door, he said, he saw several youths running north in Prairie and fired three shots. Ruff was found at Prairie and St. Ferdinand avenue, a bullet wound in his back.

RAINS OF UP TO 12 INCHES IN EAST-CENTRAL NEBRASKA

OMAHA, Nebr., Aug. 3 (AP)—Waves of thunderstorms across east-central Nebraska Saturday night unloaded up to 12 inches of rain on some rural communities.

Wahoo, a town of 3100 persons about 35 miles west of Omaha, was isolated, as highways leading into the city were inundated.

At Schuyler, about 25 miles northwest of Wahoo, 9.30 inches of rain fell, all but an inch of it in three and a half hours.

The Weather Bureau measured four inches of rain at Omaha and greater amounts were reported in some parts of the city. Up to three feet of water washed through basements of homes in a new residential area. There was flooding in some suburban areas.

DRIVERS' STRIKE AGAINST COOKIE FIRMS CONTINUES

A strike of drivers against manufacturers of biscuits, crackers and cookies will enter its second week tomorrow with no prospects of a settlement, a union officer said today.

Earl Graves, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 611, said no negotiating sessions are planned. Fifty-two drivers struck the National Biscuit Co., Sunshine Biscuit Co. and Sawyer Biscuit Co. on July 21.

Graves said the drivers want a reduction from a nine-hour to an eight-hour day. Plants of the three companies have shut down as other employes refused to cross the picket lines.

HUSSEIN ENDS RIFT WITH U.A.R., TO RESUME TIES

AMMAN, Aug. 3 (AP)—King Hussein of Jordan is patching up his differences with President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the two Arab nations soon will restore diplomatic relations.

The King announced the decision to resume diplomatic relations at a press conference last night in his hilltop palace for a group of correspondents here from Beirut on a government-sponsored trip.

Premier Hazza Majali said that relations would be resumed before the end of this month, in time for the Arab League meeting in Casablanca Sept. 1.

The monarch said he hoped a revised, reactivated Arab League would become a channel for future Arab co-operation. Hussein also said he is willing to meet Nasser, or any or all the Arab leaders — including Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

The young monarch underlined this with a pledge to fight at Nasser's side against Israeli if necessary. He repeated Arab charges that Israel must expand by seizing Arab territory because it is committed to a policy of accepting all immigrants.

The King indicated he has received assurances Cairo will henceforth keep hands off Jordan's internal affairs — a complete switch from the days when the Cairo radio bitterly assailed Hussein and urged Jordanians to overthrow the monarchy. This led to the break in relations.

Meanwhile, Jordan's Ambassador to London, Ihsan Hashim, and the Ambassador to Taipei, Azmi Nashashibi, and roving ambassador, Baheaddin Nouri, were dismissed. There was no immediate explanation for the action.

ROBOT BYPASSES BATTLE-DAMAGED MESSAGE CIRCUIT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—A new robot switchboard displayed at an Army meeting has a switching system that automatically bypasses battle-damaged communications lines and reroutes messages over the fastest available circuit.

The robot, called "DIGICOM," was described as offering an important contribution to battlefield communications.

In addition to being used as an aid in telephonic communications, the device is designed also to handle information from computers, radar, teleprinters, tapereaders and telemetering systems.

The development of the switchboard was announced today by the International Telephone & Telegraph Co. It developed the device in co-operation with the Army Signal Research and Development Laboratory at Fort Monmouth, N.J.

The equipment is being exhibited at the annual meeting of the Association of the United States Army.

C. OF C. CALLS FOR QUICK ACTION ON HIGHWAY 44

Tt St. Louis Chamber of Commerce today called on the State Highway Department to establish a route for Interstate Highway 44 "as promptly as possible."

In a letter to Rex M. Whitton, chief engineer for the Highway Department, Aloys P. Kaufmann, president of the chamber, said the route should be selected soon "so as to preclude any unnecessary delay in constsructing this badly needed facility."

Two routes, one through Webster Groves and the other a short distance of U.S. Highway 66, are under study and both are being opposed by groups of property owners. In the latter, Kaufmann noted that it is contrary to chamber policy to make specific recommendations as to the locations of expressways.

NAPLES GETS WATER BACK

NAPLES, Italy, Aug. 3 (UPI)—Normal water service was restored to this port city yesterday after a dry week that put some 600,000 Neopolitans on the bottle.

The water supplies were cut off last Sunday when a landslide blocked a main aqueduct leading from the mountains, and many residents hed to resort to beer, wine and soft drinks to quench their thirst.

Hostile Red Reporters Do Best to Upset Nixon but His Skill in Public Controversy Saves Day

He Takes On Russians at Press Conference With Own Interpreter and No Holds Barred — Keeps Out of Trouble but Answers Frankly.

By JAMES RESTON
© New York Times News Service.

MOSCOW, Aug. 3.

VICE PRESIDENT RICHARD M. NIXON'S long years of political controversy are beginning to pay off. He has been in the center of so many battles in the last decade, usually as the principal arget, that he has learned to control his temper, his voice and even his facial expressions. This much, as least, he proved yesterday when he held a full-dress press conference here under trying and even dangerous circumstances.

The conference was held in the ballroom of Spaso House, the residence of the United States Ambassador, which is a vast, ornate structure built in Czarist Moscow by a sugar baron.

Nixon opened the conference to Soviet correspondents. To guard against charges of favoritism he used an interpreter from the Soviet Foreign Ministry, Yuri Lepanov, a tense and eager young man. He let in the television cameras, Soviet and American, and took his chances.

THE RUSSIANS seized every opening. They preceded their questions with their own official opinions and charges. They condemned United States military bases overseas. They criticized United States trade policy as "discriminatory." They badgered the Vice President about United States nuclear policy. They even accused him of failure to give Soviet reporters an even break with American reporters in asking questions.

He waited them out patiently. He let their harangues go on. He went out of his way to recognize them, even when they taunted him, and answered back, not brilliantly but just briefly enough and generally enough to avoid the traps they had obviously been told to lay for him.

This was not an easy exercise. The element of accident was great. Nixon had to answer in terms that would not be misunderstood either in the Soviet Union or at home.

He had to be fair to his hosts, mindful of his responsibilities to both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and responsive to a wide range of highly explosive questions.

All this he managed to do with considerable skill.

HE REFUSED to discuss the substance, or even the subject matter, of his talk with Premier Khrushchev before reporting to the President.

He avoided getting entagled in the maze of delicate and controversial topics Herter is trying to negotiate in Geneva.

Yet he did not hesitate to express his personal opinion on an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting, which was that it would be useful, particularly if it could be arranged in such a way as to minimize or remove some of the Soviet Premier's misconceptions about the United States.

It was prefectly clear today that the Vice President had prepared himself carefully on the issues that divide the United States and the Soviet Union. At no time in the news conference or, indeed, in his conversations in the Soviet Union, did he show any originality in developing possible solutions for the problems harassing the two countries. But he knew the State Department's policy well enough to stay out of trouble.

THE VICE PRESIDENT is not a policy-maker or innovator. He is still essentially a tactician and a debater, a master of the obvious and of the sweeping generalization. But he has spent a lot of time now making his way through the political mine-fields, and he is not easily trapped.

On this trip, perhaps because he has been working night and day, he looks older and more serious. The two lines running down from the nose to the mouth the now deep crevices and the eyebrows seem even darker and thicker.

There is no doubt that he has come out of this experience with much more confidence. His previous overseas missions to Latin America, Africa and Asia have been largely ceremonial. This one has dealt more with substance, and this has pleased him.

FOR SOME TIME he has wanted to get deeper into the formulation, administration and negotiation of policy. He has been conscious of the fact that, despite his considerable experience in the House and Senate and in the vice presidency, he has had very little opportunity to work on the kind of decisions he would have to take in the presidency.

In private conversation too, he has repeatedly said—though he has been careful to avoid any political discussion on this trip—that in his judgment, the American people would choose for the presidency the man they thought best qualified to deal with the dangerous and intricate questions of foreign policy.

In this sense, he has enhanced his opportunities on this trip, and the likelihood is that on the basis of his record here, he will now get more executive responsibility in the future.

Truman Warns Butler Against Stirring Up Trouble in Party

Ex-President Tells Democratic Chairman His Job Is to Keep Harmony—Complete Agreement Reported.

By DREW PEARSON
(Copyright, 1959)

WASHINGTON.

THE MEETING which Democratic Chairman Butler had with House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senator Lyndon Johnson made headlines, but another important meeting did not. This was with former President Harry Truman at Independence, Mo.

Truman, friendly but blunt, gave Butler this advice:

"The job of the national chairman is to keep the party together. Not stir up trouble. When the party platform is adopted at each convention it's the job of the national chairman to carry it out. It's up to the chairman to see that there's harmony in the party.

Butler told the nation's No. 1 Democrat that he was sorry he had caused lack of harmony.

"When he left here," Truman said, "we were in complete agreement."

STATE DEPARTMENT officials have been worried about Vice President Nixon's trip to Poland.

Reason: he is likely to put the Polish government on the spot and undo some of the progress made in cementing American-Polish relations. The Poles are naturally friendly toward the United States and State Department officials were fearful that Nixon might get a warmer welcome than Premier Khrushchev. This, it was feared, might cause repercussions. It was even feared the Polish government might stir up some deliberate anti-Nixon demonstrations so the Polish people would not appear too friendly.

Nixon, however, overruled the State Department. He had made his plans even before he left the U.S.A., though they were announced later. What the Vice President has in mind was a chance to influence the huge bloc of Polish-American votes in Detroit, Chicago, Buffalo, and Milwaukee.

NEWSMEN WHO MET with the President at an off-the-record dinner recently are very close-mouthed about it, but report that Mr. Eisenhower was asked whom he favored as the Democratic nominee for President. He is reported to have replied:

"Spessard Holland, John Stennis or Frank Lausche."

Those present were incredulous, thought Mr. Eisenhower was joking. Senator Holland of Florida is a conservative Democrat who frequently votes with the Republicans. Senator Stennis of Mississippi is a loyal, able, Democrat, but couldn't carry a state north of the Mason-Dixon line. Senator Lausche of Ohio not only votes frequently with the Republicans, but couldn't make up his mind at first to side with the Democrats in the organization of the Senate.

However, the President apparently was dead serious.

"What about Lyndon Johnson?" he was asked.

There was significant pause.

"I think Sam Rayburn would be fine," Mr. Eisenhower replied. The silence meant that the unofficial alliance between Mr. Eisenhower and Johnson, which

Governors Meet in San Juan and Start Talking Realistic Preconvention Presidential Politics

RAYMOND P. BRANDT
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Aug. 3.

THE PATTERN OF THE preconvention campaigns of the unannounced presidential candidates is taking more definite shape at the fifty-first annual Governors' Conference in San Juan. The state executives, who have a large stake in the election next year, are talking more about realistic politics than national and international issues.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, the principal spokesman for Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, is telling his Democratic colleagues that they will decide who will be the next President. His slogan is "No favorite sons—no smoked filled rooms."

He wants his presently front-running Senator in as many primaries as possible, confident Kennedy can defeat all comers including some favorite sons.

On the other side, Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida wants no Democratic primary in his state like the 1956 battle between Adlai E. Stevenson and Estes Kefauver. Another slugging match could leave open wounds that would still be hurting in the November election.

Collins's favorite son is Senator George Smathers, with the understanding that the state leaders would select a slate of representative delegates who could decide after a few roll calls the candidate or candidates they would really support.

Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin is in a similar situation. He wants no primary between Kennedy and Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of nearby Minnesota for the same reason. His favorite son is Senator William Proximire. He thinks the state's delegation should decide at the convention which serious candidate it could support and stick with him as long as practicable. Nelson and Collins deny they are out to stop Kennedy.

WITH NO ANNOUNCED candidates, Kennedy alone has more than one state he can rely on. In addition to Massachusetts, he has Connecticut almost solely because Ribicoff is the undisputed leader of the state. The other Democratic potentials at this time can rely only on their own states: Humphrey, Minnesota; Senator Stuart Symington, Missouri; Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas; Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown, California; Gov. Robert B. Meyner, New Jersey; Gov. Mennen Williams, Michigan.

Gov. Orville Freeman is backing Humphrey and Gov. James T. Blair is talking Symington. Govs. Brown, Meyner and Williams are here gently pleading their own cases.

Blair says that Symington has not told him he will be a serious candidate—and he doesn't need to. The Missouri Governor is doing his talking privately and asking no commitments. It's all done quietly among friends who may have a few questions.

GOV. RIBICOFF, energetically aided by Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts, is using more aggressive tactics and is not afraid to make a few enemies. He told a press conference that he had found a great sentimental feeling throughout the country for Adlai Stevenson but very few important men in the party who think he will be the 1960 nominee.

He salves this by adding that he believes Stevenson would have a major role to play in any Democratic nomination. He asserted that he did not consider Brown a serious presidential contender. He said he had recommended to Kennedy that he should keep his mind open about entering the California primary against Brown.

Ribicoff and Furcolo came armed with literature about Kennedy and are prepared to give the Massachusetts Senator's record on legislation affecting any particular region or state. They say Kennedy will make a formal announcement in December.

MEYNER HELD A PRESS conference in his own behalf but not to announce his presidential candidacy, about which he remains coy, saying he is content with his governorship. He was emphatic, however, that he would not accept the vice-presidential nomination, for which he is rarely mentioned.

Among the Republican governors it is taken for granted that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will get their presidential nomination unless Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York gets started soon and energetically as a contender.

Since his arrival here, the New York Republican has acted like a really serious contender but insists that at present he is not a candidate. At a press conference yesterday he was emphatic that he would not take second place on the ticket with Nixon.

(The Associated Press said Rockefeller stated he would decide by Nov. 1 on the basis of public opinion polls whether to

Output Expected to Continue to Expand Faster Than Available Markets for Indefinite Period.

By THOMAS W. OTTENAD
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.

IT IS DOUBTFUL that any Government program that might be devised could do more than slow the continuing decline in farm prices and income, a report released today warned.

In a review of technological advances in agriculture in relation to farm price support policies, the report predicted that agricultural production will continue to expand faster than available markets "for an indefinite period even though farm product prices decline substantially."

The 12-page study was made by a committee of the National Planning Association, a nonprofit private organization devoted to planning in agriculture, business and other fields. Several of the 26 members of the committee dissented from parts of the report although all joined in signing it.

While expressing doubt that any government action could do more than slow the rate of increase in farm production or the drop in farm income, the committee said that "in terms of equity" perhaps such a program would be sufficient.

"Perhaps the most that any government policies could or should attempt," the report stated, "is a sufficient increase in the bargaining power of farmers to permit a sharing of technical advance between producers and consumers."

THE STUDY found that the problem involved in formulating agricultural policies stems from the fact that technical advances are being adopted by farmers at a rate that causes agricultural production to increase faster than the demand for foods and other farm products.

It pointed out that farm output increased 23 per cent between 1950 and 1958 while population increased only 15 per cent. The increase in production, it noted, would have been even higher except for the soil bank programs and other planting restrictions.

Technical advances in farming are being adopted at such a rate that they are preventing the usual supply and demand forces from stabilizing supplies and prices at reasonable levels, the report stated. Taking note of the Government's efforts to curtail production and to purchase surplus crops, the study added:

"If the supplies now diverted to government storage and disposal, plus the potential supplies held in check by acreage allotments and the soil bank, were channeled through commercial markets, market prices would be much lower.

"Statistical analysis of farm prices and supply relationships indicate that farm income including Government payments, would drop by four to six billion dollars."

IT ESTIMATED that farm prices during the last six years would have been from 15 to 40 per cent lower if surplus crops had not been taken off the market through Government purchase or loan.

The committee saw little hope for disposing of increased agricultural production through "the traditional business practice of expanding markets."

It said many people "mistakenly believe" there are great possibilities for expanding the markets for food. Demand for food in the industrialized nations of the Western world is increasing very slowly, the report stated. It estimated the amount

Speculation vs. Planning

In a classic example of the type of thinking which has prevailed in the majority of urban development in the United States during the last century, G. J. Nooney, vice president of the Conduit Industrial Redevelopment Corp., has proposed that the blighted 15 blocks surrounding the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial be given over to industrial development.

In a thinly disguised stream of non-sequiturs, Mr. Nooney points out that the tradition of the St. Louis riverfront in the past 100 years has been solidly a commercial one, and that this tradition should be maintained.

It should be pointed out that industry on the riverfront was an organic development resulting from the large volume of river traffic during the now-gone steamboat era. With the death of large-scale river traffic of that type, it is absurd to believe that this "tradition" should be maintained, particularly in the area adjacent to a national park.

With tongue in cheek Mr. Nooney assures St. Louisans that this will be no haphazard development but a unified plan, since all of the proposals of individual commercial structures will be made simultaneously. Of course each landowner would be permitted to develop his own plot with a free hand, but apparently the fact that they will be submitted at the same time assures a unified master plan.

It is a pity that speculative interests continue to be masqueraded as urban planning. The St. Louis Board of Aldermen holds the key to the future of downtown St. Louis as a humane place to do business and as a place to live in. The feasibility of a planning board whose sole purpose would be the positive solution to the riverfront problem looms large in my mind.

Let us hope that this goal will be realized in spite of the pressure of land speculators.

Toll Bridge Experience

In connection with your editorial on plans for free bridges over the Ohio river, I had quite an interesting recent experience, coming up Kentucky Highway 56 from Morganfield, heading for Shawneetown to catch Route 13, on the way into St. Louis. I had the sad experience of being asked a 75-cent toll. Asked who owned the bridge, the keeper explained: "State of Kentucky." This seems a tremendous charge for crossing a little bridge, and at quite a profit. E. C. Behring

Disarmament Comes First

The lessons of the Geneva failure are few and simple:

The West will not abandon Berlin. Nor is Moscow likely to force the issue.

Western non-recognition of East Germany has brought her freedom no nearer. Moscow will not now release her voluntarily, nor the West seek her release by force.

Since it is highly improbable that either side plans to employ force, it is to the interest of both to end the insane waste of resources on instruments of force.

Disarmament is the nub, the German question secondary. Fear that a divided Germany jeopardizes peace is exaggerated. Both East and West too vividly recall her precipitation of two world wars to let her launch a third.

Reunification, restoration of human rights, indeed all problems of accommodation will be infinitely easier to solve once the guns are laid safely on the table.

Robert S. Field
Vineland, N.J.

For Union Control

Most of us recognize the need for labor unions and there is no doubt that they serve a useful purpose in the industrial development of our country. However when labor can arbitrarily shut down an entire industry such as steel, automotive and transportation, the situation has gone too far and corrective action should be taken at once.

Every person now out of work involuntarily or otherwise affected by a strike should write his Congressman now and demand that legislation be passed to bring the labor unions under the jurisdiction of the anti-trust monopoly laws.

The general welfare of this country will continue to be plagued by needless work stoppages until such time as unions are made both morally and legally responsible for their actions. J. D. Shute

Supreme Court at Work

Before Congress comes even close to passing any legislation that would restrict the United States Supreme Court by reducing its jurisdiction or through some other means, our lawmakers owe it to the American people to study the handiwork of Chief Justice Warren and the eight Associate Justices during the past term. The record shows the jurists on our highest bench working very hard at the important business of deciding the major cases that come to them from litigants and courts all over the country.

A good many of the Supreme Court's critics assume that the practice of the Justices is to decide against the Federal Government on virtually all occasions, that they go out of their way to upset laws that the Executive Department is trying to enforce.

Nothing could be much farther from the truth. Altogether, the Supreme Court decided 113 cases which it accepted for argument (actually it disposed of 1781 cases which were before it). Of the 113, a total of 86 involved the Federal Government or the government of a state. In 71 per cent of the Federal Government cases — almost three-quarters of all those in that category which it decided—the Supreme Court upheld the United States. For every time the Federal Government lost a case in the last term, it won three.

In deciding these and other cases of the 1958-59 term, the Supreme Court members threshed out the issues in decisions that sometimes found the high bench in complete agreement and other times split by the narrowest of margins. There were dissents in 69 of the 113 decided cases, a decrease to 61 per cent from 75 per cent last year, which in turn compared with 74 per cent 10 years ago.

Frequently the decisions go by a narrow margin and this tells us that the issues are close. There is no reason to be alarmed by the fact that there were 24 decisions in which the Supreme Court divided 5 to 4. This is about the average over the last three years.

That the Justices are behaving as independent, thoughtful jurists is proved by the fact that frequently in 5-to-4 splits two Eisenhower appointees—Chief Justice Warren and Justice Brennan—are on one side and three other Eisenhower appointees—Justices Harlan, Whittaker and Stewart—on the other. In close divisions one of the latter group may very well determine which way the decision goes.

Here is the order in which the Justices filed dissents in cases and the number of times each of them differed from the majority:

Douglas (Roosevelt)	39
Black (Roosevelt)	30
Warren (Eisenhower)	24
Whittaker (Eisenhower)	23
Frankfurter (Roosevelt)	20
Harlan (Eisenhower)	20
Brennan (Eisenhower)	17
Stewart (Eisenhower)	14
Clark (Truman)	12

On 11 occasions Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Douglas and Brennan dissented together. Thus two Eisenhower-appointed Justices joined two Roosevelt-appointed Justices in dissent in almost exactly one tenth of the cases decided. This shows how quickly the Justices settle into the work of sorting out the issues, not in terms of parties or backgrounds, but according to what they think is right.

There should not be too much emphasis on division or dissent. Each Justice spoke for the majority almost as often as each other Justice. Justice Brennan wrote 14 majority opinions. Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Whittaker and Stewart wrote 11 each. The others wrote somewhere between 11 and 14.

Before the Senate Judiciary Committee votes out any restrictive bills let it go over the work of the Supreme Court's recent term with the care that is due. For the record of the term—the decisions and the way in which the decisions were arrived at — is reason enough to discard all the spiteful bills now in the hopper.

Mrs. Sullivan's Food Plan

For the fourth time since 1954 Representative Leonor K. Sullivan of St. Louis is fighting for her stamp plan for the distribution of surplus foods, including fresh fruits and vegetables. Since the Administration and especially Secretary of Agriculture Benson are opposed, her prospect of success may not be overly bright.

Yet her plan would get far larger quantities of Government-owned foodstuffs to the needy than does the present distribution system. Its cost is slight compared with its benefits. To please the Administration, Mrs. Sullivan is willing to extend it to foreign countries under the law which now authorizes the use of customs receipts to purchase commodities not covered by the price support program.

Her proposal would not militate against the objectives of the present program, but it would get more food to the table instead of into warehouses and waste cans. It is difficult to understand the obduracy which sets itself against a plan so sensible and humane.

FAA Calls for Storm Radar

The Federal Aviation Agency, in proposing to make airborne weather radar mandatory on airliners, points the way to more safety and more passenger comfort in the sky. As is customary in making a new rule, the FAA is giving interested parties time for sending in comments or objections. It is expected the FAA will rule in October that weather radar must be installed on all airliners within a year.

The Air Line Pilots Association has for years urged such a decision. The FAA has been citing the "excellent safety record" of carriers which have radar. About 60 per cent of the nation's 2077 airliners are already equipped with this device for avoiding storms and severe turbulence. It remains for the Air Transport Association, made up of the trunk and feeder lines, to comment on the FAA notice.

An airborne radar set costs $9000, but this cost is small in comparison with the radar's value to a pilot flying on instruments or during visual flight at night. United Air Lines, the first company to put weather radar in all its planes, has reported that it is saving at least $575,000 annually in lowered maintenance, reduced fuel consumption and shortened pilot and crew flight times. It is hard to see how there could be any substantial reason for the air carriers, particulary trunk lines, to oppose the installation of this device which has both an economic and a safety value.

Mr. Nixon's Moscow Speech

Vice President Nixon made an excellent speech in Moscow. He balanced very skillfully what he had to say about basic policy with compliments to the Russian people and a moving appeal for mutual understanding and peace. He told his radio and television audience many things about American purposes which the Russians have little opportunity to hear. Yet he wisely refrained from belligerence and boasting. On the whole, his tone was just right.

It was a quite extraordinary event. If anybody had predicted a few years ago that the Vice President of the United States would be given free access to the Russian people in this way, he would have been considered foolish. A fundamental change has taken place in the relations between our two nations, and it would be a mistake to overlook this change in formulating our own foreign policy.

It takes self-confidence and a sense of inner strength for a totalitarian regime to permit such a breach in its control of communication. These qualities the Russians have attained under Khrushchev, and they must be major factors in our own policy planning. Any lingering supposition that we could successfully engineer a collapse of the Communist regime from within must have been dealt a death blow during Mr. Nixon's visit.

Mr. Nixon did well to use the occasion for a frank reply to Russian criticisms—above all, the stock complaint against our overseas bases. This was a difficult task because no people likes to feel that it is living with a loaded pistol aimed at its head. Our own country, if it were in the same situation, would complain just as strongly. Yet the West must maintain the power of retaliation so long as danger of military aggression exists. And that danger cannot be considered past until disarmament, internationally controlled and inspected, is achieved.

If the Russian people are indeed finally resolved to achieve their legitimate aims by peaceful methods only, then the best way to express this determination is to co-operate in disarmament. Our own country should miss no opportunity to reiterate its own dedication to that goal.

Watering Down Civil Rights

In beginning its second week of work on a civil rights bill, the House Judiciary Committee seems bent on avoiding, if possible, a repetition of last year's controversy on the issue.

First a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats mustered enough committee votes to knock the 1958 Section 3 from the bill. This section would let the Attorney General seek injunctions to protect all rights, not voting rights alone. The Eisenhower Administration supported the section last year but has since retreated from the fight it assures with Southern Congressmen.

What was then left in the bill was largely what the President had proposed—extending the term of the Civil Rights Commission, giving the Attorney General authority to inspect federal vote records, adding statutory force to the President's commission on fair employment practices in government contracts, and making it a federal crime to cross a state line to escape prosecution for bombing a church or school.

The committee accepted the first two points. It deleted the third on discrimination in federal employment. It strengthened the fourth to include bombings of any type of property. What Congressman would openly oppose voting rights, or defend bombings? The bill has been cut down closely to this low standard of political acceptability.

Yet even if the effort were justified, is it possible to write a non-controversial civil rights bill? The committee measure will certainly not be the bill that finally emerges from floor and conference action or possible last-minute horse-trades involving labor reform and other disputed legislation.

Civil rights ought to be considered on their merits alone and, with respect to the first ten amendments to the Constitution, there should be no question of what those merits are.

To Assist Junior Colleges

Illinois State Superintendent of Public Instruction George T. Wilkins has called attention to two bills, passed by the Legislature at Springfield and signed by Gov. Stratton, which promise to facilitate the junior college movement as a means of relieving some of the rising pressure on college and university facilities.

One bill authorizes the establishment of area junior colleges if two or more high school districts join hands for that purpose. The other establishes the state aid financial formula at approximately $228 per year for a student who carries 30 hours of college work. So far 19 communities which do not have junior colleges, three counties and three townships have applied for authority to set up junior colleges. The list of communities which have made inquiry includes Canton, Decatur, Olney, Eldorado, Flora, Harrisburg, Ruma-Red Bud, Freeport, Kankakee, Kewanee, Rockford, Sparta and Watseka.

Expansion of the junior college movement is particularly appropriate in Illinois since the first junior college based on a high school system and its facilities was established in Joliet in 1901. Since then 13 junior college districts with 18 colleges have been established. Those in Southern and Central Illinois are at Belleville, Centralia, Mount Vernon, Danville and La Salle. Chicago has six and others are at Cicero, Elgin, Harvey and La Grange.

Using an existing high school plant, a junior college can operate at minimum cost for space and facilities. It also is elastic in that it can expand or decrease as enrollment rises or falls. Given well-trained faculties, these two-year institutions can help prepare students for fields of specialization at full four-year colleges and universities. They can also help sort out students who will be content with one or two years of college from those who will qualify for four-year degrees.

In view of the possibilities of the junior college movement, Superintendent of Instruction Wilkins makes a sound move in providing Illinois with its first full-time junior college supervisor in his office.

What a Khrushchev Visit Might Accomplish

Only Way to Sound Out Soviet Intentions Is to Ask Russian Premier, in British View

From The Economist, London

The only Russian President Eisenhower has ever before considered having as a house-guest was Marshal Zhukov. But, diplomatically, an informal get-together at the White House with Premier Khrushchev seems likely to be a more effective way of doing business than a full-blown conference of heads of government.

The main purpose of a summit exercise is to give the Americans and Russians a chance to talk directly to the point, something that is not always possible when there are other people in the conference room.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

A visit to Washington by Mr. Khrushchev would cut short the wrangle over what constitutes visible progress by the foreign ministers. It would avoid the side issues of whether Poles, Czechs and Italians should attend or not. It might also set a limit to the influence, on both sides, of those Germans whose political interest is served by the continuance of East-West tension.

If, in fact, the foreign ministers stay at loggerheads, the logical recourse should not be to the four- or six-power summit, which can always come later, but to a direct Russo-American confrontation simply to see if there is anything now to be said that Mr. Gromyko does not have the authority to say.

There seems to be no legitimate British interest that would suffer from Mr. Macmillan's exclusion from such a parley; after all, he has had his say with Mr. Khrushchev already this year. Britain is not likely to dissent from any Russo-American understanding on either Germany or nuclear tests. General de Gaulle might. But for sheer convenience's sake there is a good deal to be said for nominating Mr. Macmillan and Gen. De Gaulle as founder members of the non-summit club.

But has Mr. Khrushchev anything to say to President Eisenhower, on Germany or anything else, that Mr. Gromyko has not already said at Geneva? It is possible that he might have. Mr. Macmillan returned from Moscow convinced that Mr. Khrushchev is the only Russian whom it is worth doing business with. Mr. Khrushchev would probably not dissent from this estimate. His final terms for anything must come from his own mouth.

—New York Herald Tribune.

Repairs May Be in Order.

To discover what these terms are, the West must test him personally, and test him with something more purposeful than the package deal offered to Mr. Gromyko at Geneva.

Whatever traces may remain in formal Marxist dogma, Mr. Khrushchev's bid for world power no longer depends on the theses of capitalist slump and Communist revolution. In place of the slump he puts, as he told Mr. Harriman, the contrast between the 2 per cent annual growth of the United States economy and the faster pace the Soviet Union means to keep up even after American production has been overhauled.

In place of world revolution, he relies on the underdeveloped world's admiration for Soviet living standards which, according to Mr. Kozlov, will be unsurpassed in 15 years' time. These calculations may go wildly wrong without upsetting Soviet self-confidence in the final issue.

When placed in the context of the nuclear stalemate, the new Soviet emphasis on outclassing the United States economically suggests logically some form of political accommodation between the two world blocs. It could easily take a decade to bring about even a limited arrangement.

But among the more significant developments of 1959 may be counted the increase in Russo-American contacts, and not least the travels of younger political figures like Mr. Nixon and Mr. Kozlov. The leaders on both sides need at least to understand how opponents' minds work.

If the West is to plumb the deeper currents in Soviet policy the only way is still to sound Mr. Khrushchev himself. The job can be done better in Washington than anywhere else.

No Huckleberries? From the New York Herald Tribune

"Blueberries are ripe," says the Vineyard Gazette. This is one of the many items which come as delightful news from an island world. But why, we feel compelled to ask, is there no mention of huckleberries?

The once free blueberry is cultivated commercially nowadays. But nobody tries to cultivate huckleberries. A huckleberry is wild and tameless, but the blueberry is easily transplanted. A proud gardener can be found who will point to a row of cultured blueberries in back of his garage. These are often as large as cranberries and have the fine color of an unedible delphinium.

We believe that huckleberries taste better than blueberries. A huckleberry may have more seeds and a tougher skin, but it is sweeter and juicier and makes darn sight better pies. We are ready to back a mountain-top or upland pasture huckleberry against any high or low bush blueberry that ever grew in a swamp and got itself eaten by a dismal mourning dove or a twilight rabbit.

We are glad to know that blueberries are ripe in Tisbury and other sea-scented places of Dukes county. We hope that there are blueberry pies neighboring slices of swordfish. But we wish the Gazette had said something about the prevalence and status of island huckleberries. Certainly there must be happy islanders who are picking huckleberries and eating 'em for supper in a bowl of milk.

Between Book Ends

THE HOUSE OF INTELLECT, by Jacques Barzun. (Harper, 269 pgs., $5.)

People who are sick of hearing about round-table conferences, committee reports, educational processes, creativity, the P.-T.A., people-to-people diplomacy, learning is living, influence for goodwill in a troubled world, education as entertainment and helping each student "increasingly to develop as a well-balanced individual" will find this book gratifying. Jacques Barzun dislikes them all, too, and he knows why. They are some of the indications of the current supremacy of three enemies of Intellect: philanthropy, science and art.

Jacques Barzun

Intellect Mr. Barzun defines as "the form intelligence takes in the artificial products called learning. As knowledge is to intelligence, so learning is to Intellect." And he sees Intellect as an austere edifice from which is ruled a limited province. "It cares little for happiness and puts other virtues ahead of good-will."

Art is an enemy of Intellect because it can exist without learning. "Painters, sculptors, musicians, actors, dancers, even poets and playwrights," Mr. Barzun notes, "resemble engineers and physical scientists in that they can follow modes of thought other than those of discursive intellect."

And science, he finds, "through the increasing fantasy of its concepts and symbols, through its diverging technical tongues, has also receded from the common world and helped to break up the unity of knowledge."

The philanthropic enemy is embodied not only in the great foundations, which Mr. Barzun knows well and unfavorably, but in the doctrine of "free and equal opportunity when applied to things of the mind." This diffused good-will, he believes, corrupts both judgment and the products of intellect themselves.

In his chapter on language Mr. Barzun makes an astringent attack on the drift toward incoherence and bland verbosity in what passes for serious writing today. As might be expected, he also comes out for purism in usage, not minding that this position is demonstrably unscientific—language being one of the areas in which science and Intellect are at war.

This makes his own lapses a little more jarring than usual. These include a tiresome repetition of "cliche" and "thought-cliche" for "fallacy" and a couple of dangling participles.

It seems like impertinent carping to bring up these linguistic annoyances in the discussion of such a brilliant work, but then Mr. Barzun makes it quite clear that he has chosen to live by the sword. Ethel Strainchamps

The Hawaiians in Congress

WASHINGTON.

REPUBLICANS ARE REJOICING in a shower of sunshine from the new Aloha State. Last week they captured the state government and elected one of its first two Senators despite an apparent Democratic majority in the islands. Democrats elected the other Senator and the lone Representative.

It is a shot in the arm for the Republicans after their severe losses in Congress last fall, and they are making the most of it with happy rhetoric about the "comeback trail." Incidentally, the G.O.P. winners are already in receipt of congratulatory cablegrams from Siberia and signed, Dick Nixon. The Hawaiian result can only be helpful in infusing new spirit into the present minority and will, they hope, encourage its backers to start unzipping their pocketbooks. Democrats are correspondingly on notice that each American election stands on its own.

Fleeson

In the United States Senate, the effect will be a stand-off, with the new Senators dependent upon the luck of the draw to see which one gets the long term and which one the short term. The Democratic House gain of one goes specifically to the embattled band of Democratic liberals.

Issues Were Local.

This 1960-conscious capital is already asking what the Hawaiian returns mean in presidential terms. The answer from island experts on the scene is, "not much."

William Ewing, managing editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, summed up the election as "a nice victory for the Republicans but the issues were local." He also was very strongly of the opinion that the best candidates and best campaigns paid off, irrespective of party.

The Star-Bulletin is owned by the family of the late Joseph R. Farrington, a Republican who for years was the territorial delegate here. With his wife, Betty, an active Republican politician in her own right, the popular Farrington long plowed the statehood ground. Ewing was formerly the newspaper's Washington correspondent.

Bipartisan Union Stand.

In a telephone interview, Ewing also expressed the view that the Democratic candidate for Governor, John A. Burns, now the non-voting delegate to Congress, was hurt by his long record of support from Harry Bridges's International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. Bridges is controversial, and his union has been under sustained attack for radicalism.

However, the Republican who beat Burns—William F. Quinn, the territorial appointive Governor—refused to use the issue. In general, the I.L.W.U. indorsed Democrats but, ironically for Burns, the union included the victorious Republican Senator, Hiram L. Fong, among those candidates it approved.

Washington will soon realize that Fong is on hand, Ewing suggested. The new Senator, son of a Chinese immigrant, is six-feet-one, weighs 200 pounds and has a million dollars he made himself after winning a Phi Beta Kappa key at Harvard.

Rival to Humphrey.

He has been speaker of the territorial House and Senator Hubert Humphrey, the veteran of eight hours' talk with Khrushchev, is hereby warned he has a rival.

Ewing emphasized that the race issue did not enter the campaign. This is the issue which long kept Hawaii out of the union.

The Democratic Representative, Daniel K. Inouye, is a one-armed Nisei war hero. The Democratic Senator is former Governor Oren E. Long, a quiet man who taught school to many islanders and then ran their schools for years as superintendent of Public Instruction.

'CARMEN' TO BEGIN TONIGHT AT OPERA

Jean Madeira, Robert Rounseville in Main Roles.

"Carmen," by Georges Bizet, will open tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the Municipal Opera in Forest Park for a week's engagement. Jean Madeira and Robert Rounseville will star in the opera to be performed in the English adaptation.

The plot, which first appeared in a short story by Prosper Merimee, concerns a Spanish gypsy whose fickleness with men incites one of her jealous suitors to kill her. The setting is in Seville in 1876.

"Carmen" first appeared at the Municipal Opera in 1953, with Miss Madeira and Rounseville in the feature roles then also. As in 1953, much of the opera will be spoken. All of the major arias and musical selections, including "Flower Song," "Habanera" and "Toreador Song," will be intact, however.

Miss Madeira, who was born in Centralia, Ill., and reared and trained in St. Louis, has become widely known for her portrayals of Carmen. She has played the role in Vienna, South America, at the Metropolitan Opera in New York and in many other cities.

Rounseville will portray Don Jose, the soldier who was cajoled by Carmen into deserting the army and taking up smuggling. He has appeared regularly on the "Voice of Firestone" on television.

Other principals in "Carmen" will be Lee Venora as Micaela; Norman Treigle as Escamillo; Emile Renan as El Dancaire; Helen Cox Raab as Mercedes; Claire Alexander as Frasquita; Edmund Lyndeck as Zuniga; Richard Fredericks as Morales, and Walter Richardson as El Remendado. Melissa Hayden and Jacques D'Amboise will be featured dancers.

Miss Raab, a contralto from East St. Louis, will be making her professional operatic debut in a principal role.

Twenty boys selected from the St. Louis public schools will sing in the children's chorus. They have been under the direction of Helen Louise Graves, consultant for vocal music to the public schools system.

EX-CONGRESSWOMAN MARY T. NORTON DIES

New Jersey Democrat Served in House for 26 Years.

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Mary T. Norton, first woman Democrat in Congress, died of a heart attack in Greenwich hospital yesterday. She was 84 years old.

Mrs. Norton rose through New Jersey politics and was named to run for Congress in 1924 by Frank Hague, who headed the Jersey City Democratic organization.

She was elected and stayed in Congress for 26 years. On her seventy-fifth birthday, in 1950, she announced that she would not seek re-election.

Her career in government was not over, however. Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin appointed her a special consultant to the Labor Department on "womanpower," and she served until the end of the Truman Administration.

In her early years in Congress she drew considerable attention by calling for the repeal of prohibition, at a time when most Congressmen were avoiding the subject. She introduced the first resolution calling for repeal.

Her congressional career set a record for length of service by a woman legislator. For five years she headed the House committee on the District of Columbia, the first woman to ever head a congressional committee. She became chairman of the House Labor Committee in 1937 and held that post for 10 years.

She was a strong New Dealer, helping to guide and later defend the Roosevelt Administration's wage and hours legislation. She also championed the Fair Employment Practices Act.

She maintained her support of the Hague organization throughout her career. Twice she served as chairman of the New Jersey State Democratic Committee, from 1932 to 1935 and from 1940 to 1944. In 1944 she became a member of the Democratic National Committee.

In 1947, she was named "outstanding Catholic woman of the year."

She was married to Robert F. Norton, a business man, in 1909. He died in 1934. Their only child died soon after birth.

Mrs. Norton came to Greenwich three years ago.

In 1941 he was appointed commodore of coastal and ocean convoys. After the war he was assigned his first Cunard command, the Fort Cadotte. He served as staff captain on the two Queens and master of the liner Ascania and other Cunard vessels before taking command of the 81,000-ton Queen Mary.

QUEEN TO UNDERGO TESTS FOR FATIGUE

Elizabeth and Philip Home From Canada—Greeted by Thousands.

LONDON, Aug. 3 (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth's doctors will examine her today to determine whether she was unduly fatigued by her extensive tour of Canada, London newspapers reported.

The News Chronicle (Liberal) said Sir John Weir, one of the Queen's physicians, canceled a vacation in Scotland to make the examination. Most London newspapers said the examination will determine whether the doctors will allow the Queen to carry out a schedule of public appearances for the next few weeks.

There has been widespread criticism here of the heavy schedule laid out for the Queen on the Canadian tour, which included a side trip to Chicago. Today's newspapers agreed that she looked tired on her return yesterday.

Thousands of persons, including tourists as well as Londoners, gathered at the gates of Buckingham palace to cheer and wave as Elizabeth and Prince Philip drove up from the airport.

The Comet jetliner which brought the royal couple home from Halifax was greeted by a party including Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret, the 10-year-old Prince of Wales and little Princess Anne.

By the Associated Press.

There was an official welcoming party headed by Prime Minister Macmillan and Home Secretary Richard A. Butler.

Just before the Comet landed, detectives grabbed a middle-aged man, who struggled briefly before two airport policemen took him off. The police explained:

"This man is known as an over-loyal eccentric. He said he wanted to present a loyal address to Her Majesty on her return from Canada."

He was freed after the welcoming ceremony.

SOVIET JEWS AFRAID, ST. LOUISAN ASSERTS

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—Russian Jews "feel better off under Khrushchev than they did under Stalin, but they are still afraid," Sam Shaikewitz of St. Louis said here yesterday.

Shaikewitz, national commander of the Jewish War Veterans, returned to this country on Saturday after a two-week tour of the Soviet Union.

The tour was sponsored by Arms of Friendship, Inc., an organization formed to establish contact between American and Russian war veterans.

At a press conference at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, where the Jewish War Veterans are holding their sixty-fourth convention, Shaikewitz said the Jewish synagogue in the Ukrainian city of Kharkov has been turned into a planetarium and propaganda center by the Soviet government.

He said he had been told there was another synagogue in the city but was unable to find it. One Jewish resident there intimated that the Jews were conducting religious services in a private home, Shaikewitz said.

In Fimferopol in the Crimea Shaikewitz, he was told by a resident that the government planned to close the local synagogue.

Recent reports from other sources have indicated widespread fear among Jews in the Soviet Union because a number of synagogues have been closed and other steps taken against Jews, Shaikewitz told reporters.

Shaikewitz, a Marine Corps veteran of World War II, lives at 7525 Buckingham drive, Clayton.

MRS. NIXON PAYS VISIT TO FAMOUS POLISH SURGEON

WARSAW, Aug. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Richard Nixon met one of Poland's famous surgeons today—a man who has devised a new method for treatment of curvature of the spine resulting from polio.

Dr. Adam Gruca took the Vice President's wife into his office in a Warsaw hospital and laughingly suggested that they interview each other.

He was prepared to discuss the work of the famous orthopedic clinic, but Mrs. Nixon told him she came to say hello to some of the child patients as she had done throughout the tour of Russia.

"I don't want to examine anything," she said. "I know it is good."

Mrs. Nixon's party visited the wards and she gave a gretting, handshake and a cheery word to the youngsters.

YOUNG U.S. GUIDES TOP ATTRACTION AT MOSCOW SHOW

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—The young American guides at the United States exhibit in Moscow are reported to be a top attraction of the show.

Paul Conroy, United States Information Agency trainer for the guides, reported yesterday that thousands of Russians show more interest in questioning the Russian-speaking Americans than in the glittering hardware the guides are supposed to show off.

The Russians ask about the American way of living, unemployment, wages and costs, about United States bases overseas and whether Americans want peace. Conroy said few of the questions are hostile.

Conroy shepherded 75 of the specially picked guides by ship and train to Moscow. About five others joined the group in Mossow. One surprise to the Russians, said Conroy, are the four Negroes on the guide force. Their advanced education amazes the Russians as well as the equal treatment given them among the guides, Conroy said.

G. M. MAY STUDY POSSIBLE LINK OF EXHAUST, CANCER

© New York Times News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—General Motors is considering financing a study of the possible link between automobile exhaust fumes and lung cancer. In a related move the automotive company reported to be developing a filter that would cut the noxious fumes recognized as a contributor to air pollution.

The proposed cancer study would be carried out by the Sloan-Kettering Institute for cancer research. It would be the first such project sponsored by a single automobile manufacturer.

In the last five years the industry through its Automobile Manufacturers Association has allotted more than $6,000,000 for air pollution research, primarily for smog control.

Automobile exhaust fumes have been described by medical scientists as a potential cause of lung and skin cancers and other diseases. However, there has been no proof to support the premise.

Officials of General Motors said the cancer-exhaust project still was in the "talging stage" and how much it would cost would not be decided until the institute outlined the full scope of the venture.

Cards Return Home in Seventh Place From Rough 4-9 Trip

Birds Drop 3 Out of 4 To Braves In Windup

By Neal Russo

Solly Hemus, after listening to words of encouragement from Leo Durocher in Milwaukee, today still was hopeful of a good finish despite the Cardinals' 4-9 trip.

"Your boys will snap out of it," said Lippy. "I remember taking the Dodgers out West one year and we lost all 13 games on that trip. But we bounced back."

Manager Hemus's men rebounded in the Sunday opener, 4-3, breaking the Braves' winning streak at four games. However, the journey ended as it started, with a crushing defeat, 11-5, in the second game before a full house of 42,732 at County Stadium.

Although the split dropped the Redbirds into seventh place in the National League, the traffic is so thick behind the Big Three that the Cardinals are just two games out of fourth place.

With that tight situation in mind, Hemus looked ahead to his club's schedule advantage the rest of the way. Of the Cardinals' 48 remaining games, 30 will be played at Busch Stadium where they have had a cozy 26-21 record.

23-35 Record on Road.

On the road, the log shows 23-35, not including an unfinished symphony in Pittsburgh with the Cardinals trailing in the ninth, 5-4, with one out and a man on first.

"We've always hit well in our park and our batters just started to bust out again in the doubleheader Sunday," Hemus said. "Our pitching is straightening out, too. There's still a long way to go."

Even though the Braves beat Solly's team three out of four in Milwaukee, the manager stuck to the Giants as "the team to beat because of power and first-line pitching." The Braves, Hemus's pre-season choice, fell into third place as a result of the Sunday split. They trail San Francisco by one game and Los Angeles by half a game.

Another floundering team, Pittsburgh, opens the Cardinals' 14-game home stand tomorrow night. After three games with the Pirates, the Birds will meet the Phillies in five, the Giants in two and the Dodgers in four.

If the Cardinals are to pick up ground at friendly Busch Stadium, they'll have to improve greatly on that 2.3 runs-a-game pace on their latest trip. The enemy averaged 5.6 runs a game, collecting 33 extra-base hits to 18 for the Birds. The Cardinals' rivals out-homered them, 10 to 4.

McDaniel Rescues Jackson.

It took superb pitching by Larry Jackson with late help from Lindy McDaniel to avert a Milwaukee sweep Sunday. Going into the ninth with a two-hitter and a 4-2 lead, Jackson yielded one run on three singles and had runners on first and second with one out. McDaniel took over, coming through with his twelfth save of the season as Johnny Logan hit into a double play.

The Redbirds had jumped in front with a first-inning run on a hit batsman and singles by Gino Cimoli and Bill White. However, the Braves tied it in their half on Bobby Avila's single, a wild pitch, a passed ball by J. W. Porter and Joe Adcock's long fly.

After Adcock put the defending champions ahead with his thirteenth homer in the sixth, St. Louis regained the lead with two seventh-inning runs. The Birds bunched singles by Cimoli, Ken Boyer and Joe Cunningham with Avila's second error.

What turned out to be the winning run also resulted from an error in the ninth. Boyer delivered his fourth straight single and took second on Hank Aaron's fumble. Don McMahon, in relief of loser Joey Jay, then had Boyer picked off second by several yards but threw into left-center and Ken went all the way home.

Bill Bruton, a lefthanded batter who isn't supposed to be able to hit southpaw pitching, threw the percentage players for a big loss in the second game. Twice he blasted long triples with three on and both times a lefty was on the mound, first Wilmer Mizell, then Dean Stone.

"The only reason Bruton hasn't hit lefthanded pitching is that he seldom has played against lefthanders," said Braves' teammate Del Rice later in the clubhouse.

Mizell's Seventh Loss.

Mizell, suffering his seventh loss to go with 11 victories, had himself to blame for much of his misfortune. In the Braves' four-run first inning, the key hit of four was Eddie Mathews's bunt to Mizell, with George Crowe failing to cover first base. After walking Andy Pafko intentionally, Mizell kept a curve too high and Bruton pounded a triple to center.

The Cardinals crept up on Lew Burdette with Cunningham's single and Crowe's fifth homer in the fourth inning and Mizell's single and Cimoli's thirty-sixth double in the fifth. That made it 4-3.

In the home fifth, however, Mizell grew careless again. After

Steering Maplewood Legion Toward Title

St. Louis Jr. Legion Teams Win

By Bob Ruhl

Maplewood Coach Pete Palumbo has a rather exacting theory concerning what is necessary to win in American Legion Junior baseball tournament play. It's sort of a third-man theme on pitching.

He hasn't had to put his theory to work yet, since his two righthanded aces, Bill (Buff) Neumann and Jim Card, each striking out 19 batters, formed a winning duet in hurling the County Division champions to an inter-district title over the weekend.

Maplewood, getting a four-hit effort by Neumann Saturday night, defeated host Washington, 11-1. Yesterday at Maplewood, the champions got a four-hit job by Card to win, 3-0, in the best-of-three series.

Aubuchons Come Back.

But St. Louis's other inter-district champion, Aubuchon- Dennison, knows all about the theory. The City champions had the answers at Hannibal where in order to take their title they were forced to win a doubleheader yesterday, 8-2 and 11-4. Hannibal won Saturday night, 1-0.

"We need that third winning pitcher to be successful in the tournaments," Palumbo said. The statement makes Palumbo sound as greedy as Ebenezer Scrooge. After all, Neumann and Card gave Maplewood an outstanding pitching duo in Legion circles.

But the veteran coach knows where of he speaks. Without a third pitcher able to supply a winning effort, a tournament team has it's back to the wall because of imposed inning and time curtailments on youthful hurlers.

The third man in Maplewood's plans is John Hotz, a 6-2, 175-pound curve-baller tabbed as promising by Palumbo. Hotz has made a few appearances this season and is highly regarded by the coaching staff.

Like Me and Paul.

Maplewood's two weekend victories were examples of stellar pitching combined with near-flawless fielding and timely hitting. At Washington, Neumann, a hefty hard-firing moundsman who got fine results from his cross-firing, was the king on the hill, and his teammates backed him up with 14 hits and sure fielding.

Card, a lean righthander with a snappy asortment of curves and a quick fast ball, overwhelmed Washington on the Maplewood field. His mound opponent was Ken Triplett Jr., son of the Washington coach.

Again the County division champions were sharp afield and they made six hits pay off for the runs needed to win. Maplewood scored in the first when lead-off man Jerry Chipps singled, moved to third on a passed ball and a fielder's choice, and counted on Joe Musiol's squeeze bunt.

Maplewood finished its run-making in the second when a single and two errors put men on second and third from where they scored on Card's sacrifice fly and Chipps's first of two triples.

Cochran Stars.

Lefthander Jim Cochran was the key to Aubuchon-Dennison's victory in its final game. The 5-11, 165-pounder, the team's regular first baseman, gave up seven hits and registered 12 strikeouts. Shortstop Jerry Buchek led the 13-hit attack, driving home seven runs with a double and three singles.

Righthander Jim Birch allowed just two hits in the first game of the doubleheader, two singles in the third inning. The fast-baller

Cunningham Hitting .343 After .362 Clip on Road

Joe Cunningham, tuning up for the second All-Star Game with five singles against the Braves Sunday, batted at a .362 clip during the Cardinals' trip to raise his average three points, to .343.

Bill White is among the regulars who could do with some home cooking, for his road mark was .235. The two-week drouth cost him 15 percentage points in his season average. He went from .345 to .330.

Other trip averages: Don Blasingame .283, Hal Smith .257, Ken Boyer .255, Gino Cimoli .188, Alex Grammas .168 and Stan Musial .160. Getting just four hits, all singles in 25 at-bats, Musial slipped from .271 to .260. He failed to drive in a run on the trip.

Among the part-time performers, Wally Shannon had 5-for-16, a .400 pace; George Crowe was .308 on 4-for-13 with two homers; Gene Oliver was at .125 with 2-for-16, and Ray Jablonski went hitless in nine chances.

Boyer's wife, Kathleen, gave birth to their third child and second son, Danny, Saturday night. Then early Sunday morning Shannon and his wife Shirley became parents of their first child, a daughter, Kelly.

Miller Checks Braves.

Bob Miller, 20-year-old bonus righthander, impressed as he mowed down the Braves' sluggers in a two-inning mop-up job in the second game. Just called up from Rochester, the former Beaumont High star disposed of Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock in the seventh inning. Andy Pafko's single was the only hit off him in the eighth.

"I was using my slider a lot," said happy Miller. "I got Aaron out with it. Sal Maglie (Cardinals' special pitching coach) has helped me a lot with my breaking stuff. It was nice to get my feet wet out there."

J. J. (Doggie) Lynch, long-time sentry at the Cardinals' clubhouse at Busch Stadium, watched the entire series in Milwaukee.

Great Stop by Boyer.

Boyer made a brilliant stab of Joey Jay's liner just off the ground in the third inning of the opener. . . . Shannon turned in a good stop on Lew Burdette's deeply-hit grounder in the fourth inning of the second game, then threw him out. . . . Johnny Logan got only one hit in the series. . . . The butter-fingered Braves committed seven errors in the doubleheader.

Just one year ago, the Braves completed a four-game sweep of the Giants to pull five games ahead of second-place San Francisco. At the same time, the Cardinals failed to score a run in three full games and a suspended game at Pittsburgh and fell to last place.

American to Start Patched-Up Team in Star Game at L.A. Today

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3 (UPI) —The National League was favored to score a repeat victory over the American League today in the second major-lague All-Star baseball game of 1959 —but just who will be playing for each team was a mystery.

One thing for certain: Don Drysdale, speed-ball merchant of the Los Angeles Dodgers, will be on the mound for the National League.

But:

Eddie Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves will sit this one out and Ken Boyer of the St. Louis Cards will play third base for the Nationals. Mathews has a hip injury.

Ryne Duren, originally scheduled to start on the mound for the Americans, is "very doubtful" according to Manager Casey Stengel because he pitched three and two-thirds innings yesterday for the Yankees against Kansas City.

The choice of the American League starter is as mixed up as some of Manager Casey Stengel's conversation. Casey had indicated he would start with Camilio Pascual of the Washington Senators, but Pascual left a game in the eighth inning Friday night with a sore arm—and it's still sore. So he's out. The latest information is that the Stengel choice will be rookie Jerry Walker of Baltimore, who at 20 may be the youngest all-star in history. Walker has won eight, lost five, and has a fine 2.65 earned-run average.

Cepeda Hurts Wrist.

Orlando Cepeda, first baseman in the first All-Star clash won by the Nationals at Pittsburgh, 5-4, on July 7, withdrew because of a wrist injury.

Gus Triandos, Baltimore catcher, withdrew because of an injured hand and the American League squad also lost Harvey Kuenn of Detroit and Gil McDouglas of New York, scratched because of ailments. They were replaced by Tony Kubek and Bobby Richardson, both of the Yankees. Earlier the Yankees' Bill Skowron injured his hand and was replaced by Elston Howard.

But there will be stars galore, headed by ageless Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals on the field.

Haney Has Fewer Changes.

Manager Fred Haney of the National League will return with just about the same line-up that he used in Pittsburgh.

Haney is using Johnny Temple at second; Boyer at third; Hank Aaron, right field; Willie Mays, center field; Ernie Banks, shortstop; Musial, first base; Wally Moon, left field; Del Crandall, catcher, and they'll bat in that order.

This may be the final all-star showing for the two big men in this cast: Williams and Musial.

Terrible Ted, the Boston Red Sox slugger, is making his sixteenth appearance and has a life-time average in this fray of .317. Musial, the grand old man of the Cardinals, is on the roster for the seventeeth time and has averaged .307 during that time against the finest hurling in the business.

Crowd Estimate Tumbles.

But both men have sad batting averages this season and the ravages of time may send them to the bench before another campaign.

This is the first all-star game to be played on the West coast—but the fans didn't take to it the way it had been hoped. The heat wave, plus television, will be keeping many of them at home—possibly leaving at least 40,000 seats empty in the giant stadium.

And some of the players don't care for the show, either. Temple said yesterday in Cincinnati that the players had "voted against holding a second all-star game," but they had been forced to go through with it when it was found that radio and television contracts already had been made.

2 St. Louis Bike Riders In Pan-Am.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP)—Two St. Louis cyclists whizzed across the finish line first and second yesterday to gain berths on United States cycling squad for Pan-American Games. Joe Becker was first, followed closely by George Van Meter.

Erhard Neuman, also of St. Louis, was third. All were on the United States Olympic squad in 1956.

The St. Louisans will join four other cyclists, who qualified for the six-man team Saturday in similar 100-mile time trial. They are Bob Tetzlaff, Los Angeles; Mike Hiltner, Pacific Palisades, Calif.; Tom O'Rourke, Detroit, and Bernard Dodd, Quincy, Mass.

Leaders Triumph in Inter-City Circuit

Collinsville and East St. Louis kept their front-running positions in Southwestern Illinois Inter-City League baseball yesterday by downing high-ranking rivals.

Collinsville's Boosters increased their lead in the Red Division to 3½ games over second-place Sacred Heart by thumping the Hearts, 10-3. Bob Kovacic, beating the Hearts for the third time, had a 8-0 shutout until Paul Schuler hit a two-run homer in the eighth. Wally Rosenkranz led the winners with three hits, just as he did Saturday night in a non-league victory over State Savings, 8-4.

East St. Louis dropped Venice 3½ games out of the running by winning, 13-2, behind Toddy Gailius's pitching. John Crnkovich, Don Womack and Jerry Grant homered off Bob Price. The Steelworkers stayed a game behind the McAteers by beating Troy, 16-5.

Bob Rosburg, Another 'Baseball Grip' Golfer, Wins P.G.A.

Barber, Sanders Tie For Second

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 3 (AP) —Bob Rosburg, a stubborn man with a hacker's style, shed his five-year role as an oddity of big time golf today for the regal garb of Professional Golfers Association champion.

With a startling four-under-par 66 at Minneapolis golf club yesterday, the 32-year-old Californian confounded the skeptics and ended his long quest for a major prestige victory.

To do it he had to break the heart of Jerry Barber, the spunky little veteran who had his first national title within grasp only to run out of gas on the final holes. Barber struggled home with a 73 for a 72-hole 278, one stroke back of Rosburg and in a tie with another weird swinger, Doug Sanders.

Rosburg thus became the second man this year to win a big tournament using the so-called baseball grip that makes most golfing teachers wince. Art Wall Jr., its other leading exponent, won the Masters.

But it has been most closely identified through the years with Rosburg, and made him a curiosity wherever he played. He acquired a reputation for scrambling and finishing second.

With $8250 in first-place money beckoning him, however, he delivered one of the great pressure rounds of the year.

Six strokes behind Barber, heading into the final round and all but discounted as a contender, he fired five birdies on the front nine for a 30 to equal the course record set just two days before by Barber. It pulled him even with Jerry.

Then, playing in the threesome ahead of Barber, he stayed shoulder to shoulder with the little man for four holes. Barber's birdie on the fifteenth thrust him back into the lead but he lost it by hitting into the trap on the seventeenth and lost the title by doing the same on the eighteenth.

Rosburg is a big man with a formidable girth who wears spectacles and a look of great weariness. It was especially apparent as he walked to his second shot on the sixteenth hole.

"I was in a trap about 70 feet from the hole," he said. "I was pretty discouraged about that time. It was a tough spot and I couldn't afford to bogey. I think the shot I made was one of my best ever."

His ball came to rest about six feet from the hole and he got a par three. He parred in the rest of the way for a 36 on the back nine.

Barber, aware all the time how Rosburg was going, thought he had the title when he tapped in a 20-foot putt for a par on the sixteenth after coming out of a trap.

"But on the last two holes I went out to lunch and forgot to come back," he said with pained humor afterward. He hit into a trap on the seventeenth and couldn't extricate himself without a bogey. Trapped again on the eighteenth, he punched 18 feet past the hole.

By this time the daylong overcast was dumping rain on the course and 12,000 spectators lining tthe eighteenth fairway and rimming the green.

Barber, walking the line of his putt, squatting to study it, and intensely reading the green, was a forlorn figure in the rain. He stroked the ball, but his confidence was gone and the ball was short. Sanders, one stroke behind Barber after 18, hung on all day and just missed tying for the lead when he fluffed a 2½ foot putt on the seventeenth.

Mike Souchak, two strokes behind after 54, knocked himself out early by gunning wildly on the front nine in an effort to catch up. Defending champ Dow Finsterwald stepped into the breach with a 70 to finish fourth at 280, three strokes off the pace. Barber and Sanders each won $3562.50 and Finsterwald $2500. Ken Venturi, Souchak and Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill., who closed with a 68, wound up with $2000 each in a tie for fifth at 281.

Gene Webb of St. Louis was fined $100 by the P.G.A. and forfeited the $200 "finishing" fee because he did not start the final round. The $200 goes to each of the golfers who complete the four rounds.

Webb, professional at Norwood Hills Country Club, had a 221 for three rounds. Reports had it he went to Waterloo, Iowa, to compete in a local tournament there.

Happy PGA Cup Winner; Dejected Loser

Californian Winner In Junior Tennis Final

By Harold Flachsbart
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 3—Junior and boy tennis champions were moving to opposite sections of country today for more competition against nationally prominent players.

Most of the juniors go to Orange, N.J., and the boys to the United States Jaycee tournament at Phoenix, Ariz.

St. Louis didn't have a representative in the final day's program here in which Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield captured the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association's outdoor junior championship and Jim Beste of Baton Rouge, La., won singles honors in the 15-year-old division. However, the teenagers from the Show-Me state were prominent through much of the week. Chuck McKinley teamed with Marty Riessen to win the junior doubles title Saturday with a well-earned straight-set victory over Bill Bond and Ralston, 9-7, 6-2, 8-6.

Two 17-year-olds were matched in the 18-year-old (junior) title match and Ralston, despite blisters on his racket hand, played just steadily enough to outlast Bill Lenoir of Tucson, Ariz., 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4.

Year Makes Difference.

To show what a difference a year can make, Lenoir was soundly overpowered by St. Louis's Earl Buchholz Jr. in the 1958 quarterfinals, 6-1, 6-1. Ralston was upset by St. Louis's Rod Susman in a three-set third round match in 1958.

Lenoir, winner of five straight tournaments in the South and Midwest, lacked a net game and the sharp drives of Ralston, who eliminated McKinley from singles Saturday.

Ralston, as well as McKinley, Riessen, Bond and two other juniors, were due to play the Eastern grass circuit with older members of Perry Jones's Davis Cup squad.

U.S.L.T.A. officers and Monroe C. (Poge) Lewis of St. Louis, a delegate at large and referee of the annual junior competition were pleased with the unusually strong field here. They predicted bright futures for several of the top 10 juniors.

Lewis Critical.

At the same time Lewis was critical of Jones' designation of six juniors to the Davis squad.

"They should have been playing on the Midwest clay court circuit and not on grass before appearing here," Lewis said. "It hurt McKinley, Bond and others to switch from grass or cement surfaces to these slower clay courts.

At the same time, Lewis said that in his opinion "McKinley and Riessen right now rank among the three best men's doubles combinations in the nation." And while Lewis didn't say so, Butch Buchholz and Alex Olmedo must be ranked as one of the others.

Beste's victim in the boys title match was Rodney Kop of Honolulu, Hawaii, 6-0, 6-3. Beste, from Bob Pettit's home town of Baton Rouge, at 15 stands 6 feet, 1 inch.

Beumer's 6-Hitter Wins Flag for Hoffmeisters

The Hoffmeisters clinched the Heine Meine League baseball pennant yesterday, and the Kimacks and Carondelet Sunday Morning Club remained 1-2 in the South Side League, another close Muny race.

Manager Chip Rathman's Hoffmeisters topped the Slays, 9-1, Rich Beumer's six-hitter, while the Villas were upset by the Fendlers, 3-1, as Don Briehan also won on a six-hitter.

The Kimacks took a 6-0 lead and beat Borbein-Young, 7-4, while C.S.M.A.C. clubbed the winless Auto Workers, 13-2, to sew up a spot in the Muny playoffs. For the Kimacks, Neal Murphy pitched a four-hitter, Tom McCormick hit a three-run homer and Ed Lind added a solo homer. Carondelet made 16 hits, four of them by Jim Schmidt and one a two-run homer by Marv Stendel.

Another team to nail down a spot in the playoffs was the Union Printers, who walloped the Hawks, 12-3. Kutis North, coasting after already knotting the North Side League crown, beat Kutis South, 9-6. Homers were by Pete Vitale of North and Kenny Nerl and Duke Wodraska of South.

The only Muny playoff spots that aren't settled are the four in the Metropolitan League. One of them seems certain to go to the Brooklyn Robins, strong in the first half of the league's split schedule and unbeaten in the second half. Yesterday the Robins whipped the St. Louis Cubs, 12-7, as Willie James Harris got four hits including a home run.

Scullin, leading the other Metro division, trimmed the Blackhaws, 6-4, on Clyde Lee's three-hitter and Clarence Potter's bases-loaded double. The Brentwood Cubs nipped the Rockets, 10-8, when James McCracken hit a three-run homer in the top of the ninth.

All Souls Clinches Cody Flag

By Bob Posen

The chubby manager in the pink sport shirt and khaki trousers notified the opposing baseball team of his intention well in advance, just after Steve Sweeten was hit by a pitched ball to lead off the ninth inning.

"Hey, St. Ann," he called across the diamond, "I'm going to pinch-hit..." and he named his spot, optimistically looking ahead three batters in his All Souls lineup.

He was a man of his word in the important Catholic Youth Council senior game. Sweeten stole second, Ken Karstern beat out a hit to deep short, and Jim Donovan pushed a bunt past the pitcher to load the bases. And up stepped Manager Clet Wasser in his pink sport shirt and khaki trousers.

His team was trailing 2-1 as he tried to squeeze-bunt a high pitch that almost hit him. He tapped the ball back to the mound. The pitcher's throw was in plenty of time to force Sweeten, but the catcher dropped the ball and the score was tied.

Then Paul Donovan hit a sacrifice fly to left and All Souls. They had done it the White Sox way, come from behind in the ninth to win by one run. The 3-2 victory gave them the championship of the Bishop Cody League and the best record of all C.Y.C. senior teams, 10-1.

And it marked Pitcher Frank Duran's sixth triumph without a defeat, although he gave up home runs to Frank Bousalacki and Gene Kammer.

The non-uniformed manager who pinch-batted explained that his team had an almost-empty bench because several players are at National Guard camp.

Mount Carmel defeated Holy Rosary, 5-4, to draw within a half-game of Holy Rosary and St. Augustine, now tied for first in the Bishop Helmsing League. St. Margaret pulled with in half game of St. Gabriel in the Bishop Winkelmann League by winning twice, 6-5 over St. Pius V, and a forfeit over St. John the Baptist. Pat Grimes of St. Margaret had three hits, including a double during a three-run eighth that started with the winners trailing St. Pius, 5-3.

St. Anthony moved closer to a playoff berth in the Cardinal Glennon League by swamping winless St. Michael, 29-1, partly with a 13-run sixth inning. Bob Fuller had five hits, including two doubles and a homer; Joe Gaterman had two homers, and Charley Stiebel and Don Klein each homered. Resurrection kept its playoff hopes alive by blasting Prep Seminary, 18-5. Bob Eck had a bases-loaded triple and Len Hoffman hit a three-run homer.

Buchholz Wins First Match in Eastern

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J., Aug. 3 (UPI) — Earl Buchholz of St. Louis easily won his first round Grass Court tennis championmatch today at the Eastern ships but Gwyn Thomas of Cleveland was upset by Pamela Davis of Anaheim, Calif.

Miss Davis ousted the second-seeded Miss Thomas in a women's first rounder, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4. The Californian remained at the baseline most of the time and outsteadied Miss Thomas, second ranked in girls' singles in the nation.

Buchholz, seeded fourth in men's singles, began his bid for the title by defeating Mac White of Corpus Christi, Tex., 6-3, 6-3.

Promoter Rosensohn Pulls Out

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (UPI)—Bill Rosensohn withdrew today as promoter of the return Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson world heavyweight title fight and pulled out of the promoting organization bearing his name.

Rosensohn announced his resignation as president of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., and offered to sell his one-third of the corporation's stock to the highest bidder, even though that might be the Madison Square Garden Corporation.

He made this announcement at a press conference in the Manhattan Hotel. The conference was attended by Vincent J. Velella, new president of the corporation despite Rosensohn's request that he leave the conference.

Thirty-nine-year-old Rosensohn explained that he was severing himself entirely from the promotion of the Johansson-Patterson fight, tentatively scheduled for Yankee Stadium, Sept. 22, because of controversies with Velella and the entrance of Irving B. Kahn into the corporation.

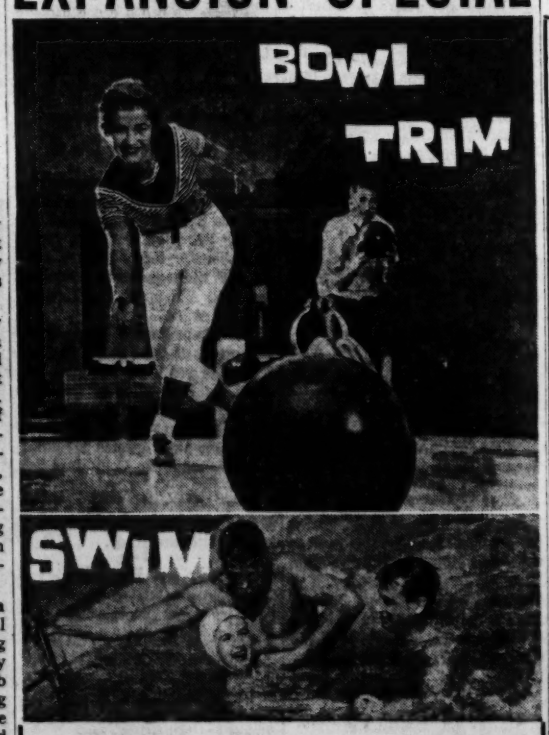

Velella, who owns two thirds of the corporation stock, said he was confident the return bout would be held Sept. 22 but that there was no certainty Yankee Stadium would be the location.

"I am negotiating with two or three other cities," Velella said.

Rosensohn, who entered boxing as the promoter of last summer's Patterson-Roy Harris title fight at Los Angeles, said, "I am withdrawing from this promotion, but I expect to remain in boxing and perhaps promote Johansson's future fights after his September defense."

In withdrawing from his own organization, Bill stressed that the contracts for the September fight were between Rosensohn Enterprises and the fighters — "not between me personally and the fighters."

Kutis Offered Match With Italian Team

The Kutis soccer team, which clinched its fourth straight United States amateur title in a victory at Detroit, Saturday, may return to that city soon for a match with a touring Italian team. Manager Nick Jost said the St. Louis team so impressed officials of Detroit Italia A.C. that the invitation was extended immediately after the game.

"As I understand it," said Jost, "the Palermo club will visit the United States late this month, playing one game in Detroit. Italia A.C. feels that its own team is not strong enough to furnish good opposition to the tourists. We, as national amateur champions, would make a better attraction, the Italia directors told me."

Jost said Kutis will accept the invitation if suitable financial arrangements can be made.

Kutis players and officials complained on their return home, Sunday, that the game officials took three legitimate goals away from the St. Louisans in their match with the Detroit Scots. The Detroit linesman waved "offside" when Elwood Cook, Fred Vasquez and then Bob Whitehead scored goals in the second half.

"Each of the goals was beautifully executed and as legitimate as any we have scored all season," said Jost. He was backed up by Trainer-Coach Tony Mercurio. The referee was Nels Dahlquist of Chicago. Kutis won the two-game series on a total goal score of 7-2. The game at Detroit ended in a 2-2 draw.

Brazil's Entry Wins

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 3 (AP)—Narvik, lightly regarded Brazilian entry, edged Argentina's favored Atlas in the Grande Premio, Brazil's richest horse race. Xaveco of Brazil, was third.

Narvik won three and one-half million guzeiros (about $24,000) after stepping the 3000-meter (about two miles) in 3:03 3-5 for a stake record.

Missouri Titles to St. Louis Shooters

Two members of the host St. Louis Archery Club, Ed Brune and LaVern Freimuth, won the men's and women's championships in the Missouri State Archery tournament. The event was finished yesterday at Forest Park.

Brune, a sheet metal worker, who has been practicing on the Forest Park range for the past two years, won the York round on Saturday with a 757 and then came back to tally two American rounds of 746 and 711 for a 2214 total. Tim Cantwell, now in the armed services, was last year's winner.

Second place in the men's target competition went to William Wolfe with 1993. Earl Hoyt was third with 1968.

Mrs. Freimuth had a 2310 total for the 306 arrows she fired at the target during the two days. The winner had a 1056 score for two Columbia rounds and 1732 for a similar number of American rounds. Mrs. Senda Roff, holder of the Southern States women's title, was second with 2292. Mrs. Lucille Brune was No. 3 with 2076 and Mrs. Vera Hennessey followed with 2070.

The winners were instinctive shooters, using sights on their bows. A bare bow, without sights, was a new event on the State program. Joan Curran won the women's title with 2248. She had 1028 Columbia rounds and 1676 American rounds. Don Kiel finished on top in the men's division with 2544 in the top class.

Clout shoot titles, not part of the regular competition, were won by Mrs. Hennessey, 231, and Virgil Gipson, 202. The clout shoot is a field event with the men shooting 36 arrows at a target 120 yards off and the women employing a target 100 yards away.

had a five-run cushion in the first inning in which Don Hannis had a three-run home run.

In Saturday night's game, Southpaw John Boise, who hitchhikes 30 miles from Monroe City to play, held the City champions to just one hit, a single by Harmon Duncan. Aubuchon-Dennison's Tom Eckelman was tagged for just two hits, but a double by Catcher Bill Menge, a wild pitch and an error on the catcher produced the only run in the fourth inning.

Maplewood and Aubuchon-Dennison will move to Ballwin Aug. 7-8-9 to compete in a four-team tournament to determine the champion for the Eastern half of Missouri. The state finals will be played at Jefferson City.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 3 (UPI)—Clyde King, one-time relief ace of the Brooklyn Dodgers, heads to Rochester today to take over as new manager of the Rochester Red Wings of the International League.

The bespectacled king, pitching coach of the Cincinnati Redlegs this year, was named last night as new pilot of the Red Wings, who currently are in last place and have lost seven of their last eight games including a doubleheader to Columbus, 3-5, 6-2.

King succeeds Ellis (Cot) Deal, who succeeds King as a coach with the Reds.

Bob Schmidt, San Francisco Giants catcher, was expected to arrive in St. Louis today for the funeral of his father, Charles F. Schmidt, who died Saturday at County Hospital.

Mr. Schmidt, 61, collapsed in a bus he drove for the Public Service Co. A cerebral hemorrhage was reported as the cause of death.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Calvary E. and R. United Church of Christ, Graceland and Hartland avenues.

Mr. Schmidt, who lived at 3615 Adie rd., St. Ann, is survived by his wife, Adele; five sons, Bob, Harvey, Leroy, Charles Jr. and David, and a daughter, Nancy Morie.

Tandy Leaders Win

The Tandy League Dodgers and Braves, tied with 9-1 records after victories yesterday, will meet Friday night for the championship. The Braves beat the Stars, 8-0, and the Dodgers ripped the Browns, 14-6.

Waterson Chiefs Win Junior Flag

The Waterson Chiefs, who last year were Missouri-Illinois Khoury League juvenile baseball champions with a 38-0 record, showed yesterday they weren't hurt by the advance to the junior division this year. They beat Southwest Kiwanis, 3-0, to win the Inter-State Traveling League crown and advance to playoffs. Jack Lane pitched three-hit ball and hit a two-run homer.

The Thomas Giants and Oilers stayed a game apart in the Khoury senior Charles Shaw League when both were upset. Twenty-seventh Ward scored two runs in the last of the eighth to nip the Giants, 4-3. The Garamellas beat the Oilers, 12-2.

The North Side Yanks stayed a game ahead of Second Ward in the Missouri League, beating St. Liborius, 7-4, while Second Ward downed Universal, 11-8.

25 Straight Games.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee had the majors' longest hitting streak of the 1956 season. He hit safely in 25 straight games.

retiring the first two batters, he gave up a single to Rice on a smash he deflected, then walked Burdette on four pitches. That left things squarely up to .165 hitter Felix Mantilla, who made it 7-3 with a wind-helped home run just over the left field screen.

Two singles and a walk filled the bases in the sixth and Stone arrived in time to pitch the second three-run triple by Bruton, who later scored on Burdette's double.

With one on in the ninth, Boyer hit his nineteenth homer of the season. His and Crowe's fourbaggers were the Cardinals' first in a week. Burdette, now 15-10 this season, has been tagged for 29 home runs, but he could afford them so long as he didn't make as many mistakes as Mizell.

Franks Takes Title

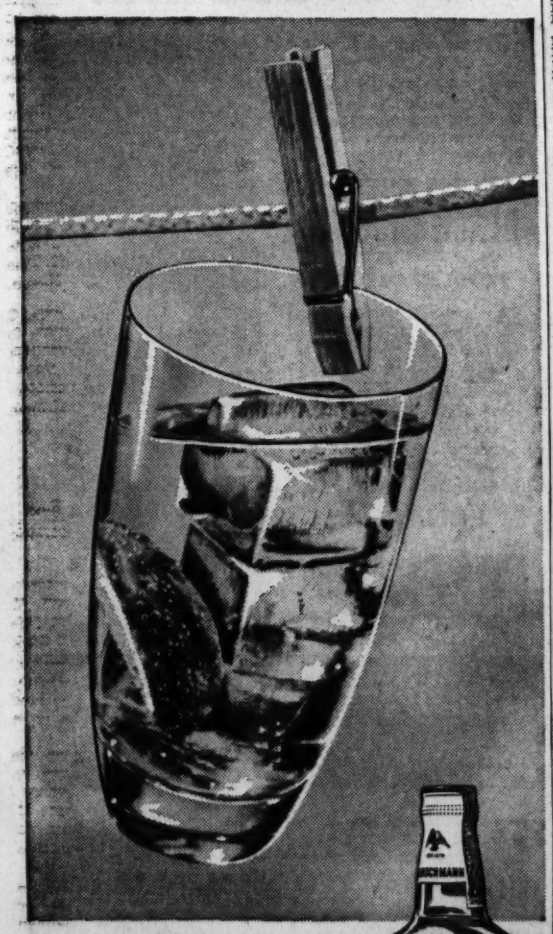

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 3 (AP)—Ens. Mike Franks of Los Angeles, captured the all-Navy tennis open singles title, defeating Ens. John Lesch, also of Los Angeles, 10-8, 6-2, 6-2. Lesch and Lt. McCovey-Mays Duo Stars for Giants

Pirates Beaten; Sox Add to Lead

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3 (AP)—The new firm of Willie McCovey and Willie Mays is keeping the San Francisco Giants on top of the National League. They again provided the dynamite Sunday as Johnny Antonelli tamed the Pittsburgh Pirates on six hits for his fifteenth victory.

McCovey is hitting a sensational .500 with 9 for 18 since the Giants moved him up from their Phoenix farm in time for Thursday's game. He went 4 for 4 the first day, knocked in the winning run the second and then went 3 for 5 Saturday.

The newest Willie yesterday hit his first major league home run—a 390-foot blast off Ronny Kline with Jim Davenport on in the fourth inning.

Mays put the Giants out front to stay with a seventh-inning double off loser Bob Porterfield. Once again Davenport scored. The Giants added another run in the eighth off Elroy Face (still 14-0) for their 5-3 victory.

Los Angeles regained second place, a half game behind the Giants, by shading Philadelphia, 4-3, while Milwaukee was splitting a pair with St. Louis. The Cardinals took the opener, 4-3, as Lindy McDaniel rescued Larry Jackson. Lew Burdette won his fifteenth in the second, 11-5.

Rookie Jay Hook and veteran Brooks Lawrence teamed up with a five-hit shutout for Cincinnati's 2-0 decision over Chicago. Hook gave up only three hits, but walked three in a row in the seventh, bringing Lawrence from the bullpen.

Sox Lead by Three Games.

In the American League, Chicago opened up a three-game lead over Cleveland by winning two from Washington, 3-2 and 9-3. The White Sox have won six straight and Washington has lost 16 in a row. Cleveland split two with Baltimore, losing the first, 5-4, in 10 innings and winning the second, 6-3. New York downed Kansas City, 7-5, and Boston whipped Detroit, 5-4, on Jackie Jensen's three-run homer.

Antonelli became the first pitcher in the majors to hit the 15-win mark, but he was joined about two hours later by Burdette. The Giants' lefthander has lost only six.

Pittsburgh grabbed a 3-0 lead in the fourth, but McCovey's homer got two of them back. Willie Kirkland's double, followed by Hobie Landrith's single, tied the score in the sixth and Mays put San Francisco out front in the seventh. Felipe Alou's single drove in the final score in the eighth.

Despite Duke Snider's fourteenth homer, the Dodgers trailed the Phils, 3-1, going into the fifth. They tallied three in that inning, two on Charlie Neal's homer and another on Snider's single and Norm Larker's double. Larry Sherry, who had taken over in the fifth, allowed only one hit the rest of the way, fanning five, to record his second victory. The smallest crowd of the season, 10,201, saw the game.

Singles by Eddie Kasko, Vada Pinson and Gus Bell and a double steal accounted for Cincinnati's two runs in the third off loser Dave Hillman.

They Bunt and They Run.

After Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox bunt and run you dizzy, Al Lopez waves in Turk Lown or Gerry Staley to shut the door in your face.

That is the reason the White Sox are three games ahead in the American League and pulling away fast.

The little men did it again Sunday in the first game with Washington, slashing and racing to upset the punchy Senators. Trailing 2-1 in the last of the ninth, Aparicio opened with a single. Fox bunted and Catcher Steve Korcheck threw the ball away. Aparicio scored and Fox dashed to third. Two intentional walks loaded the bases and Billy Goodman plunked a fly ball single into left for the victory.

Lown, who took over after Billy Pierce left for a pinch-hitter in the eighth, won his eighth despite a shaky ninth inning. It was his fifth straight.

Again in the second game, when Bob Shaw began to stumble in the eighth, in came Staley to breeze through one and one-third hitless innings, saving Shaw's tenth victory.

Washington hit the only home runs. Faye Throneberry got No. 9 in the first game and Jim Lemon No. 24 in the second. The Senators lost their fifteenth and sixteenth in a row, only two short of their club record set in 1948. The White Sox' opening game victory was their twenty-sixth by one run.

Cleveland lost ground by dropping the first game to Baltimore. Willie Miranda beat out a high bounder to the mound, driving in the winning run. That one little hit minimized Rocky Colavito's thirty-first homer and Woody Held's twentieth. Tito Francona's seventh hit of the day, a three-run homer off Billy O'Dell in the ninth gave Cleveland a victory in the second game. Francona had four singles in the first game and a double and a single before his homer. Cleveland's attendance soared over the million mark to 1,009,562 with the turnout of 34,682.

Elston Howard drove in four runs with two singles and a double in New York's victory over Kansas City. Ryne Duren struck out seven in 3⅔ shutout innings.

PILOT, TWO MISSOURI WOMEN DIE IN CRASH

OKMULGEE, Okla., Aug. 3 (AP)—The pilot and two women passengers were killed and another women was injured Saturday night when a private plane crashed only 300 yards from the home of the pilot's parents.

First knowledge of the crash came yesterday after the lone survivor appeared in the yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Lane, the pilot's parents.

Those killed were John L. Lane, 35 years old, La Habra, Calif.; Mrs. Emma Shanks, 73, and Mrs. Shank's sister, Mrs. Agnes Tidwell, 63, both of Kennett, Mo.

Mrs. Jewel Lois Hamby, 43, Kennett, suffered severe scalp lacerations and possible internal injuries. She was in a hospital at Okmulgee in serious condition.

The plane wreckage was found in a field about 300 yards from the Lane home, nearly hidden from view by high weeds.

The pilot's parents said they heard cries for help during the night, but later heard an automobile go by, assumed that was the source of the cries and did not investigate.

The plane was en route to Missouri from California. Mrs. Hamby told officers she and her mother and aunt had been visiting in California. Police found at the scene of the crash a weighted note bearing the message: "See you Sunday morning." The note was not signed.

The Lanes said it was a practice of their son's to drop such notes when he flew over their home.

ROCKET BASES BEING BUILT IN NORTH IRAN, REDS SAY

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Moscow radio charged yesterday that rocket bases were being built in northern Iran.

The broadcast said Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi and his government "have chosen a dangerous path and are turning Iran into an American military rocket base.

"The construction of the sites is taking place in complete secrecy," said the broadcast. "Morover, according to the reports received, the Iranian leaders are at present discussing with the United States the arming of the Iranian army with atomic weapons."

Moscow called this "an act of treason against the people" and said it showed "the Shah and his clique are the obedient puppets of the Americans."

WILMINGTON (DEL.) NEGRO HOME DESTROYED BY BLAST

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 3 (AP)—The home of the only Uegro couple in the formerly all-white suburb of Collins Park has been hit by an explosion for a second time. The explosion yesterday buckled the walls and tore a large hole in the front of the $13,500 home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rayfield. They were not at home at the time.

State police said the house and its furnishings are a complete loss. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said it would help pay for reconstruction of the house if the Rayfields could not afford it.

When the Rayfields and their teen-age daughter first moved into the house in February, there was a series of racial demonstrations. State police were called to the scene on several occasions. The first explosion occurred April 7 when a gas stove blew up, causing $3500 damage. No one was at home.

HELICOPTER SAVES INJURED CASCADE MOUNTAIN CLIMBER

SEATTLE, Aug. 3 (AP)—An injured mountain climber, who lay helpless Saturday night on a windy peak in the Cascades, was rescued yesterday by a Coast Guard helicopter.

The mountaineer, Jack Slehofer of Tacoma, Wash., was flown here for hospital care. He tumbled down a glacier on 6400-foot Iron Cap mountain on the west slope of the Cascade range about 50 miles mortheast of Seattle.

More than 50 men tooq part in the rescue. Ground parties, which reached the injured man and three companions Saturday night, carried Slehofer to the foot of the glacier at the 5200-foot elevation. The helicopter was piloted by Lt. Comdr. J. A. Dillian of Port Angeles, Wash.

of agricultural products which could be utilized effectively by the American foreign aid program would range only between two billion and four billion dollars annually. This is a small amount in relation to total net farm income, which last year amounted to 13 billion dollars.

The committee said there is much confusion and erroneous information concerning the effects of present farm policies among both agricultural leaders and others.

It urged a massive educational program to correct "the current widespread mistaken diagnosis of the price problem in agriculture."

Two on Glacier Use Only Flare At Right Time and Are Saved

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 3 (AP)—A single smoke flare, saved for use at just the right moment, brought rescue yesterday to two men marooned seven days on the face of an Alaskan glacier.

The flare was sighted by a helicopter pilot participating in a sea and air search over the rugged Glacier bay national monument.

The body of a third man remained with the wreckage of a helicopter in which they crashed last Sunday at the 5800-foot level on Gilman glacier. The dead man was Robert Baldwin of Ridgefield, Conn., a geophysicist for the Newmont Exploration Co., Ltd., of New York City. Another helicopter was to remove the body.

Bearded, weary and bruised, but otherwise not seriously hurt, were Robert Sheldon and Melvin Guerrera. They survived chilling temperatures and heavy rain with the aid of a sleeping bag and emergency food rations.

Sheldon, a geologist from Spokane, Wash., was working with Baldwin at an oil exploration camp on Brady glacier in the National monument area. Guerrera, formerly of Reno, Nev., is a pilot for Petroleum Helicopters of Lafayette, La., working on charter.

Guerrera's wife, Margo, had a tearful and happy reunion with her husband in Juneau. Before the men were sighted, Mrs. Guerrera had flown over the search area in a small plane.

The helicopter which sighted the men near the scene of the crash, about 90 miles west of Juneau, flew them to a beach at nearby Tarr inlet, where a Coast Guard amphibian carried them to Juneau harbor.

The survivors said their 'copter "slid down the ice and turned over."

"Both Sheldon and Guerrera were knocked unconscious," Dr. Joseph Rude said. "Baldwin apparently remained conscious, but suffered fractures and shock set in." He died several hours after the crash.

The flare that attracted the rescue helicopter was the only one aboard.

"Once a search plane passed far overhead, but they couldn't afford to waste the one shot," Dr. Rude said. "They really used their heads."

Pilot in West Tells of 4-Day Fight for Survival.

PAGE, Ariz., Aug. 3 (AP)—Daniel Reisman, a Salt Lake City pilot, told yesterday of a four-day fight for survival that began Wednesday when his light, single-engine plane was forced down on an abandoned airstrip in southeastern Utah.

Speaking from a hospital bed at Page, Reisman described a two-day trek with no food and little water across a desert and a dangerous ride down the turbulent Colorado river.

"I was forced off course by a storm and landed on a strip at an old uranium mine after nearly running out of fuel," he said.

"I knew I needed water and food so I walked about five miles west that night. But I couldn't find any so I came back to the plane.

"It started to drizzle Thursday. I wiped the wings of the plane with my handkerchief and then squeezed it into a cup. I managed to get about a cupful, then went to sleep under the wing.

"I later decided to walk east. I saw the Colorado river, but couldn't get down the sheer cliffs. I knew the Colorado just had to go to Glen Canyon dam.

"I figured to find a wash and get down by that. I found a little indentation in the rock that had water in it and drank all I could hold.

"Friday morning I saw a wash. When I got to the river, I made a raft of three logs and started floating. The raft turned over in the rapids a couple of times but it held together."

Reisman was found by Earl Johnson, a river guide who was taking a group on a chartered boat trip up the Colorado. A helicopter later took the pilot off the boat and flew him to Page.

seek the nomination. Rockefeller has told friends, the A.P. added, that he would be a candidate only if he had conclusive evidence that Nixon is not likely to win against the Democratic nominee.)

Rockefeller came on the same plane with Director Allen Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency. Later, on the press room bulletin board theer appeared a copy of a letter from President Eisenhower to Dear Nelson, praising his efforts to start a state program for protection against atomic fallout.

Dulles will speak to a closed session of the governors, and tomorrow Rockefeller will press for unanimous adoption of a report his group has prepared urging the states to take steps similar to those he will propose to the New York Legislature. The Dulles address is expected to underline the importance of the fallout resolution. The Dulles association, the Eisenhower letter and the atomic report will cause the assembled governors to connect their New York freshman with national and international issues. Their realistic political approach to the coming conventions and elections leads to only one conclusion—that Rockefeller might become a presidential candidate if circumstances changed.

By the Associated Press.

Meanwhile, Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, who has been mentioned as a potential 1960 G.O.P. vice-presidential candidate, told a press conference he would not consider second place on the ticket "under any circumstances."

Indicating he intends to run for re-election, Stratton predicted the powerful Illinois delegation will go to next year's Republican convention uncommitted to any candidate.

In response to questions, he said flatly he will not seek the Republican senatorial nomination to run against Democratic Senator Paul H. Douglas next year.

A PUERTO RICAN THRONG demonstrated for independence yesterday for the benefit of the Governors here for the conference.

"Yankees go home!" they cried.

A sign said "U.S. and U.S.S.R. two of a kind."

Police estimated about 1000 persons made up the crowd. They confined it to one side of a highway leading into grounds of Hotel San Juan. The demonstrators were about 300 yards from the hotel, but in view of Governors driving in and out.

Nevada's Gov. Grant Sawyer made a surprise appearance on the speakers stand and quickly turned anti-American heckling to applause when he congratulated the crowd on its orderliness.

Democratic Gov. Williams predicted that Rockefeller would be the Republican nominee in 1960 "despite the ability of Nixon."

He said Rockefeller was definitely the strongest Republican candidate available and the party would have to choose him in spite of the fact Nixon is "one of the finest political craftsmen in the country."

Rockefeller would be harder to beat than Nixon, Williams said, but the Democrats will be able to do it with a liberal candidate.

Would Accept Vice Presidential Nomination, Halleck Says.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (UPI)—House Republican minority leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, said yesterday he would accept the Republican vice presidential nomination in 1960 if it were offered to him.

Halleck said he thought the possibility of his being offered the nomination was a "far cry." But he said he would accept if both the party and the G.O.P. presidential nominee wanted him.

Halleck refused to say whether he thought Vice President Richard M. Nixon or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would get the presidential nomination. He said only that he thought Nixon would if the convention were held as of today.

Halleck said that in his post of House Republican leader he has a "tremendous job" to do and that he doesn't want to "liquidate any influence" he has among House Republicans by declaring now between Nixon and Rockefeller. Halleck made the statements on the NBC television program "Meet the Press."

He was one of five Republicans President Eisenhower said would be acceptable to him as a vice presidential nominee in 1952. The nomination then went to Nixon.

JIM STIETENROTH, ex-treasurer of Mississippi Power & Light, who testified before the SEC that his company had kept double books and used dummy directors, is now running for state Senator in Mississippi and has the power companies in a furor.

Stietenroth resigned during the Dixon-Yates expose to come to Washington and throw a monkey-wrench into the attempt of Southern power companies to stop expansion of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Now running for the Senate, he is still fighting the battle for cheaper power. He has claimed that his old company, Mississippi Power & Light, owes the state of Mississippi $918,269.74 in unpaid taxes.

Stietenroth also claims that the cost of electricity in the state capital, Jackson, Miss., is $3,-000,000 more annually than in Tupelo, Miss., which gets its power from TVA.

Private and public power interests all over the country will be watching the state Senate race in Mississippi.

Morocco, for First Time, Gives Tacit Recognition to U.S. Bases

By THOMAS F. BRADY
© New York Times News Service

RABAT, Morocco, Aug. 3—The United States and Morocco have reached an agreement that will put approximately $1,000,000 a month of needed foreign exchange into the Moroccan treasury.

The agreement negotiated by Mohammed M'jid of Morocco and John P. Condon, a United States Air Force labor negotiator, makes the Moroccan government the employer and paymaster of all local civilian labor on United States bases in Morocco.

The agreement is important to the United States because it is the first tacit recognition by the Moroccan government that United States air bases here have any status.

It is important for the Moroccans because it will give them added foreign exchange at a time when this country is undergoing a monetary crisis and appears to be moving toward withdrawal from the French monetary zone.

Handled by French Before.

In the past the hiring and paying of local labor had been handled for United States bases by the French army intendance, the equivalent of a quartermaster corps. The dollar reimbursement automatically went into the French reserve pool. Since the first of July the Moroccan Ministry of Labor has taken over with a newly curated bureau known as the office of administration of civilian personnel employed at United States bases.

Even inclusion of the term United States bases in the title of a government bureau here was a sticking point in the negotiations, because the Moroccan government does not and may never admit diplomatically that such bases are legitimately installed here.

Nevertheless, following new talks last week between M'jid and Condon, the Moroccan treasury opened a special account in which the dollar equivalent of the Moroccan franc payroll of about 3000 employes at the bases will be deposited. The payroll and the cost of an indirect-hire service provided by the government will total 4,800,000,000 francs ($11,428,500) a year.

'Legal Employer.'

The indirect-hire system makes the Moroccan government the "legal employer" and the United States forces simply the "legal utilizer" of labor. A similar agreement has been worked out in most countries where the United States has military establishments.

Under this system, the country in which a base is situated handles labor disputes, administers social security payments and, in general, guarantees the United States against inadvertent contravention of labor laws.

The United States bases in Morocco were established when Morocco was a French protectorate. After it won independence, the new government did not recognize the base agreements and demanded that United States forces withrdaw.

The United States has agreed in principle to withdraw, but hopes to maintain the bases as long as possible.

Morocco's King Cuts Short His Visit to Paris

PARIS, Aug. 3 (UPI)—King Mohammed V of Morocco abruptly cut short a Paris visit yesterday and left for home amid reports of growing discord in the Moroccan cabinet over policy toward France.

Mohammed left only a few hours after Moroccan left-wingers staged huge anti-French rallies in Rabat and Casablanca, demanding a complete break with France, withdrawal of all French troops from Morocco, and "total mobilization . . . to defend Morocco's frontiers."

The King arrived here Wednesday with the announced intention of having a tonsillectomy. He had not had the operation when he left by train for Cannes. A Moroccan Embassy announcement said the King decided to return to Rabat because marked improvement in his health would permit the tonsillectomy to be performed in Rabat.

Observers in Rabat think a serious dispute had broken out behind-the-scenes in the Moroccan cabinet headed by Premier Abdallah Ibrahim, a leader of the left wing of the Istiqlal party.

In Paris, there were widespread press reports that Morocco was considering a currency devaluation and withdrawal from the French franc zone.

Nasser Tour Plan Reported.

DAMASCUS, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Damascus daily newspaper Alwahda said yesterday that President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic will begin a round of Asian state visits next month, covering India, Burma and Ceylon.

The ABC's of Outdoor Cooking

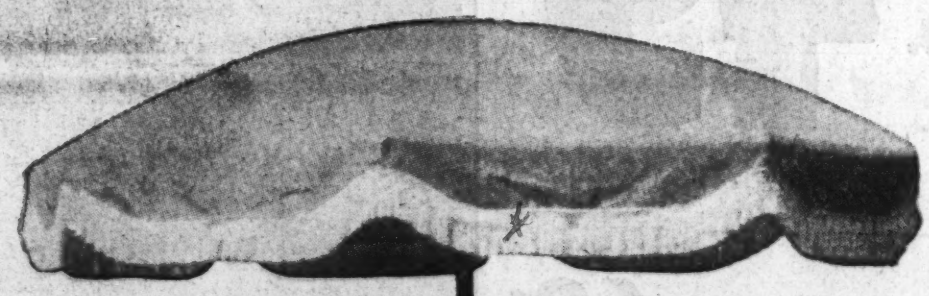

Cooking under blue skies and under the stars has become a national pastime in America. Wary of becoming barbecue bores, patio chefs constantly are seeking ways to vary cookout menus.

Try these ABC's of outdoor cooking, and qualify as a barbecue expert. A stands for "at home", B for "on the beach", and C for "at camp."

Anywhere, anytime, these recipes will add interest to al fresco meals.

Barbecue at the Beach

Hamburger Franks

8 servings

4 1-ounce slices Cheddar cheese, cut in half
8 frankfurters
1 pound ground beef
½ cup chili sauce
¼ cup chopped onions
¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon parsley flakes

Slice frankfurters partially through lengthwise and fit a slice of cheese into each. Combine remaining ingredients and divide into eight portions. Mold a portion of meat mixture evenly around each cheese-filled frankfurter, pressing firmly, leaving 1 inch of frankfurter showing at each end. Place on grill about 8 inches above hot coals for 8-10 minutes. Turn often to brown evenly. Serve on buttered buns.

BUTTER GRILLED ROASTING EARS

4 servings

4 ears fresh sweet corn
½ cup (1 stick) butter
1 teaspoon salt

Remove husks and silk from corn. Mix butter and salt; coat ears of corn. Wrap individually in heavy-duty aluminum foil, sealing edges and ends tightly. Place on grill and cook for 10 to 15 minutes.

HEARTY GRILLED CHEESE TOMATOES

4 servings

4 large, firm tomatoes
2 cups (½-inch size) toasted bread cubes
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
½ cup chopped cashew nuts
2 tablespoons melted butter
4 green onions

Cut tops off of tomatoes. Scoop out insides. Combine bread cubes with remaining ingredients except green onions. Fill tomatoes with bread mixture. Stand an onion in the center of each tomato. Wrap in aluminum foil with green onion stem shooting out the top. Place on grill over hot coals for about 15 minutes or until cheese melts.

Outdoor Waffle Brunch

½ cup (1 stick) butter, softened
¼ cup honey
Rind of 1 orange
Dash of ground cloves
1 package frozen waffles
Dairy sour cream
Sections of fresh orange

Combine butter, honey, orange rind and cloves. Spread on both sides of frozen waffles. Toast on grill over hot coals until brown. Top with dairy sour cream and garnish with orange sections. Serve with fruit cup, butter grilled rolls, sausages, and cafe au lait (½ hot milk, ½ strong coffee.)

BUTTER GRILLED SWEET ROLL

Slice a breakfast sweet roll in half. Spread cut sides with 1 tablespoon butter. Place on grill buttered side down and toast until brown. Turn if desired.

Camper's Cuisine

Barbecued Pot Roast

4 servings

Barbecue Sauce:

1 cup catsup
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
¼ cup (½ stick) butter, melted
1 large onion, diced
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon thyme
¼ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Combine ingredients. Set aside.

2 pounds pot roast
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
2 large boiling potatoes, peeled and sliced
4 carrots, cleaned and sliced lengthwise

Rub pot roast with salt and pepper; brown on grill. Pour half of barbecue sauce on large piece of heavy duty aluminum foil (about 18x24 in.). Place browned pot roast on foil and pour remaining sauce over. Add bay leaf. Fold foil together, sealing edges tightly. Place on grill about 12 inches from coals and bake 1½ hours, turning once. Open carefully and place sliced potatoes and carrots on meat. Seal aluminum foil and replace on grill to cook ½ hour longer. Remove from heat and serve.

BUTTER BROWNED HOT BISCUITS

Make a 9 to 10 in. pan of heavy-duty aluminum foil and place on the grill over hot coals. Melt ¼ cup butter in the pan. Add ¼ teaspoon nutmeg and ⅛ teaspoon curry powder. Remove the pan from the grill. Make one recipe of biscuit dough using biscuit mix. Drop spoonfuls of the dough onto melted butter. Place on grill above hot coals. When biscuits are brown on one side (about 5-10 minutes), turn and brown on second side. Serve hot.

Chili for a Crowd

One of the best ways to please a hungry crowd is to serve them hot chili and cold beer. An excellent year-round formula, it is especially successful out-of-doors.

Keep the chili hot on the barbecue grill over glowing coals while spooning generous portions onto the plates. Then let guests help themselves to pieces of warm French bread, salad and glasses of well-chilled beer (its crisp, light flavor complements the spicy chili).

This chili con carne recipe could be made in the morning, then reheated on an out-of-door grill before serving. Note that the recipe can be doubled to serve 24 persons.

Chili Con Carne.

Six tablespoons butter, margarine or salad oil.
Six medium onions, sliced.
Three pounds ground beef.
Three cans (20 ounces each) tomatoes.
One can (six ounces) tomato paste.
One cup beer.
One tablespoon salt.
One-half teaspoon tabasco.
Two to four tablespoons chili powder.
Three cans (20 ounces each) kidney beans.

Yield: 12 servings.

Note: If desired, recipe may be doubled.

Suggested Menu: Chili con Carne; French bread; Tomato and Cucumber Salad; Watermelon; Cold Beer.

Sparkling Drinks For Teen-agers

Of course these sparkling beverages may be enjoyed by those of all ages, but they are especially geared to the taste of teen-agers. Recipe for the first one calls for raspberries, but fresh or frozen strawberries or peaches may be substituted.

Raspberry Cream.

One cup heavy cream.
Two-thirds cup fresh or quick-frozen raspberries.
Dash of vanilla.
One 28-ounce bottle pale dry ginger ale.

Whip cream. Crush raspberries; add vanilla. Fold raspberries into whipped cream. Divide among six tall glasses. Fill each glass with ice-cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

Ginger Mint Cream.

One-third cup milk.
Pale dry ginger ale.

Combine peppermints and milk in top of double boiler; stir over hot water until peppermints are melted and blended with milk. Divide between two tall glasses. Add a little ginger ale; stir to mix. Add ice cubes and fill glasses with cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

Pineapple Whip Topping

This sauce is delicious over cup cakes, slices of cake or puddings.

Beat one egg white and a dash of salt with a rotary beater until frothy. Add gradually, beating well after each addition, one-fourth cup sugar. Continue beating mixture until rounded peaks are formed. Set aside.

Mix one-half cup of thoroughly drained crushed pineapple and two tablespoons sugar. Add the pineapple to meringue and beat until stiff peaks are formed.

Yield: One and one-half to two cups of sauce.

Fruit Platter

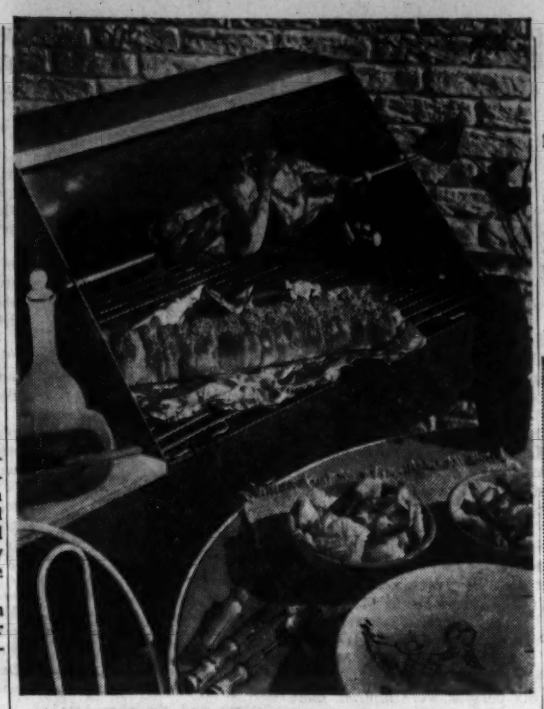

Make an attractive help-yourself-salad for a buffet by arranging avocado halves in a ring on a large platter and heaping the centers with sliced fresh fruits. Serve with a tangy French dressing and hot French rolls.

Seasoning Tip

Make each meat pie distinctive. This is an ideal dish in which to use herbs.

Marjoram, savory, thyme and rosemary are well suited for this purpose. Do remember that any herb should be used sparingly. An easy way to season is to add the herbs to the meat pie gravy.

Quick French Bread

Quick Continental touch for the barbecue feast—crusty French bread made with two cans of refrigerated biscuits. Loaf may be flavored with seeds, cheese or garlic butter.

It's Fun to Bake Hot Breads at the Grill

Barbecue chefs looking for new ideas to try on the charcoal grill need look no farther than the dairy case in grocery stores. Those handy refrigerated biscuits and their companion product—cinnamon rolls with icing—turn two of the cleverest tricks of the cook-out season.

Trick number one turns two packages of biscuits into a lovely, crusty loaf of French bread by the simple device of baking them all in a row. This step can be done early on barbecue day, or many days ahead, if you have a freezer. When the loaf appears at the grill, wrapped in foil, it gets a 10 minute reheating right over the glowing coals. Cheese, onion, or garlic flavorings can be added (see instructions below) but plain or fancy—it's just right with the steaks and salad.

Trick number two uses refrigerated cinnamon rolls to add that sweet "last bite" dessert fanciers have been missing at the barbecue. With a few quick touches, the rolls are shaped into little "logs"—then baked on the grill under a circus tent of foil. After four-seven minutes of grilling, Cinnamon Logs are ready for a quick dab of the icing that comes right with the rolls. Then serve, warm and spicy, to family and guests.

Quick French Bread.

Open two cans refrigerated biscuits; place them on edge on ungreased baking sheet, pressing together slightly and pinching ends into a long loaf.* If desired, brush with egg white.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 to 40 minutes until crust is a deep golden brown. Break loaf into sections, going almost to bottom crust. (Or cool completely and slice.) Spread with butter or margarine. Wrap in aluminum foil. Loaf may be baked ahead of time and frozen.

Reheat foil-wrapped loaf over glowing coals, turning occasionally, for about 10 minutes.

For Garlic or Onion Loaf: Substitute garlic or onion butter for butter.

For Cheese or Seed-Topped Loaf: Before baking, sprinkle loaf with Parmesan cheese or with sesame or other seed.

Grilled Cinnamon Logs: Fold a piece of heavy duty aluminum foil (about 2 feet long) in half so that dull sides are in. Grease lightly. Open one can quick cinnamon rolls with icing. Cut each roll in half. Fold each half together so that topping is inside, sealing edges.

Twist slightly, roll in chopped nuts and place on foil sheet. Place sheet on grill about eight inches above glowing coals.

Tear off another sheet of aluminum foil (about two feet long) and mold and crimp into circus-tent shape with shiny side of foil in. Place over rolls on grill so that edges of "tent" extend about two inches beyond foil sheet.

Bake four to seven minutes, turning frequently. Spread each stick with icing.

New Patio Potato Salad

In this version a rich cooked dressing made with powdered cream is combined with other ingredients while the potatoes are still warm so that they will absorb the other seasonings. Then the salad is chilled in the refrigerator to give the flavors time to mellow and blend.

Patio Potato Salad.

One cup sliced celery.
Three hard-cooked eggs, sliced.
One-half teaspon celery seed.
One and one-half to two teaspoons salt.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
Two tablespoons snipped parsley.
One-fourth cup chopped green pepper.
One and one-fourth cup potato salad dressing.

While potatoes are still warm, combine with all remaining ingredients; refrigerate. Garnish with tomato wedges or radish roses: Yield: Six servings.

Potato Salad Dressing:

One-half cup sugar.
Dash cayenne pepper.
Two eggs, beaten.
One-third cup vinegar.

Beef Cubes For Grinding

When buying beef for grinding, ask your meat retailer to grind boneless beef cubes, the meat used in preparing stews.

Extensive experimentation has found that ground beef containing 25 per ent fat produces the finest hamburgers and loaves.

Menu Based On Values

By CATHERINE BRENT
Home Economist, St. Louis Food Marketing Program

The following menu is an example of the way in which "best buys" may be used in our daily meals, thus taking advantage of the opportunity to save money by means of careful marketing.

MENU OF THE WEEK
Cup of Vicyssoise

Sandwich Filling.
Fully Cooked Ham, Swiss Cheese.

Frosted Thompson Seedless Grape Clusters.

Batter Breads.
Rye, Whole Wheat and Anadama Bread*.

Milk.
Fresh Peach Cobbler and Ice Cream.

Anadama Batter Bread.

One-half cup yellow corn meal.
Three tablespoons shortening.
One-fourth cup molasses.
Two teaspoons salt.
One-fourth cup warm water (not too hot—110 to 115 degrees).
One package active dry yeast.
One egg.
Two and three-fourths cups sifted enriched flour.

Stir together in large mixer bowl, boiling water, corn meal, shortening, molasses, and salt. Cool to lukewarm.

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add yeast, egg, and half the flour to lukewarm mixture. Beat two minutes, medium speed on mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl frequently.

Add rest of flour and mix with spoon until flour is thoroughly blended into dough. Spread batter evenly in greased loaf pan, 8½x4½x2¾-inch pan or 1-inch from top of 9x5x3 inch pan; about 1½ hours. If kitchen is cool, place dough on a rack over a bowl of hot water and cover completely (bowl and dough) with a towel. Sprinkle top with a little corn meal and salt.

Heat oven to 375 degrees (quick moderate). Bake 50 to 55 minutes. To test loaf, tap the top crust; it should sound hollow. Crust will be dark brown.

Immediately remove bread from pan. Place on cooling rack or across edge of bread pans. Brush top with soft shortening. Do not place in direct draft. Cool before cutting.

CZECH FLIES STOLEN PLANE TO AUSTRIA, SEEKS ASYLUM

VIENNA, Aug. 3 (UPI) — A Czech refugee flying a stolen crop-dusting plane landed 20 miles north of Vienna today it was announced here.

Police said Emil Shwetz slipped into the plane at Senica airport in Communist Czechoslovakia last night and took off just after sunrise. He crossed the border at Hohenau and landed near Mistelbach as soon as he was sure he was over Austrian territory.

He asked for asylum as a political refugee. Austrian authorities are studying his case.

SCIENCE DISCOVERS WAY TO "WIPE OUT" ATHLETE'S FOOT

New saturated pads wipe athlete's foot fungi out of cracks between toes with prescription type, quick drying lotion. Regular use effectively checks re-infection

New York (N. Y.) (Medical Special). Now you can actually wipe out the fungi that cause itching peeling athlete's foot with a new kind of throw-away pads. The pads are saturated with a prescription type lotion that kills Athlete's Foot fungi on contact.

The active ingredients in the lotion are a combination of those prescribed by doctors, but until now not available in one formula. No messy creams, hit or miss powders and burning liquids. Just one wipe between cracked peeling toes and the cause of itching, peeling, and discomfort is literally wiped out. Then you throw the pad away. Painful stubborn cases begin to heal instantly.

Your feet feel cool, comfortable clean. When used regularly after healing, re-infection is effectively blocked. This new way to wipe out Athlete's Foot and keep it away is called Athlex. New Athlex foot pads are now available at all drug counters without prescription.

NOMINATION OF TEXAS JUDGE WITHDRAWN BY EISENHOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower today withdrew the nomination of John Tucker of Beaumont, Tex., to be a federal district judge for the eastern district of Texas and implied criticism of the Senate Judiciary Committee for not acting on it.

Mr. Eisenhower said he withdrew the nomination at Tucker's request.

Tucker wrote the President that he felt greatly honored when he was nominated early in February and planned to accept the judgeship despite considerable financial sacrifice. But, Tucker continued, so much time has passed without any indication of action on the nomination that he has been embarrassed. He said he now has committed himself to continue in private practice.

The President said in reply to Tucker that he realized the period of uncertainty has been difficult for Tucker, his clients and his professional associates.

NURSING INSTITUTE BEING HELD AT DE PAUL HOSPITAL

An institute for supervisors in nursing divisions of hospitals operated by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul opened today at De Paul Hospital. The program, sponsored by the Daughters of Charity motherhouse at Normandy, will run through Sept. 5.

The objective of the institute is improvement of bedside nursing care through sound management. The program will consist of daily talks and workshops. Helen J. Weber, assistant professor of nursing education at Indiana University, spoke on "Concepts Basic to Administration" at today's opening session.

A total of 115 sisters from 25 hospitals in the order's western province are attending the institute. The western province, with headquarters in St. Louis, includes 19 cities in nine states extending from Indiana to California.

2 CUBAN PLANES WRECKED IN MIAMI BY CRUDE BOMBS

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 3 (AP)—Two Cuban Air Force training planes were wrecked by homemade nitroglycerine bombs at Miami's international airport yesterday.

Capt. Randolfo Cossio, a Cuban Air Force captain, said he got an anonymous telephone call in Spanish two months ago warning that the planes would be bombed. Police said the crude explosives were found in four Cuban planes but only two exploded.

The planes, which formerly belonged to the government of ousted Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, were brought here for repairs after Fidel Castro's rebels took over.

CRASH NEAR PACIFIC FATAL TO SOLDIER

Staff Sgt. Marvin W. Faircloth, a soldier stationed at the Catawissa (Mo.) Nike-Hercules missile base, was killed Saturday night. His automobile struck a bridge railing on County Route O near Pacific, Mo.

The State Highway Patrol said Sgt. Faircloth, 27 years old, was driving north at a high rate of speed when he apparently lost control of the car on a curve.

A section of the railing pierced the windshield and struck Sgt. Faircloth, the patrol said. He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Francis Hospital in Washington, Mo.

Three other soldiers who were riding in the car suffered minor injuries. They were: Joseph Strum, 20 years old; Donald Hunt, 17, and David M. Smith, 17. They were treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

Sgt. Faircloth lived in Massachusetts.

Six persons were injured, one critically, in a four-car accident last night in front of the Airway Drive-in theater, 10634 St. Charles road, St. Ann.

William Muckerman, 3217 Krem avenue, St. Ann, and Jack Brown, 10507 St. Xavier lane, St. Ann, both suffered brain concussions when their small sports car was struck from behind.

They were taken to St. Louis County Hospital, where Muckerman is reported in critical condition.

St. Ann police said Muckerman's eastbound car was one of several which were stopped in the curb lane, waiting for traffic which two policemen were directing out of the theater.

A second eastbound automobile, driven by Carl Nelson, 3566 St. Joachim lane, St. Ann, approached the stopped traffic in the inside lane, passed one stopped car and hit Muckerman's car, police said.

The force of the impact drove the small automobile into the rear of the one in front of it, which in turn struck the one in front of it.

Nelson and the occupants of the other cars involved, Donald Koehler, 4716 Kyle court, Berkeley, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Noble of St. Charles, were treated for minor injuries at County Hospital and released.

Nelson was booked suspected of careless driving.

RUSSIAN QUESTION: WHY ISN'T STALIN LISTED AS GOOD?

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

MOSCOW, Aug 3—According to an attendant at the book display at the American exhibit, the following scene has been repeated several times:

A Soviet visitor obtains copies of an encyclopeadia, turns to the letters H and S and opens the book to the biographies of Hitler and Stalin.

"What is this," they cry. "Hitler is listed as a dictator and Stalin is listed as a dictator."

The attendant said he had explained the description represented the views of the man who wrote the article.

"Buy why doesn't he call Hitler a bad dictator and Stalin a good dictator?" is the almost invariable response.

Peruvian Raft Found.

PARIS, Aug. 3 (AP) — The Navy Ministry today said the patrol ship Lotus had found the Peruvian raft Cantuta II which has been drifting in Polynesian waters. The two men aboard were reported in good health. The raft left Peru about two months ago headed for Papeete. It touched at the island of Napuka, in the Tuamotou archipelago, July 28. While two men went ashore to replenish supplies, a sudden wind carried off the raft with the other two men.

More Heat, Humidity

—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Warm and humid weather was forecast for the St. Louis area tonight and tomorrow, with the high temperature tomorrow in the upper 90s.

Rain fell today from central Illinois northwestward through eastern Iowa, eastern Minnesota and western Wisconsin, and is expected to spread across the Great Lakes region. Following the showers, temperatures are expected to rise through the Plains states, bringing summer heat into Missouri and southern Illinois during the week.

Cool Canadian air moved into the northeast yesterday and spread from Maine to New York and Pennsylvania and into West Virginia. Temperatures ranged from the upper 40s to the 60s, far below seasonal normals for most of the region.

Showers fell in scattered areas yesterday from the western Great Lakes region across the upper Mississippi valley into the Dakotas. Rain also fell in western Kansas and Nebraska and across the central Rockies into the southern Plateau. Light showers were reported in parts of Florida and near the Gulf coast.

Heavey rains hit the Missouri valley over the weekend, with up to 12 inches reported in east central Nebraska. Rainfall of 2 to 4 inches was reported in other parts of Nebraska, extreme western Iowa and southeast South Dakota.

Cooling degree days in the St. Louis area yesterday, 15; the month, 31; the season, 1133.

Hard Loser

Undaunted by disaster, Art Lasvar paddles furiously to avert defeat in hydroplane race at Seattle Saturday. He was only 20 yards from the finish line and leading comfortably when the outboard motor ran out of gas. Sprawling across the bow he attempted to stave off defeat with some prodigious windmilling. The crowd cheered mightily but he didn't win.

Twilight for Squatters Village

Riverfront view at foot of Madison street takes in cluster of rough buildings—the Hooverville of depression days—which is to be razed within the next few weeks. Occupied by squatters, buildings, some dating back to the 1930s, range from makeshift shanties to more elaborate quarters with late model automobiles at their doors. The city has agreed to pay $21,154 to the 43 families in the three-block settlement in an effort to avoid litigation and delay in clearing the land for improvements to the Municipal Dock.

Dubious About the Honor

Sally Hornung registers some small doubts about the occasion after being installed in position of honor in gladiolus display at Central Public Library. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hornung, 4938 Chapel Hill road, St. Louis county, and was enlisted Saturday to enliven the floral display arranged by growers who will be taking part next week in the gladiolus show at Missouri Botanical (Shaw's) Garden.

The program, a series of one-day outings for children from various city recreation centers, has been in operation for six weeks and will run through Aug. 28.

New TV Face for O.Henry's Red Chief

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.

ON THIS STEAMY AFTERNOON, class, as the reruns are winding their scratchy way into August, let us examine the problems of Phil Reisman Jr., a monastic-looking, harassed, self-confessed square who is adapting O. Henry's famous story "The Ransom of Red Chief" for a TV special on Aug. 16 (KSD-TV, 9 p.m.)

TEDDY ROONEY

Now before we go a foot further, class, let's have a little refresher course on "Ransom of Red Chief." It's the story of a couple of crooks who kidnap a small terror of a boy with the idea of holding him for ransom—only to discover that his father, one of the town's leading citizens, far from wanting the little monster back, is relieved to find him gone. Instead of collecting a fat ransom, the two hoods have to pay papa to take the little fiend off their hands.

Well, sir, Reisman's problem is to fit that unorthodox tale into our own guilt-ridden, psychiatry-haunted, parent-teacher-obsessed generation without offending anyone except O. Henry, who fortunately is dead, although this script could conceivably bring him back to life roaring with anger.

In the first place, Reisman has shifted the action from Summit, Ala., to Summit, N.H. Reason: The South is in such an upheaval that it is not at the moment suitable for comedy. Or to put it in Madison Avenuese, there's not a laughing climate down thar.

But that's just the beginning. In the second place, the whole idea of kidnaping in the TV script originates in the mind of the boy rather than that of his kidnapers. Since the Lindbergh kidnaping, says Reisman, kidnaping has been no laughing matter. Actually, kidnaping was no laughing matter before the Lindbergh kidnaping either. The real difference between O. Henry's day and ours is simply that they had a sense of humor and we have guilt complexes.

In the TV version, Ebenezer Dorset will be changed from father of the boy to uncle of the boy. To Reisman, it's inconceivable that any father would not want his child back—even a little horror like Red Chief. (Yeah, but that's what made it funny!) The two men— who will be played by Hans Conreid and William Bendix—are not kidnapers in the TV version; they are confidence men who are forced into taking the boy. (The boy, incidentally, will be played by Teddy Rooney who is the son of Martha Vickers and Mickey Rooney.)

The two confidence men are outfoxed by a shrewd New Englander and that is a laughing matter besides being thoroughly respectable, inoffensive to all races, creeds and colors, and heartily indorsed by the Mothers of America, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the FBI.

"The changes in 'The Ransom of Red Chief' don't damage it a bit," says Reisman defiantly. "If they did, I wouldn't have made them. In the story, you have to believe that a 10-year-old boy could overpower two adult men. If you read it, you might believe it, but visually it is more difficult to swallow.

"Besides, O. Henry's kid was an unlovable, nasty child. Now the audience should be antagonized by the kid but if they really disliked the boy it would be something like infanticide. You've got to make the child bearable.

"The main reason I have the kid ask to be kidnaped is this: We've been through two wars and the Lindbergh and Levine kidnaping. I have a professional aversion to this sort of thing. I was script editor of 'Man Against Crime.' There I found there were certain repulsive crimes like murder you could get away with. No one will murder anyone or rob a bank because he saw it on the air. But the more attractive crimes—kidnaping, sex crimes, narcotics—can plant a seed in someone's mind if shown on television. That's why I didn't have these men kidnap Red Chief.

"There's a kind of poetic justice the way I did it. If O. Henry were to appear before me tomorrow, I could defend myself. He might not agree with me but I could defend myself."

Youth Parade--10-Minute Workout

LET'S TAKE the guesswork out of exercise. Here's Paramount Studio Physical Director Orlando Perry's 10-minute pep-up that streamlines and redistributes weight. To rid yourself of a thick middle, imagine you have a scythe in hand and swing arms in a pendulum motion. Make it rhythmic (not rigorous) as actress Peggy Connelly illustrates in photo at left. Do 15 times. Perry also advises doing a sit-up where you lie on floor, sit up and touch your toes—keeping your knees bent throughout the exercise. This exercise flattens the tummy, so slim-tight skirts look tailored right.

PERRY suggests another innovation in morning workouts. To firm limbs, cross legs at ankles and bring knees toward the chest. Then, push away so legs form V-shape to body. Crossing the ankles forces you to exert more energy, hence it's more effective. Peggy, in picture at right, does exercise on ottoman, for a soft surface is essential in this "pound-pusher."

President's Dreams

By Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.

BEFORE President Eisenhower plunges into the steamy, unventilated, old, box-like press conference room, you get a glimpse of him in the corridor doorway.

He appears to hesitate a second. His tanned face wears an expression of tired resignation which seems to say: "Well here goes."

Now, standing informally at the desk, he faces 220 pairs of eyes—in a sense, the eyes of the world, for what the President says here will be read, watched and listened to presently around the globe.

For one-half hour, the President must be as alert as a man facing a hostile enemy, for some of those questions out there may be loaded. It's like a grab bag for him, sing'ing out reporters. Often he has no idea whether he is plucking a rose or a thorn.

The tension must be nerve-wearing for the chief executive.

For several years that I've attended these conferences, I've stared mutely at the President week after week from the second row, afraid to open my mouth.

Most reporters—even the old White House regulars—get edgy and nervous when addressing the President under these conditions. After all, with a single word the President could strike the man down before the world.

Finally, I got the nerve to stand up with a question. It was a personal one. Would the question be too presumptuous? Would the President ridicule me when I asked it? I'd probably faint if he did. To make sure I remembered my own name in addressing him, I wrote it down on a piece of paper.

What, the question went, would the President hope to do with his free time after he was released from the White House routine in 1961?

His reply, instead of sharp and curt, was amazingly lengthy and, said—wistfully, I thought—that someday he'd like to go roaming over the world, visiting distant places with Mamie.

Here was Mr. Eisenhower, the dreamer, talking. He'd like to go to Africa, he said, and to South America, and to the Far East—to the Indian Ocean area.

They would be leisurely trips, he indicated, since he and the first lady wouldn't be flying. This is in deference to Mrs. Eisenhower's apprehension of airplanes.

These post-White House plans of the President were being disclosed for the first time. It was a fresh story, and a corkin' good article for the column.

But now that I had gotten the inside facts, I realized what was wrong with the story. It wasn't exclusive.

High Heels Are Pat Nixon's Trademark

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.

PAT NIXON'S political trademark around the world might well be her high heels. Shortly before she left for the Soviet Union with her husband, a friend urged her once again to take along some "sensible walking shoes" for the cobblestones of Moscow.

"Oh, pshaw!" she responded as she had many times before. "I've worn high heels in a lot rougher places. I like them. They're fun."

So she does and so they are for Pat Nixon whose pencil-slim heels have clicked across the pavements of America, through mud puddles in Viet Nam, sunk in the snow of Alaska, and now in the Soviet Union.

Her fragile feminine appearance belies the energy and strength she showed the Russians.

Self-possessed, self-made, the right word at the right time, orderly, precise — these are terms that come easily in talking of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon. Yet she can banter with the heads of government, ambassadors, the man-in-the-street, or newsmen.

The Vice President is known to consult her and intimates believe her political judgment is as shrewd as his.

She was born Thelma Ryan, March 17, 1913, in Ely, Nev. Her father, William, was an itinerant gold miner. He nicknamed her Pat.

The family moved to California when she was a year old. She grew up there on her father's 10-acre truck farm. Her mother, Kate Halberstodt Ryan, died when she was 12 years old. Her father died five years later.

MRS. RICHARD M. NIXON shown on her arrival at Moscow airport.

After elementary and high school in Artestia, she worked for a year in a bank there and then came East with relatives. In 1931 she became an X-ray technician in New York. With her earnings, she went back to California and to the University of Southern California, working her way with a department store job on Saturdays and during vacations.

She was graduated from the university in 1937, the year the Vice President received his law degree at Duke University.

It was during this period she had her "movie career." She recalls that she played in crowd scenes at $7 a day and once had a walk-on part with one line at a salary of $25. The picture was "Becky Sharp." "My line was left on the cutting room floor," she says.

She taught commercial subjects at Whittier high school. She also directed school plays and coached the cheerleaders.

It was at a play rehearsal of a little theater in which she was interested that she met another "actor," Richard Nixon. She has recalled that he proposed that "very first night."

She has described her thoughts at that moment in the slang she still tosses around on occasion today: "I thought he was nuts or something."

It took Nixon a couple of years to convince her that he meant what he said. They were married in a Quaker ceremony at Mission Inn, Riverside, Calif., in June, 1940.

When Nixon entered the Navy, she followed him to his stations. In San Francisco, she held a government job while Nixon was in the South Pacific.

The Nixons—he was then a lieutenant commander—were in Baltimore in 1945 when California friends called upon him to run for the House of Representatives.

It is not hard for those who have watched Mrs. Nixon on campaigns and trips, including the stormy South American tour last year during which they were stoned and spat upon, to understand how she sat for six hours without a word while her husband and Nikita S. Khrushchev talked. She is a campaigner's wife and can handle the woman's side with a smile and small talk.

Mrs Nixon is 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighs 110 pounds

If she has changed any since being catapulted into the world limelight, it is in regard to her children. More and more, she keeps Patricia (called Tricia), age 13, and Jule, age 11, out of the public eye.

"They are entitled to a happy time," she says by way of explanation.

Blood Sugar Level

"Dear Dr. Molner:

"I HAVE BEEN TREATED for diabetes for five years. On last report my blood sugar was 106, weight 109 pounds, blood pressure and heart normal. I take 25 units of protamine zinc U 40 insulin each morning.

"My question is that in taking tests each night at 10 o'clock, and each morning before injecting the insulin, I fail to get a negative sugar test. My doctor keeps telling me to pay no attention to these tests, but I feel relieved of tenseness when I see a 'blue test' and this has been so seldom that I worry.

MRS. H. B."

The blood sugar level is indeed normal and quite satisfactory, especially when using protamine zinc insulin. There are occasional situations in which the kidneys allow sugar to appear in the urine (and hence show in the daily tests) when the blood sugar level is not excessive. This is called the kidney "threshold" for sugar. It is like a wall. If the "wall" is low, sugar spills over readily. If the wall is high, sugar does not spill over nearly as soon.

The average threshold is at a blood sugar of about 170. Below this, sugar may not appear; above, it does. There are diabetics—often older patients—with blood sugar close to 200 who do not show sugar in the test. I might add, too, that this threshold business is not necessarily a disease condition.

Anyway, careful control of the blood sugar level is more basic, and the blood sugar level is a more accurate measure of the patient's condition than is the urine test. Thus in Mrs. B.'s case, her doctor makes perfectly good sense in telling her not to worry about the daily tests, since he knows her blood sugar level to be low.

On the other hand, since in general the sugar and blood levels tend to parallel each other, I certainly don't want diabetes patients to take these remarks as a license to disregard their usual tests. Usually, except in such non-average cases, sugar in the urine means elevated sugar in the blood, too.

By the same token, some people who take liberties with their diets because they happen to have a negative, or "blue" test, should keep in mind that they may have a high "threshold."

In matters of health, you can't always give a single test and say it is "good" or "bad." You have to know the other factors involved. I'll continue this topic tomorrow.

Leg cramps and foot pains? Both can be stopped! To learn how, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Post-Dispatch, requesting his pamphlet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," and inclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5c in coin to cover handling.

Try and Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

ALGERNON SWINBURNE was leaving his London club one evening, and looked for his hat. All the poet could find were four top-hats belonging to other members of the club. In a rage, he threw the toppers on the floor, and was doing a war dance on them when a hall porter came running up to discover the cause of the commotion.

"Where's my hat" thundered Swinburne.

"Sir," replied the porter, "you had none. You told me the evening was so fine you decided to come without one."

"You are absolutely correct," agreed the poet, his anger vanishing. Then, looking at the ruined hats on the floor, he added, "I imagine the other gentlemen won't be using theirs, either."

The Bridge Deck

By Florence Osborn

You are declarer of today's three no-trump hand and West opens the seven of hearts. Study only the North-South cards and the bidding, then plan your play.

South makes game by playing dummy's heart queen on the opening lead to keep East from running the suit. If South instead plays the eight, East will put up the 10, which South will let hold the trick. East will return a low heart to dummy's queen and now when West gets in with the ace of spades he will lead his last heart, giving the defense four hearts and one spade trick for down one.

By playing dummy's heart queen on the opening lead, South makes game. If East ducks the queen, South has a second heart stopper in the king. If East takes the queen with the ace, South will hold up his king until the third round so that West, when he gets in with the spade ace, will have no heart to return.

Why does STAUFFER get results when most other reducing methods fail?

Never before have women been offered so many ways to shed weight. They range from reducing candies to vibrating pillows, from crash diets to electric "shock" machines.

Do all these things really work? If you've tried different times to reduce . . . if the results haven't lived up to your hopes . . . you know some methods don't do the job, at least for you.

So how can you be sure of results? Which method holds the most certain promise of new figure beauty and the happiness that goes with it?

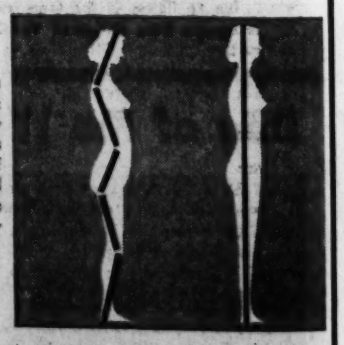

The sensible thing is to compare reducing methods before starting. When you do, you'll find that one stands out in getting results: Stauffer Home Reducing Plan.

Stauffer outsells all others and has an unmatched record of success. Stauffer doesn't promise to reduce you overnight (nothing can). But, as over five million women know, the Stauffer principle does do the job.

What is the Stauffer Home Reducing Plan?

Posture is a "must" to figure beauty yet most reducing methods ignore it! Stauffer helps restore the "line of beauty". (pictured right) for new poise and grace. Also, circulation is stimulated.

Highly trained counselors call at your home — analyzing your figure and tailoring a program to fit YOUR needs! Find out what Stauffer can do for YOU. Call or write . . . today

70-Second Chat With Billy Graham

WE MET in an NBC corridor. We chatted for a moment. We said the pleasant things. Then we shook hands; he a tall handsome man with a big grin and deep dimples; me a short man with a hard searching face and gray hair. Then he was gone. I wondered if Billy Graham dwells upon the thoughts that never reach the tongue.

BILLY GRAHAM

Our meeting could not have lasted more than 70 seconds. What I said in that time was that he was doing great work for God, and that I had been amazed to read that, in Australia, he had preached to one-third of the population. What he said was that he liked a book of mine and gave it to 25 friends for Christmas. That was all. The little pleasantries between people whose paths may not cross again.

In that 70 seconds, I thought a hundred thoughts about William Franklin Graham, age 40, of Montreat, N.C. He is a vigorous evangelist, an intelligent Christian who preaches love. Thousands of other ministers preach it too, but this man does it with a joy seldom seen.

Many Christians see many Christs. Some see Him as a God of stern justice, with vengeance in His right hand, and forked lightning in the left. Some see Him as the epitome of mercy, forgiving all transgressors who say: "I'm sorry." The Japanese sees Him with slant eyes; the Negro sees Him with dark skin; the Moslem sees Him as a prophet.

Millions wish they could see Him. It is to these that Billy Graham addresses himself. One of the things he could not have known before he started to preach was that first Billy Graham must sell himself before he can sell Christ. People will not listen unless they want to believe the auditor.

I have met a few preachers in my time. Most of them believed the things they said. A few had secretly lost faith and hid the failure of the soul behind gaudy trappings. They needed colored lights and music and lillies and girl singers in Grecian robes. These men had haunted eyes and mechanical smiles and a hearty pat on the back for everyone.

Graham started off by believing firmly and irrevocably. Then he studied for his Doctorate of Divinity. His first pulpit was at the First Church of Western Springs, Ill. He worked hard for his flock. From there he went to radio station WCFL in Chicago.

This was in the middle of the war, at almost the same time that he married Ruth McCue Bell. The rest is history. People like to listen to this man. They like to look at him. He is tall and clean and firm and, because he believes the things he says, this solemn fact is communicated to others. Some become convinced. Some do not.

He does not ask people to attend his church. He asks them to return to the one they deserted. This one item nullified the opposition of thousands of ministers who did not want Billy Graham to come to their territory, did not want him talking Christ to their fallen away communicants.

Now they ask him to come back. Billy Graham has won victories in many parts of the world. He has lost only in New York. Big crowds listened to him in the metropolis, but millions stayed away from the meetings, and the more the press agents shouted "hallelujah," the more jaded New York put Dr. Graham down as just one more public relations evangelist.

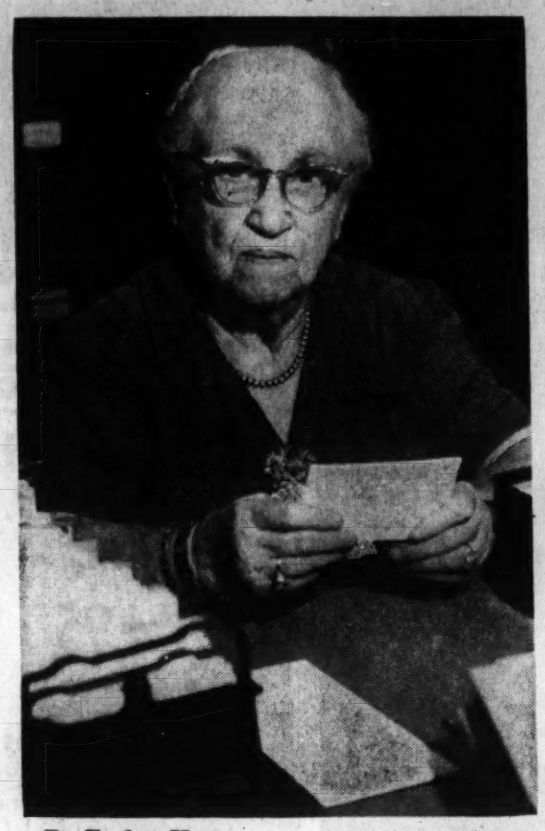

When the time is right, the bright young man with the talking hands will return to New York. This time he will take New York section by section, neighborhood by neighborhood. He will do well to study the problems of each neighborhood before he speaks. People are crying to be understood.

Nothing matches faith. Billy Graham has it.

Problem of Vanishing Income in Old Age

Social Security Benefits Not Whole Answer to Maintaining Adequate Living in Later Years

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

Although retired for many years, MRS. RACHEL ELGAS, in photograph at left, is a St. Louisan in her early eighties who still puts in a seven-day week without pay. She devotes 40 hours a week to the Health and Welfare Council. On Saturdays and Sundays she is senior hostess at the U.S.O. Center. In picture at right, MARGUERITE BICK and JOSEPH B. SHANK of the Senior Citizens Center inspect a recently completed concrete area which will be used for suffleboard and dancing.

By Evelyn Hart

Second of a Series.

"ALL WORK and no play makes Jack a dull boy" is a valid warning through the middle years of life. But, after the age of 65, "no work and vanishing income makes Jack a frightened old person."

In the later years, when medical attention is essential, when special housing arrangements are desirable, when sound eating habits are vital, the major source of income is abruptly turned off. No wonder so many have been echoing the words of the King of Siam: "Is a puzzlement!"

It is indeed. And in federal, state and local conference rooms, countless commissions and committees have been pondering this illogical situation in recent years . . and the "puzzlement" is beginning to clear up.

In 1958, the Social Security act was amended. Today, nine out of 10 Americans (nearly 95 per cent of the working population) look forward to receiving social security benefits in retirement, with maximum monthly payments of $127 for single persons and $190.50 for retired couples.

A beneficiary now is allowed to earn as much as $1200 annually "on the side" without forfeiting any part of his benefits. Disabled workers may start drawing benefits at the age of 50 for themselves and their dependents.

Obviously, this is not the whole answer. There is still a substantial gap between social security benefits and the cost of maintaining a modest but adequate standard of living during the later years.

A large section of that gap will be filled ultimately for workers who currently are participants in employer-pension plans. These plans, financed jointly by employer and employe, have grown tremendously in the past 25 years. Today 12,000,000 workers are building future incomes for themselves in this manner.

Then, of course, there is the old-age public assistance program provided through the federal government. The number of recipients of public assistance has decreased markedly as more and more workers are being covered by social security.

You who are still employed and are participating in social security and a pension plan will fare far better financially in your retirement days than do many who are now retired. If you can afford a planned savings program and can make other sound investments that will pay off in later years, so much the better.

However, there is still another, equally important, retirement problem that you should begin now to think about, to prepare for — and perhaps, to do something about.

Does the concern where you are employed have an automatic retirement plan? Is there a ruling which demands that, when you reach the age of 65, you must pack up your pencils or whatever your tools and go home?

The majority of industrial plants and business firms do have such automatic rules although many have modified them.

There's something about this life of ours in a democracy that makes us resent being pushed out of our jobs at 65, regardless of whether our work is good, bad, or indifferent — regardless of whether we're tired and burned out or physically fit and still "rarin' to go."

Employers, too, are beginning to acknowledge that automatic retirement represents a tremendous loss to business of experience and skill.

A survey conducted several years ago by the Bureau of Employment revealed that, in the opinion of employers, older workers have great stability, waste less time, are more reliable, responsible, and loyal, are absent less frequently, and need less supervision.

A number of studies have revealed that aging people do not lose the ability to learn, only the ability to learn fast. They need more time and stronger incentive, but very often reduction of speed is compensated for by skill and experience. In some types of modern jobs, the record of older workers is superior to that of younger ones.

The New Jersey Old Age Study Commission, in a summary of its findings in 1957, reported that "new and timely research on techniques of vocational retraining, job counseling, and placement of older workers is demonstrating that increasing numbers can be returned to productive employment through community referral centers, utilizing both public and private personnel and employment facilities."

"We believe," the commission declared, "that both the individual and the economy will gain as retirement policies are made more flexible and as job reclassification, retraining, vocational counseling, and other personnel policies are adjusted to make it possible for older people to find useful employment as long as they are interested and able."

Every American who has not yet been judged "too old for employment or re-employment" has a large stake in our changing employment practices because, ultimately, he will be affected by them. It behooves all of us to help create an atmosphere in which we can function to our fullest physical and mental capacities.

St. Louis Pamphlet

An information pamphlet on St. Louis and St. Louis County, "Guide to Services for the Aging," is available for 25 cents per copy from the Health and Welfare Council, 417 North Tenth street. The address was given incorrectly in Sunday's Post-Dispatch as 417 North Seventh.

IF YOU are a man or woman of many interests, if you've made a practice of filling your leisure hours with fascinating hobbies, if you've always wished you had more time to develop your various avocations, what follows here may not be for you.

You will have few, if any, recreation problems though you live to 109.

But what of the woman who has focused her whole attention, energy, and effort on her children, who has never taken time to try her hand at any kind of craft or to explore the world of books or to test her skill in sports?

Her children grow up, leave home and begin managing their own lives, leaving her suddenly without a major interest. She finds that her daily existence no longer has meaning. She has so much time and so little to do.

Where will she spend all her energy, how will she express those things in her heart and mind that demand expression?

And the man whose entire life has been fashioned of business affairs and getting ahead and achieving success and prestige in his field, what is he to do when retirement snatches away the only pattern of life he knows?

You've seen this man many times, you've read about him in the papers. He is the executive who, just at the time when he finds it possible to slow down and enjoy the fruits of his labors, drops dead of a heart attack, or comes down with a serious malady that confines him to his bed, or has a mental collapse that sends him into an institution.

Competition in business and industry gives rise to tensions and frustrations that must be worked off, and what better way to work them off then by pursuing a creative activity that gives one a sense of achievement?

It need not be an elaborate hobby. It can be something as simple as refinishing old furniture or gardening or carving airplane models or making hooked rugs. It is a kind of gilt-edged insurance against the isolation, loneliness and boredom that can shrivel to dust the years at the end of life that should be full of enjoyment.

Let's assume that you have been foresighted enough to make financial provision for your old age, that you have developed many interests that you plan to follow through after retirement, that you have safeguarded your health.

Still there is a nagging fear at the back of your mind as day follows day, and year follows year. It's the fear of rejection by the younger members of your family, your younger friends, by the community. Your acceptance or rejection by family, friends and community will depend, in large measure, on two factors —and the greatest of these is you.

Each of us must face the fact that we will not be respected and beloved these days simply because we are old. This was the case perhaps in your great-grandparents' day, but not now.

It is no longer any great feat to attain old age. Nearly everybody's doing it.

If we want affection and respect and consideration from others as the shadows lengthen across our afternoon, we must earn it by first giving to others our affection and respect and consideration.

We will find our relationships happier all around if we can manage to show interest in the present and future, rather than dwell increasingly on the past—if we refrain from constant criticism even though we feel it is justified—if we learn to accept people and things as they are, without always wanting them to be as they were in what we think of as "the good old days."

The second major factor influencing acceptance or rejection of the elderly is education.

During the past decade, the attitudes of individuals, of groups, of communities toward the aging have undergone marked change. Although it still leaves much to be desired, the change, measured by accepted standards, has occurred with amazing rapidity.

Our whole concept of age is changing, and long-standing taboos are being discarded. The later years are no longer a period of vegetation, of resignation, of waiting. They can be a harvest—a time of relaxed enjoyment, of fulfillment.

The medical and scientific developments that have so remarkably extended our life span in the past half-century were tremendously exciting. But even more exciting is the challenge to make those added years rich and creative and happy.

Mental Illness

Dear Ann:

AFTER CHILDBIRTH I had a nervous breakdown. After four months in an institution I made a complete recovery. I'm not ashamed of having been in a mental institution. I don't try to hide it. But some of my friends have a peculiar attitude toward mental illness and one woman referred to me as "formerly insane." With so much being said and written on the subject you'd think people would realize it could happen to them. A word from you in the column would mean a lot. Please? D. M. F.

Dear D. M. F.: Mental illness can and does hit the young and the old, the rich and the poor, the brilliant and the dullards. It's an illness in the same sense that cancer and asthma are illnesses. We are all candidates—and sometimes the line is mighty thin. Often one who is severely disturbed is able to disguise his illness and the fact that he moves about in society is no proof he has all his buttons. Some citizens who are walking around are sicker than those in institutions.

Dear Ann:

MY HUSBAND AND I are having an argument over something which may seem trivial. Our daughters, 6 and 8, act starved the minute they step into Grandma's house. Even if they've just finished a big meal they're so hungry they can't stand it. My husband says this is bad manners. I say all kids are this way. Who's right. LOIS.

Dear Lois: This is fairly normal behavior for youngsters 6 and 8. Explain it's O.K. to ask for food in Grandma's house, but nowhere else. Curiosity is a characteristic of the young. Most kids just want to see what there is to eat in someone else's house.

ELVIS PRESSLEY, due to be discharged from the Army in March 1960, may get a "good behavior" release around Christmas time. . . . The high brass at Imperial Records expect a new singer named Billy Mitchell to make disc history. . . . Several publishers think Martha Raye's autobiography would make colorful reading, but the comedienne obviously doesn't agree. Her reaction to publishers' offers: "They must be kidding. I haven't even started to live yet."

Greer Garson's chums say the funniest thing has happened as a result of her quite serious throat ailment. When she regained her voice after suffering from a ruptured blood vessel, she lost a lot of her British accent and began to sound as American as the proverbial apple pie.

POLLY BERGEN isn't afraid of a pun. Her next album, sung in French, will be titled, "Polly Vous Francais?" . . . Mad magazine, the kookie komic publication, is about to put out an edition in Spanish, as an illustration of how far out things are going internationally. . . . Marguerite Piazza has told her agents she doesn't want to work quite so hard; she'd like her bookings cut in half so she can spend more time with her family.

Do Movie Fans Want Double Features?

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 3 (AP).

THE TIME HAS COME for the movie industry to do some thinking about the double feature.

Does the public still want it?

Can the film business still afford it?

The twin bill has been with us since the depression days, when theaters tried to cure lagging business by giving the public double its money's worth. The practice spread until it became almost universal in all but some first-run houses.

Double features have long been attacked by producers, especially Samuel Goldwyn, but they continued to be the mode of film presentation. Why? Because theater men thought movie goers liked it that way.

But times have changed. As a straw in the wind, Variety tells of two single-feature houses in Long Island, N.Y., that generally outdraw the double-feature theaters in the area.

It makes sense. Isn't it better to see an engrossing two-hour show, have some refreshment afterward and get home at a decent hour? Or would you rather paralyze your posterior through four and five hours of movie watching and return to pay the sitter a whopping bill?

If you, the movie-goer, can be convinced that the double feature is no bargain, the theater men will come around. For they are faced with three conditions that make the single bill more urgent:

1. Movies are longer than ever. The 80-minute feature is almost obsolete. A two-hour minimum is standard for an important film these days. Three-hour epics are not uncommon. There's nothing wrong with long pictures—if they can sustain your interest. But two longies in a row are hard to take for even the most rabid of fans.

2. Movies are fewer than ever. Hollywood is making less than half the number of features that it used to. Theater men are screaming for more product to show. So why don't they make better use of what they get? In their desperation to make up double bills, many exhibitors have taken to combining a new picture with an oldie. Except for rare films that deserve reviving, this doesn't seem wise. People can get enough old movies on TV.

3. Movies are costlier than ever. The industry can claim that theater admissions haven't risen as much as other consumer prices. But people still resent paying premium fees for what was once inexpensive entertainment. Single features could help cut costs and bring ticket prices down.

Personally, I haven't seen double features in 10 years. And I haven't missed them a bit.

Miss Bland Engaged To Peter G. Platt

By Margaret Allen Ruhl

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR STANLEY BLAND, JR., 8 Radnor road, Huntleigh Village, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gertrude Grove Bland, to Peter G. Platt, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Kenneth Platt of Grosse Pointe, Mich.

Arrangements are incomplete for the wedding, which will take place Tuesday, Sept. 1, at 5:30 p.m. at the Church of St. Michael and St. George.

Miss Bland, a special maid of honor at last October's Veiled Prophet ball, is the namesake of her mother, formerly Miss Gertrude Grove. A Mary Institute graduate, the bride-elect attended Connecticut College, New London, for two years. In the last Christmas holidays she and Miss Ann Lortz made their debuts together at a ball at Old Warson Country Club.

Called Gee Gee, Miss Bland is the sister of Miss Cynthia Bland, a debutante of the new season; Marian and Arthur Stanley Bland, Jr. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. Arthur S. Bland and the late Mr. Bland and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Grove Jr.

Mr. Platt met his fiancee at Yale University where he was graduated in June. In the fall he will matriculate at Yale Law School. His fraternity is Chi Psi. He is a grandson of Mrs. Howard James Godfrey of Kalamazoo, Mich., and the late Mr. Godfrey and of Frank D. Platt of White Plains, N. Y., and the late Mrs. Platt.

Debutante Parties for Miss Marre.

MISS MARGOT MARRE, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anthony Marre, who with her family recently returned from a round the world trip, will have several parties given in her honor between now and fall.

On Aug. 20 her aunt, Mrs. William Marre, of Huntleigh Manor, will have a luncheon and swimming party at Glen Echo Country Club.

A few days later, on Aug. 29, Raymond Wilkerson of the Congress Hotel will have a small dinner dance at the Chase Hotel.

Another aunt, Mrs. John Young Brown III, will be hostess at a luncheon at the St. Louis Country Club Sept. 16. A date is still to be set for still another luncheon, this one to be given by Miss Marre's grandmother, Mrs. Rudolph Meyer, who has been living in the Embassy Apartments since selling her home on Lindell boulevard.

On Sept. 10 Miss Marre will make her debut at a reception from 6 to 9 o'clock in the evening at the home of her parents, 65 Colonial Hills drive, off Spoede road, Creve Coeur.

Hackett-Liston Wedding Aug. 10.

MRS. GENEVIEVE BECHERER LISTON, 1059 North Eighteenth street, East St. Louis, and Thomas D. Hackett, manager of the St. Louis Country Club, will be married Monday evening, Aug. 10, at his home, 30 Stoneyside lane, Olivette. The ceremony is to be performed at 6 o'clock by the Rev. Paul Boeckler, pastor of the Village Church in Ladue, in the presence of a small group of close friends.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Becherer, who live next door to her at 1051 North Eighteenth street, will be attended by Mrs. Charlotte Moore. Mr. Hackett will have Philip E. Moriarity of New Haven, Conn., head swimming and diving coach at Yale University, as best man.

After a buffet dinner Mr. Hackett and his bride will depart by motor for Florida and then east to be joined by his young daughter, Lesley Gale Hackett, whom they will bring to St. Louis.

Mrs. Liston, a University of Kansas graduate, is a dental hygienist. Mr. Hackett, originally from Newport, R.I., came to St. Louis 10 years ago.

Miss Rayburn to Be Aug. 15 Bride.

MISS JUDITH CLAIRE RAYBURN has selected Aug. 15 as the date of her wedding. Her engagement to Jerry Dean Walker was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James George Rayburn, at an open house April 18, at their home 32 Oak Terrace, Webster Groves. The prospective bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Walker of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

The wedding will be at 8 o'clock at Webster Groves Presbyterian Church with the Rev. William Watkins officiating. Later Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn will give a garden reception at their home.

Miss Carole Cheek, Bloomington, Ill., a former resident of Webster Groves, will be maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Marjorie Johnson of Rockford, Ill., a Kappa Alpha Theta sorority sister of the bride-elect at the University of Iowa, from which they both were graduated in June, Miss Susan Meffort, and Miss Pamela Stenberg, Des Moines, Ia., another classmate.

Mr. Walker has asked John Ballard of West Hartford, Conn., to be best man. Ushers will be Phillip Laenson, Gary Walker, the bridegroom's cousin; Hugh Rayburn, the bride's brother, and Ronald Yeisly, Cedar Rapids. Mr. Ballard, Mr. Laenson and Mr. Yeisly are Phi Delta Theta fraternity brothers of the bridegroom-elect at the University of Iowa, where he is enrolled in the School of Dentistry.

Many parties have been given honoring the couple including several in Iowa. Miss Johnson and Mrs. George Shadle gave a shower and luncheon in Iowa City, and Mrs. Lloyd McArthur and Mrs. William Walker were hostesses at a similar party in Cedar Rapids. Mrs. Robert Goznell and Mrs. Harold Wilcke gave a breakfast and shower at the Goznell home, 311 Maple avenue, Webster Groves.

Mrs. Wallace Gilbert and her daughter Mrs. Robert Edmunds, gave a luncheon and shower at Mrs. Gilbert's home, 459 West Swon avenue, Webster Groves. Mrs. William Fritz and Mrs. Richard Swanson had a similar party. Mrs. Harry E. Heinemann was hostess at a linen shower and luncheon at her home, 950 South Berry road, Webster Groves. A luncheon and swimming party at St. Albans was given by Mrs. Sidney Williams and Mrs. Craig Smith last Wednesday.

Mr. Walker will arrive in St. Louis Aug. 12. That evening Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Mound will give a patio supper at their home, 518 Sunnyside avenue, Webster Groves. Miss Meffort will have an evening party the next night at the home of her mother, Mrs. William Davison, 9418 Parkside drive, Brentwood. The prospective bridegroom's parents will be host and hostess at the rehearsal dinner at Sunset Country Club the night before the wedding. Mrs. Stuart E. White will entertain the bridesmaids at a luncheon at her home, 679 South McNight road, Ladue, the day of the wedding.

Martha Carr's OPINION

A High-Handed Relative

Dear Martha:

WHAT DO YOU THINK of a relative who won't let her husband receive any letters she does not want him to have? She reads all his mail and if she doesn't like something she just throws it away. This way he thinks we don't care enough about him to write. How can we fix it so he will get his own mail without leaving her out altogether? That would cause more trouble for him.

CONSTANT READER.

I think your relative is married to a spineless wonder. If you tell him you write, and he never sees the letters, then he must realize his wife is intercepting them. And if he doesn't do something about that himself, I'm afraid no one else can.

Dear Martha:

I UNDERWENT an operation in May and the doctors say I might be able to return to work in September. I have no husband and the woman who was staying with me is moving. I don't know what I will do. I am scared. Is there some kind of work I could do at home? I would rather be active but when I try to do any housework it makes me ill. The welfare said they could not do much. Please help me.

B.D.

If you are receiving help from City or County Welfare, I know your caseworker will want to do whatever is possible, within regulations, to tide you over a rough time. Unfortunately, opportunities for work to be done at home seem somewhat limited. Talk with the caseworker or with one of the several family agencies in the community.

Would you like a leaflet of prayers for children and children's table graces for each member of the family or for each pupil in your Campfire or Brownie group or Sunday School department? Write to Martha Carr today, stating the number of copies you wish. Be sure to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Let George help you with your problems and you will learn they are nowhere near as surmountable as they seem. Send your worries to George, in care of the Post-Dispatch.

By John Keasler

DEAR GEORGE: How can I make my husband quit reading at the breakfast table? Maybe this doesn't sound like much of a problem to you, but believe me after 11 years the habit grates on my nerves. Honestly! He doesn't even want to talk and I have to decipher his grunts.—PHOOEY!

Dear Phooey: Marriage experts say the wife should make herself as interesting as possible each morning, and as usual the experts are full of hot air. Husbands are so conditioned, particularly after 11 years, that it's hard to break through their reverie. A Mrs. M. of Ennui, N.D., proved this by wearing a bikini to breakfast for 10 consecutive mornings. The husband didn't notice. On the eleventh morning, Mrs. M. placed their dog in her chair. Mr. M. merely complained about the coffee to the dog, a rather moody black Irish Setter, and upon departure kissed it on the snoot. The trick, then, is to find some way to break the accustomed routine. One workable method is to tie your husband's shoelaces together, then scream "Fire!" Or, when he holds his coffe cup from behind the paper, fill it with cold clabber. This is very interesting.

DEAR GEORGE: What accounts for the growing number of beards in America?—CURIOUS.

Dear Curious: Fewer American men are shaving.

DEAR GEORGE: What can be done with a teen-age boy who has suddenly decided he is so sophisticated and world weary that household chores are far beneath him?—POP.

Dear Pop: Youth guidance authorities point out that this is a common problem of adolescence and merely indicates the youth, who in growing up has myriad problems, is only passing through a phase. However, I personally think most of the advice on care and feeding of teen-agers is ghosted by a con-man 17 years old. Actually, it might help more to bring his myriad problems into focus with a swift boot in the pants. Explain to him you are passing through a phase.

Eleanor Roosevelt

Paying for Our Highways

HYDE PARK, Aug. 3.

THE WHOLE COUNTRY undoubtedly is interested in the new plan proposed by the House Ways and Means committee for financing road-building throughout the nation. The President had suggested that the gasoline tax be raised 1½ cents a gallon. This would have continued the pay-as-you-go policy on road-building that has been in force in the past. Under the new program, a billion-dollar bond issue would be authorized.

The immediate allocation of Federal highway funds to the states will be cut sharply and will continue to be cut for several years.

The President, in advocating a rise in this particular tax, was, of course, not thinking of having to run for office himself. The Congress, which faces the voters in the next election, quite naturally is reluctant to impose something which they know will certainly not be popular with many voters.

The natural hope of a Congressman is that, in getting a bond issue, the public will not realize it is paying the same tax in the form of interest on the bond issue, and this must come out of general taxation. But in the end it will come out of consumer's pocketbooks.

Most of us are both consumers and producers, but those who produce are more conscious than consumers of the ways in which they are taxed. The politician who studies his constituents carefully knows that a concealed tax is less apt to bring him unpopularity than a direct one.

I sometimes wonder whether anyone really stops to think about the strange situation we are in at the moment. Everyone tells us that this is a most prosperous period. Yet, this administration had a deficit of 12 billion dollars in the last fiscal year.

The steel strike may bring us all to some realization of our financial situation, and perhaps that is why the President is putting considerable pressure on trying to have it settled. But since we do very little serious thinking until we are in a real crisis, perhaps the steel strike will make us face up to the fact that this is a rather false prosperity.

Bastille Day Parade in Paris

By Adele Starbird

ADELE STARBIRD

PARIS, Aug. 3.

THE FRIENDS with whom I came over have all abandoned me—according to our original plan; they are touring in Ireland. And the two who joined us in Paris have gone on to Finland.

Before we separated Catherine Eames gave a farewell party at the Vert Galant, a famous restaurant bearing the nickname of Henri IV of France. He it was who originated the expression, "a chicken in every pot," his wish for his people, which we Americans have paraphrased as "two cars in every garage." So naturally we all ordered "chicken Henri IV," which turned out pretty fancy, with sauce and mushrooms and stuffed hearts of artichokes.

It seemed normal—"normal" is the catchword in France today—to have a reunion in Paris, for four of us had lived and worked together for many years at McMillan Hall on the Washington University campus. We were really saying farewell to that long association. It was not, however, a sad party, since each of us had something exciting to look forward to.

For me it was Bastille Day. I had especially wanted to be in Paris for the first "fete nationale," the French independence day, of the Fifth Republic, to see President de Gaulle review the troops. But when I saw the throngs massed on the Place de la Concorde the evening before the ceremony, prepared to spend the night there, I prudently decided to watch the parade on television.

It was deeply moving. There were the mechanized regiments that De Gaulle, then a colonel, had begged for during the 1930s. He has them now—miles of them. How much suffering France might have been spared if the generals had listened to him in time!

I couldn't help thinking of that other review of French troops in London, described so poignantly by Eric Sevareid as barely two blocks long, made up of men who had risked their lives to join De Gaulle. And now, not 20 years later, this power and might of the French forces saluting the man whose faith, tenacity and genius had brought them into being. The contrast between the review in London and this review in Paris was certainly one of the most dramatic in French history, which, however, has never lacked for drama.

Nor has it ever lacked color. In the military parade there were not only motor vehicles with warplanes flying in formation above them; there were the mounted dragoons, and foot soldiers from overseas, many of them with a sheep or a goat preceding the regiment as a mascot; there was the perfection of the cadets of the various military schools, and the toughness of the popular Foreign Legion; and finally there were the Spahis, one regiment on perfectly matched white horses and the other on glossy black Arabians. The television announcer said that it was the immemorial right of the Spahis to close the parade.

That night all over Paris the people danced in the streets. Three Algerians fired into the crowd and killed three other Algerians, a grim reminder of the bitter struggle that keeps so many of the French forces tied down beyond the Mediterranean.

The next morning an editorial in Le Monde, one of the most thoughtful French newspapers, pointed out that the mechanized units which had so impressed me were already obsolete, due to the drain of the war in Algeria.

That was the somber thread woven into the otherwise bright pattern of the Fifth Republic.

Resilvering Mirror

So far no one has come up with a solution to one of the most frequent home repair problems—resilvering a mirror. As things stand now the only way a mirror can be resilvered is to take it to a local plate glass concern where there is the ncessary large equipment to do this job. It can't be done by the homeowner.

Model of Whaling Ship

By Ramon Coffman

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. DURING MY TRAVELS, I have visited museums in many places, from Cairo to Singapore, from London to San Francisco, but this city is the first in which I have found a museum devoted to whales and whaleman. It is known as the Whaling Museum, and contains objects of many kinds.

Philip Purrington, the curator, took me on board a model of a whaling vessel. This is an exhibit of keen interest to the public. It bears the name of Lagoda, and measures 50 feet from figurehead to stern.

The original vessel with the name of Lagoda was twice as long. The model is built in half size—six inches to the foot—in all respects. This includes the booms and the tall masts.

New Bedford used to be a great center of whaling. Men, and youths as well, would go forth in whaling vessels.

A craft of fair size was likely to carry a crew of 30 to 40. Each would share in the profits of the voyage. From one to four years might pass before the return to port. Months might be spent in the Arctic Ocean, and other months in the Antarctic. The whales moved from north to south, or from south to north, and so did the men who hunted them.

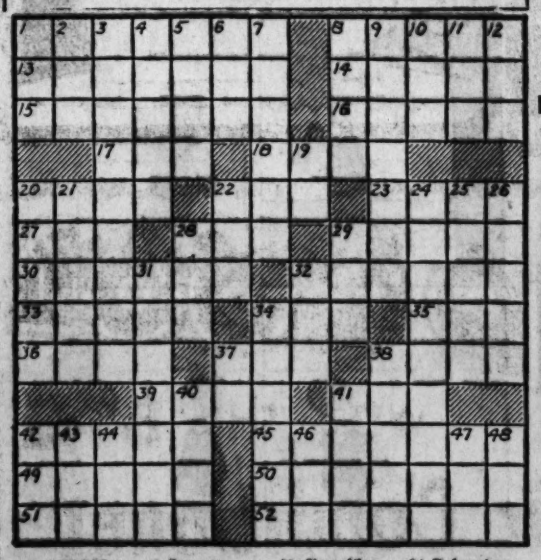

When a whale was sighted, a whaleboat was lowered. This was of the rowboat type, but often had a length of 30 or 40 feet. Half a dozen men would handle the oars, one man to an oar.

When the whaleboat came within easy range of the whale, a harpoon was cast. This was fastened to a long stout rope. Later came a struggle to capture the whale.

Today's TV Preview

All-Star Baseball. Apparently determined to find out what the traffic will bear, organized baseball has scheduled a second All-Star game (in Los Angeles) this season. If this is a howling success, look for more of the same next season. 5:45 p.m. KSD-TV.

Joseph Cotten—"Strange Witness." (Repeat). Thanks to the performances of Joan Crawford and Sidney Blackmer, this contrived tale of an older woman whose foolish love for a younger man brings murder and disaster in its wake, offers some sharp moments of suspense. 8:30 p.m. KMOX-TV.

Desilu Playhouse—"Trial at Devil's Canyon." (Repeat). Lee J. Cobb is the whole show. He plays a lovable Mexican sheriff in a Western about Indians and a stagecoach robbery. With Cobb's hugely sympathetic role and a pretty fair script, both Western and anti-Western fans will like this one. It has "heart." 9 p.m. KMOX-TV.

Jack Paar Show—Hugh Downs takes over for Jack just for this one, and brings an attractive cast along. Guido Panzini and Russian entertainer Kyra Petrovskya return for an ad lib session, plus ghost writer Gerold Frank, who's working with Zsa Zsa on her forthcoming opus. 11 p.m. KSD-TV.
